FCC Asks Dismissal of Suit.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—The federal communications commission today attempted to run out on the court fight pending on its wholesale seizure of telegrams for the Black inquisitorial committee of the senate.

The retreat started when the commission rescinded its order of last Sept. 26 providing for coöperation with the Black committee in obtaining access to thousands of private messages.

Then the commission went into the Supreme court of the District of Columbia with a motion to dismiss the bill of complaint in the suit brought by W. R. Hearst, publisher, against the Black committee and the FCC charging them with illegal activities.

Counsel Claims Progress.

Elisha Hanson, acting as Hearst's counsel, declared that the action marked another important step in the campaign to put an end "to this odious invasion of the public's rights under the first, the fourth and the fifth amendments to the constitution of the United States."

"In its motion filed with the court," asserted Hanson, "the commission virtually accuses the Black committee of being the guilty party in the whole transaction. Of course, every one knows this to be the fact. However, the commission pleads with the court to dismiss the bill on the ground that it will not commit any more offenses of a similar nature."

Last week Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat of the District Supreme court refused to enjoin the Black committee from using the telegrams to and from Hearst on the grounds that he did not have jurisdiction.

Plans to Make Appeal.

Hanson declared today that he would take an appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals shortly and maintained that the courts do have the power "to restrain any group of individuals, irrespective of the office they hold, from a deliberate and arrogant invasion of constitutional rights."

At the court hearing the commission had declared that it was no longer engaged upon the investigation, having terminated its activities on Jan. 3. On the basis of this statement Justice Wheat denied the motion for a preliminary injunction inasmuch as this would merely maintain the status of the fight until trial of the issue.

However, Justice Wheat qualified his denial by stating that it was without prejudice if any evidence were submitted to the court of the renewal by the FCC pending trial of the terrorist activities opposed by Hearst.

Reasserts Its Authority.

In its motion to dismiss the FCC again asserted its authority to inspect messages and to make disclosures under certain unnamed circumstances.

"It has no such authority," declared Hanson, "and every effort will be made to have the court enjoin it from every exercise thereof in the future, so that there may be no repetition of what has happened in the past few months."

The issue before the court, Hanson contended, goes squarely to the point of the commission's authority if it chooses to exercise its discretion to examine telegraphic messages and disclose their contents to any agency of the government.

Claims Authority Exceeded.

The act setting up the FCC granted the power to examine messages to see whether rates and schedules were being followed, Hanson maintained, and that the commission exceeded its authority in a conspiratorial fashion in order to obtain the telegrams, copy them and turn them over to the Black committee.

The arbitrary actions of the FCC and the Black committee are expected to be aired eventually before the United States Supreme court. Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], chief cracker down on foes of the New Deal, endeavored to obtain a $10,000 congressional appropriation for expensive legal talent in the tilt

TIDE FLOODS VENICE; DAMAGE HEAVY; CITY GROPES IN DARKNESS

VENICE, April 16.—(AP)—Venice, famous for its canals and gondolas, became an actual lake tonight as a strong south wind pushed the tide back to a height of more than two feet in the San Marco piazza and every street in the city.

The water began to flow over the streets in the afternoon, continuing until it caused the greatest inundation in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. Electric light plants were flooded and the city thrust into darkness. Office workers and shoppers saw the water beginning to seep over the embankments and fled into buildings for protection. Fire brigades and militia were called out to help residents to their homes. The flood caused heavy damage. There was no loss of life.

The flood waters had subsided considerably by midnight. A fireman saved an elderly couple from drowning in the Palazzo Zorzi. Several foreigners who had taken refuge on the San Silvestro wharf were rescued by a motor boat as the dock collapsed.

M'CARL DENIES FRENCH PHONES FOR MINOR AIDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—Controler General J. R. McCarl today banned French telephones for minor New Deal officials working within states. An order, which is expected to set a precedent, refused a hand set to E. A. Punchon, state WPA administrator for Florida.

McCarl's office was surprised to learn that the official has his office in a penthouse on the Florida National Bank building at Tallahassee. R. N. Elliott, acting controler general, said federal statutes would allow no payment for such installation irrespective of "its use for official business."

The order, it was said, has no bearing on hand sets in use in Washington where even clerks enjoy the convenience of French phones.

Pizzingrillis Go to Sleep in Bed; Wake Up on a Truck

Camden, N. Y., April 16.—[Special.]—A bed on which Romano Pizzingrilli, 38 years old, and his wife, Emma, 30, were sleeping in a second floor bedroom slid with them to the street early today when a skidding motor truck wrecked the front of their home.

The Pizzingrillis believed an earthquake had struck the place. Bricks and plaster fell on them, then the bed suddenly slid down the tilted floor. They next found themselves on top of the truck, which came to a halt partly inside a vacant store on the first floor.

Pinkham Kin in Row Over Tonic Concern

Lynn, Mass., April 16.—(AP)—Heirs of Lydia E. Pinkham, whose ministration to neighbor women led to a $3,000,000 patent medicine business, still are disputing its management, controled equally by three women and by three men.

Today this deadlock, so complicated the two factions cannot even agree on the size newspaper advertisments should be, rested with the state Supreme court for resolution.

Legal action apparently seemed the only remedy, for the masculine faction would not yield an inch or a share; nor would the feminine bloc, which shares equally in the profits, management and the six directorships.

Refuse to Attend Meetings.

Although the social amenities are preserved between the men and the women, the female element will not attend directors' meetings called by the male faction, nor will the gentlemen go to meetings announced by the women directors.

While this feud, of 36 years' standing, continues, however, the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine company, still capitalized as it was 60 years ago at only $11,200, goes on returning $70,000 net monthly to the disputants.

The dramatis personæ of the suit:

The women—Mrs. Lydia Pinkham Gove, daughter of the Quaker school teacher who founded the business, who lives in a French chateau in fashionable Marblehead; her daughters, Miss Lydia P. Gove, and Mrs. Caroline Doty, holders and voters jointly of 56 shares.

Banker Is President.

The men—Arthur W. Pinkham, 59 year old Lynn banker; his younger brothers, Daniel, 36, and Charles, 35, all grandsons of the original Lydia Pinkham, holders and voters jointly of the remaining 56 shares.

Spokesman for the Gove faction is Miss Lydia, 48, assistant treasurer of the company; and for the Pinkhams, Arthur W., president.

Things have come to such a pass, Miss Lydia said today, that last month she moved for a receivership in Maine, where the company is incorporated, to wind up its affairs, throw the business on the auction block, and then attempt to buy in the property by outbidding the Pinkham faction.

The Pinkhams went to court last week, obtained a temporary injunction restraining the Goves from pressing the receivership action, but the full bench of the Supreme court must pass on the action.

PLAN TEST FLIGHTS FOR GERMANY TO U. S. OCEAN AIR SERVICE

BERLIN, April 16.—(AP)—The German air ministry announced today trial flights for a trans-Atlantic air service between Germany and the United States will be started within a few months. The service will be routed by way of the Azores islands, Bermuda, and Charleston, S. C.

Preliminary plans call for planes making the North American flight to halt at a Catapult ship midway between the Azores and the Bermudas.

The air ministry said the date on which regular service will begin has not been set.

ASK CUSTODY OF MRS. M'CARTER IN MAYHEM CASE

Trenton, N. J., April 16.—(AP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam of California asked New Jersey's governor, Harold G. Hoffman, today to permit the extradition of Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt McCarter to that state to face two charges of "conspiracy to commit mayhem" on her daughter, Anne Cooper Hewitt.

Gov. Hoffman's office announced he probably would decide tomorrow what day to conduct a hearing on the request. The hearing, made necessary by Mrs. Hewitt's protest she is too ill to be transported across the country, probably will be delayed for at least a week because of California's request that its representatives be given opportunity to appear.

The daughter charged an illegal operation had been performed on her under the guise of an appendix removal. She charged her mother had the operation performed so she never could have children and her father's estate would fall into the mother's hands.

FINDS WALKING BIT DIFFICULT, AL SMITH SAYS

New York, April 16.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith, former governor and prominent member of the Liberty league, is finding walking a bit difficult, he admitted today.

Addressing a committee which is appealing for funds for Catholic charities, Smith brought a laugh from the 200 members when he said:

"First I think I should report on the condition of the nation. Since Tuesday walking hasn't been so good for me."

Dillinger Betrayer Fights Exile.

Unless something like a miracle occurs in the next ten days, Anna Sage will not collect the great reward she demanded and was promised for betraying John Dillinger to the federal agents who shot him to death on July 22, 1934.

To Mrs. Sage this is bitter tragedy. She has been schooled in hard experience and she does not weep easily. But mention of a deportation order, issued by the federal bureau of immigration, that she depart from her Chicago home on April 25 for her native Rumania [and there remain forever] invariably makes her tearful.

She believes that her services in eliminating Dillinger from the American scene entitle her to a revocation of the order.

Told It Would Be Easy.

"I was told that I could stay," she asserted yesterday. "The men who wanted Dillinger so bad told me it would be a small thing to stop my going away. When it was first suggested that I help in getting Dillinger I said I was not interested in rewards—all I wanted was permission to stay in this country. Shouldn't the government keep its promises, when I believed them?"

Mrs. Sage's sole prospect for voiding the order rests with the secretary of labor, Frances Perkins. The courts have held the deportation order, based on the fact that Mrs. Sage was several times convicted of operating a disorderly resort in Gary, is legal. The personal appeal which she intends to make to Secretary Perkins will be phrased substantially as follows:

"Why do not my services in ending Dillinger's reign of crime outweigh what happened in the past in Gary?"

The Woman in Orange and White.

Somebody else will phrase it for her, of course. For Mrs. Sage, although she speaks English fluently and with few glaring grammatical errors, neither reads nor writes it.

She is 44 years old, dark of complexion, with a broad face and almost black eyes. She dresses neatly and with some pretensions to taste. It was, she explained yesterday, wrong to call her "the woman in red of the Dillinger case."

"That night when they got Dillinger," she said, "I was wearing an orange skirt and a white blouse. The dress may have looked red under the light, but it was more yellow than red. I still have it."

Knew Dillinger Only 10 Days.

Mrs. Sage talked freely of her connection with the Dillinger killing and of her share in his betrayal.

"I never saw the man until ten days or so before they got him," she said. "It was an accident that I got in touch with him. I was living in Chicago at 2420 North Halsted street and Polly Hamilton, who used to work at my hotel—the Kostur hotel with 42 rooms—in Gary was staying at my house.

"She was broke and I used to give her clothes and let her stay sometimes in my apartment. She brought in Dillinger. He called himself Jimmy Lawrence and Polly said she had met him in a café called the Barrel of Fun. I did not know who he was until one day when he was reading a paper to Polly he showed her a picture and said: 'They've put me somewhere else today.'

Goes to Sergt. Zarkovich.

"I looked at the paper and saw it was Dillinger's picture. I told Polly to get Jimmy out of the house. She didn't know who he was, and didn't turn him out. I became scared and went to Zarkovich."

This was Sergt. Martin Zarkovich of the East Chicago police. Mrs. Sage had met him years before, while she was conducting her hotel, or resort, in Gary. She had kept the hotel business up to 1932 or 1933, although she had resided in Chicago since 1927. Pledging the policeman to secrecy, she told him she knew "where Dillinger could be got."

"Zarkovich said to do nothing until he saw me again," continued Mrs. Sage. "The next day he told me to come to East Chicago. He had called Melvin Purvis [then head of the department of justice agents in Chicago] and the three of us talked things

Broker Seized in Shortage; Girl Quizzed

Traced to a woman's apartment through a gas bill, Charles Gustave Koepke, 29 years old, a real estate investment broker with offices at 77 West Washington street, was arrested last night as a suspected embezzler. He admitted misusing his clients' funds, but declared the shortage would be "less than $50,000."

Lieut. William Drury of the state's attorney's police said he had received information that Koepke misused from $75,000 to $100,000 of his clients' funds. One of these clients, he said, was a mortgage holder from whom the broker withheld $20,000 received from the Home Owners' Loan corporation.

Disappears from His Home.

Koepke disappeared on April 6 from his home at 5650 North Richmond street, where he lived with his wife, Valerie, and one child. Mrs. Koepke is an expectant mother. Since her husband's disappearance she has been living with her mother at 4325 North Francisco avenue.

Acting on secret information, Lieut. Drury went to Koepke's office and searched his papers. He found a gas bill issued to Miss Patricia Starr, 3926 Pine Grove avenue, and last night he went to that apartment.

Koepke answered the doorbell, clad only in shirt and shorts, Lieut. Drury said, and when he was taken to the state's attorney's office he made a statement at once to Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty in which he told of the shortage.

Woman Taken Into Custody.

Miss Starr appeared at the apartment and was also taken to the prosecutor's office. She said she had met Koepke three years ago in a night club where she was an entertainer.

Three days ago, she related, the broker came to her apartment, declared he was without money, and asked permission to stay there. Police found a pistol in the flat, and when they asked Koepke if he had contemplated suicide he replied:

"Maybe I wish I had."

Tells of Speculation.

Taken to the detective bureau, the broker again talked freely to newspaper men, admitting that his accounts were short but insisting that he had lost the money in speculation and had spent none of gambling, liquor or women.

Sitting with his head in his hands, Koepke said he inherited the investment concern from his father, the late Charles A. Koepke. "I don't want a lawyer," he said, "I want to get it all over with."

Miss Starr was released after being questioned briefly.

Today police will examine the books of the company in an effort to learn the names of defrauded clients. Lieut. Drury said he learned that in addition to the $20,000 obtained by Koepke from the Home Owners' Loan corporation loan he had also received $30,000 from a Rockford man and $4,000 from a north side minister.

MOTOR COLUMN ROLLS TOWARD ADDIS ABABA

Italy Sets Peace Terms

(Picture on Back Page.)

ROME, April 16.—(AP)—Italy began a daring 175 mile thrust through the heart of Ethiopia toward the capital city of Addis Ababa itself today, Rome newspapers reported.

A "flying" motorized column of cheering Askaris, the native warriors who have been the spearpoint of Italy's drive over the formidable natural barriers of northern Ethiopia, started the march southward.

The reports said the troops, who occupied the strategic city of Dessye yesterday without a shot being fired, would be in Addis Ababa within three days.

Convoyed by Tanks, Planes.

Convoyed by tanks, with airplanes scouting overhead, hundreds of trucks took the road that leads to the capital city of Emperor Haile Selassie, the newspapers announced.

Major natural obstacles, which made the advance from Eritrea a slow and tortuous one, lie behind. The road to Addis Ababa from Dessye was said to be passable by trucks even in the rainy season.

Another column, it was disclosed, simultaneously may move to the southeast in an attempt to trap the important southern Ethiopian army at Harrar under the command of Ras Nasibu.

Italians hoped he might be squeezed between the northern troops and the southern army under Gen. Rodolfo Graziani.

Report Action Started.

It was persistently reported in well informed circles that Gen. Graziani had started action against Harrar. Although unconfirmed officially, the reports said the southern Fascist forces already are pressing Ras Nasibu's outworks on a line between Sasa Baneh and Daggah Bur.

Meanwhile, it was understood the 1st and 3d army corps of the northern front are pressing toward Dessye, where they will swing to the left to cut off Nasibu's rear.

At the same time other Italian columns will push, informed sources said, toward Addis Ababa from Dessye, Magdala, and Gondar.

See Peace Talks in Ethiopia.

Military circles insisted everything tended toward the removal of peace conversations from Geneva to Marshal Badoglio's field headquarters, where numerous Ethiopian chieftains were claiming to be already signifying their submissions.

Italian dispatches said Crown Prince Asfa Wosan, Haile Selassie's young son, weeping, left Dessye with 1,000 men just before the Italians arrived.

There were Italian rumors that he had decided to go over to the Italian side and would be chosen as a "puppet" ruler for Ethiopia.

Italian Plan of Government.

Drafts of Italian methods for governing "conquered Ethiopia" are already on paper and are being studied by the ministry of colonies, informed sources said tonight.

An outline of these drafts was said to be:

1. As soon as Addis Ababa is reached Italian dominion over Ethiopia will be formally established.

2. The Ethiopian dynasty under Emperor Haile Selassie will be dispossessed.

3. The Italian military command will organize the country by dividing the conquered territory according to racial characteristics, setting up various chieftains and members of the nobility as civil leaders in the different zones, proclaiming civil and religious liberty throughout Ethiopia, organizing a mercenary native army under

4. During the preliminary organizing stages the Italian policy will be to assure an Italian economic and commercial monopoly in Ethiopia, but when the country is organized the open door policy will be maintained.

5. During the entire course of organizing the new country, British and French rights, stipulated in the treaty of 1906 with Italy, will be recognized and will not be molested.

While Fascists held joyous celebrations here the authoritative writer, Virginio Gayda, warned in the newspaper Giornale d'Italia that a "devastating European war" would accompany any effort to destroy Italy.

"Italy is determined not to provoke any nation, but will repulse, even with weapons in hand, a provocation or menace from whatever direction, even from England," Gayda said.

Ethiopia Reports April 9 Victory.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, April 16.—(AP)—The Ethiopian government reported in an official communique today that 340 Italian soldiers were killed in a battle north of Neghelli on the southwestern front April 9. Ethiopian losses in the same engagement, the communique asserted, were seventeen killed and twenty-five wounded.

The government claimed the Italians were routed in the fight and six trucks of ammunition and twelve machine guns captured by Emperor Haile Selassie's warriors.

GIRL, MARRIED MAN TAKE POISON IN SUICIDE PACT

Richmond, Ky., April 16.—(AP)—Locked in embrace in an automobile in a secluded lane near here, the bodies of a young man and woman were found late today, the victims, Coroner William Jenkins said, of a suicide pact.

Police identified the two from notes in their clothing as George Hockensmith, 31, Stamping Ground, Ky., and Mary Jane Dean, 25, Lexington.

Sherif John McWilliams said two empty vials which had contained poison were found in the car.

Hockensmith, father of two children, had been separated from his wife.

A note signed by the girl said: "Dear mother, I am doing this because I know I'll be better satisfied."

WRIT RESTRAINS LAW PRACTICE BY LANDLORDS, INC.

Judge Harry B. Miller in Superior court yesterday issued an injunction restraining the National Landlords' association, Inc., 139 North Clark street, from practicing law or giving any kind of legal service. The action, brought by the committee on unauthorized practice, of the Chicago Bar association, charged that the landlords' association solicited legal business from clients and instituted legal proceedings in the various courts in violation of the state statute prohibiting the corporate practice of law.

Attorney Eugene M. Darch, who the court found managed the affairs of the association, was enjoined from aiding or assisting the association in legal work.

Wife Threatens Suicide, Flees Home; Found Dazed

A police search following a suicide threat ended last night when Mrs. Alice Coleman, 42 years old, 5148 Addison street, was found, apparently dazed, in a drug store at 62d street and Stony Island avenue. Earlier Mrs. Coleman's husband, Arnold, notified police that his wife had eluded a nurse and fled from their home in a taxicab.

DROPS MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE.

A charge of manslaughter against John T. Mahoney, owner of a tavern at 4630 North Damen avenue, was nol prossed yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan. A coroner's jury exonerated Mahoney in the death of Alfred Grabo, 6419 North Damen avenue, who died April 2 after Mahoney evicted him from his place.

ITALY DICTATES PEACE DEMAND; ETHIOPIA DEFIANT

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, April 16.—Premier Mussolini today slapped down before the league conciliation committee of 13 the conditions on which he is willing to talk peace with Ethiopia, and the British struggle to check Italian expansion in Africa through the league of nations was thereby converted into a rear guard action to salvage British prestige.

Il Duce's terms boiled down to direct negotiation between the victorious Italians and defeated Ethiopians outside league control. The general impression here is that they cannot be approved. The Ethiopians already have rejected them and it is expected that they will reject tomorrow the slight concessions over the original Italian propositions obtained later from Rome.

This development, it is believed, will force the committee of 13 to declare the attempt at conciliation has failed and either the league council or the committee of 18 [the sanctions committee] will be convoked to decide what to do next.

See No Chance for New Sanctions.

The British, sticking to their guns, will press for new sanctions, but no one here, not even the British, think there is any chance of new sanctions being voted. In this way the collapse of league efforts to uphold the covenant in Africa will become apparent to the world.

Anticipating this evil day — probably some time next week—the British already are preparing a smoke screen to cover their retreat. Failure to check the Italians will be laid on the league and particularly on the refusal of the French to coöperate.

Next it will be pointed out that if the league has failed in the primary objective of saving Ethiopia, it may yet deprive the aggressor of the fruits of his victory. The sanctions already in existence, the British now discover, are punishing Italy severely and may ruin her if continued.

Finally, comfort is derived from the fact that the rainy season will bring the military operations to an end almost any time now.

Plan to Shift Battle Scene.

Back of all this, it is learned, is the clear British realization that as far as the league is concerned, they have lost the war with Mussolini. With customary shrewdness, British diplomacy is preparing to abandon the unsuccessful campaign while saving its face as far as possible and shift the fight to more favorable ground.

This ground, sound observers believe, will necessarily be outside the league.

It may take the form of a war between Britain and Italy as soon as British rearmament has reached a sufficient level. This is particularly likely if the Italians press their advantage too hard.

There are other ways, however, which include financial and diplomatic action.

May Seek British Aid.

Italy's economic situation may eventually force Mussolini to seek aid from Britain in order to rebuild the Fascist financial structure. Likewise Italy may discover that she cannot regain her former diplomatic position in Europe without British support.

Far sighted diplomatic circles here are accordingly turning attention away from the Ethiopian war, which is regarded as all over except the shouting. They are wondering whether Italy, once her victory is complete, will take the initiative in negotiations to preserve British interests at Lake Tsana, headwaters of the Nile—in other words offer Britain a slice of the Ethiopian loot—or whether she will accentuate the menace to the British empire in Africa and the east Mediterranean.

It is too early to say, but the proposals communicated by Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Italy's delegate, to Salvador de Madariaga, chairman of the committee of 13, did not indicate that Il Duce is trying to make things easy for the British. The proposals contained the following points:

1. No armistice until peace negotiations are started.

2. Peace negotiations to be held not at Geneva, but up the lake at Ouchy, ostensibly to limit the "pernicious rule" of the international press, as the Italians put it.

3. Direct negotiations between the Ethiopian and Italian delegates, with the latter keeping J. A. C. Avenol, secretary of the league, and Madariaga informed.

4. The Ethiopian high command must negotiate directly with Field Marshal Pietro Badoglio for an armistice.

Real Peace Parley in Ethiopia.

The last demand is generally taken to mean that negotiations between the Italian and Ethiopian commands for an armistice would have such scope as to predetermine the eventual peace terms and that the civilian negotiations at Ouchy would merely ratify the conditions imposed on the field.

On the third point—league supervision—the Italians yielded slightly after Joseph Paul-Boncour, French delegate, had appealed to Aloisi and Aloisi had telephoned Rome. Instead of specifying that they will keep Avenol and Madariaga informed of progress of negotiations, the Italians now say they will "seek all possible means" for keeping the league informed, thus leaving the door open for league observers.

The committee of 13 seem to think there still is hope, for they plan to meet again tomorrow and they instructed Madariaga to get in touch once more with both sides.

CHILEAN CHAMPION OF LEAGUE REVERSES; URGES WITHDRAWAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 16.—El Mercurio, hitherto accepted as champion of South American adherence to the league of nations, in an editorial today advocated revision of the Chilean attitude because the league has not fulfilled expectations.

El Mercurio's changed opinion caused a sensation in diplomatic circles. A vigorous campaign to prepare the public in this and other Latin American countries for definite withdrawals from Geneva is foreshadowed.

El Mercurio charged that the league machinery is manipulated to benefit a few European powers and it is becoming increasingly dangerous for South America to continue association. The newspaper's first publisher, Agustin Edwards, Chilean ambassador to London, was the first president of the league.

Egypt Lifts Sanctions on Barred Italian Products

CAIRO, Egypt, April 16.—An Egyptian ministerial order today lifted sanctions from a number of Italian products formerly banned from Egypt. The products named included pharmaceutical specialties, surgical instruments, agricultural tools, and engine and automobile parts.

Italy Holds Two English Hikers for Crossing Border

NICE, France, April 16.—(AP)—Two English tourists were reported held at the Italian frontier post of Ventimiglia tonight after mistakenly crossing the border while hiking without passports. The names of the pair were given as Richard Johnston, 53, and Martin Trivett, 16.

BRITAIN SENDS 15 NEW WARSHIPS TO MEDITERRANEAN

Grand Fleet Total There at Record Peak.

LONDON, April 16.—(AP)—Confronted by a new barrage of anti-British editorial attacks in Rome and increasing uncertainties in Geneva, the British admiralty took additional precautions tonight in the Mediterranean.

The admiralty disclosed fifteen especially designed ships classified as mine sweeping trawlers, a new secret type for anti-submarine work, have reached Gibraltar from England in the last week.

This brought the total of the grand fleet in the Mediterranean to its peak since Italo-Ethiopian troubles became acute last August.

Conclude Staf Talks.

At the same time Anglo-French and Belgian military staf talks over Rhineland preparedness were suddenly concluded here. Diplomats expressed belief the developments reflected a more serious turn had been taken in the Italian situation. No announcement was made, and it was believed nothing substantial had been worked out.

They took comfort, however, in official declarations that Britain would not apply military sanctions against Rome and would take no single handed action which might turn the current crisis into war.

Naval observers estimated there are now 190 British warships in and near the Mediterranean, although the tonnage is probably slightly less than at the height of the crisis in 1935.

Several larger battleships have been pulled out and replaced by more numerous smaller craft able to cope with Italy's submarine "menace."

French Ask Fair Deal for Italy.

PARIS, April 16.—(AP)—France will demand that Italy be given additional time to "consider" fresh proposals for peace in East Africa after the Ethiopian refusal to accept the preliminary Fascist plan, official sources said tonight.

The French stand, the officials said, called for the same treatment toward Italy as Great Britain accorded Germany after Reichsfuehrer Hitler rejected the London Locarno suggestions.

They declared that inasmuch as England had then given Germany "plenty of time," the league of nations should give Italy the same treatment.

Any British efforts to call a "hasty" meeting of the league sanctions committee will be resisted by the French representatives at Geneva, these sources said.

TRUCK CONCERN PARTNER FOUND SHOT IN STREET

Michael Cartin, 28 years old, 3916 Monroe street, a partner in a small trucking concern, was found shot and seriously wounded early today in front of 8 South Pulaski road. Taken to the Garfield Park hospital, he refused to tell the Fillmore police why or by whom he was shot. Later he was removed to the Bridewell hospital.

Police questioned Cartin's partner, George Kasidogionis, 30 years old, 4437 West End avenue, who said their concern operates four trucks under contract with the Shippers' Dispatch, Inc., 56 East 51st street.

The wounded man was found on the sidewalk by Roland Dwyer, 16 years old, 3924 Gladys avenue, a newsboy, who notified the police. Physicians said Cartin has a chance to recover. The bullet passed through his left side below the heart.

Refloat Ship with Cargo of Chinese Art Off Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR, April 16.—(AP)—The S. S. Ranpura, aground on a sandbar since Tuesday night with a cargo of priceless Chinese art treasures, was refloated tonight. The vessel ran into difficulty outside Gibraltar harbor while en route to the orient to return objects of art lent for a three months' exhibition in London which closed recently. So valuable were the ancient items that the British government sent warships along to convoy the Ranpura.

Adoption of Ethiopian Babies Barred by Italy

ROME, April 16.—(AP)—Repeated requests from Italians to be permitted to adopt Ethiopian babies caused the ministry of colonies to publish an appeal to the public today to refrain from such petitions.

J. EDGAR HOOVER IS QUIZZED ABOUT WORK AS SLEUTH

Senate Hearing Questions Are Revealed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—J. Edgar Hoover, much publicized chief of the federal bureau of investigation, was somewhat debunked as the world's super-sleuth when he appeared before a senate subcommittee on appropriations seeking a lump sum of $6,025,000 for the activities of his agency. This was disclosed today with the publication of the hearings. The committee cut $225,000 off the bureau's request.

The senators not only established that the celebrated kidnaping cases which Mr. Hoover claimed to have solved were largely the work of local police, filling station attendants, and department store clerks, but also that Mr. Hoover had insisted that all publicity relating to gangster arrests be released at Washington.

The resignation of Melvin Purvis, chief of the Chicago division of the bureau of investigation, was generally ascribed to strained relations with Hoover, which followed the killing of John Dillinger. Mr. Hoover's star was temporarily eclipsed by the glory accruing to Mr. Purvis.

Questioned About Movies.

The senators even asked Mr. Hoover such embarrassing questions as whether the department of justice paid the movies for the making of "G-man" pictures and magazine contributors for the writing of "G-man" stories, all glorifying Mr. Hoover. After hearing him enumerate the famous cases he had solved, they elicited the information that he had never made an arrest.

"Do you take part, for instance, in the making of any moving pictures?" asked Senator Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.]. Hoover said he did not, but McKellar continued:

"They virtually advertised the bureau, because your picture was shown in connection with them frequently."

"That is correct," said Hoover.

Denies Spending Any Money.

"Not a cent has been spent in that sort of advertising," Hoover averred.

McKellar then took up the magazine stories extoling the heroics of the "G-men," but Mr. Hoover declared that only upon a "few occasions" had the attorney general permitted magazine writers to come in and study the methods of the bureau.

"We refer to it as bing-bang publicity," Hoover explained.

"Have you any writers in your department?" McKellar asked.

"Not in the bureau of investigation," Hoover replied. He did not explain that the department of justice has two high salaried press agents, who formerly were Washington newspaper correspondents, and that a well known magazine writer who wrote a "G-man" series was recently added to the staf—with the Hoover bureau as his particular assignment.

Asked About Coöperation.

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney [Dem., Wyo.] said members of congress frequently received intimations that the bureau did not coöperate with local enforcement agencies.

"It is natural to expect," Hoover replied, "that in work of our character, law enforcement, certain jealousies would be engendered."

Hoover then explained that the local field agents were not permitted to give out information concerning arrests except when expressly authorized by the attorney general.

The senators did not bring out the fact that the police of East Chicago, Ind., turned up Dillinger, but Senator McKellar insisted that the credit in the Bruno Richard Hauptmann case should go to the filling station attendant who turned in the ransom note and the taxicab license number; in the Weyerhauser kidnaping case to the department store girl who turned in the ransom bill; in the Urshel kidnaping case to the Memphis policeman who arrested "Machine Gun" Kelly, etc.

"Of course our men have to have information to solve these cases," Hoover said.

Refers to Stoll Case.

McKellar pointed out that in the Stoll kidnaping case at Louisville, Ky., a man named Robinson, the kidnaper, was still at large and charged that Hoover's men, instead of pursuing Robinson, had been pursuing "Mr. Robinson's father and Mr. Robinson's wife."

"How many arrests have you made and who were they?" McKellar asked.

"I handled the investigations of Emma Goldman," said Hoover. "I also handled the Alexander Berkman case and the case of Ludwig Martens, the former bolshevik ambassador to the United States."

Dillinger "Woman in Red" Awaiting Deportation over. That was on Thursday, three days before Dillinger was killed.

Quotes Offer by Purvis.

"I mentioned my deportation trouble before I said anything about Dillinger," she continued. "Purvis said: 'Your case is nothing compared to this. We'll take care of it.' I told him then about Dillinger."

Mrs. Sage knew the Dillinger habits and considered it likely he would take her and Polly Hamilton to a movie on Sunday. But what movie? Sometimes he went to the Biograph theater at 2433 Lincoln avenue, sometimes to one farther away, and usually he did not disclose his intentions until they had started.

"I told Mr. Purvis I would put on my hat if we were going any distance, and would be bareheaded if we went to the Biograph," Mrs. Sage went on. "As we were leaving the apartment that Sunday I asked Jimmy if he was going far—I said I wanted to put on my hat if we were. He said we'd go to the Biograph. One of Purvis' men saw I had no hat, and that let him know where we were going."

Doesn't Know Who Shot.

The rest of Dillinger's history has to do only with his stay in the theater and the few steps he took after he emerged. With the two women he walked only thirty or forty feet when the killer slipped up behind him, shoved the woman in the orange skirt, and fired a bullet into the desperate criminal's brain.

"Who fired that shot?" Mrs. Sage was asked.

"I don't know," she said. "I was shoved aside. Somebody stepped on my foot and the shooting started. I had no idea they would kill the man that way. I thought they were going to arrest him."

"Did Dillinger have a pistol?"

"Yes, it was stuck under his belt."

"Did he have a chance to use it?"

"No."

Women Ordered Away.

The identity of the man who killed Dillinger has not been disclosed. There were suspicions that Zarkovich did the job, but Purvis has maintained it was a federal agent.

Mrs. Sage asserted that she and Polly were halted by a man whom she believed to be a city detective, but that a department of justice man intervened and ordered that she and Polly be allowed to go from the scene. They went.

"The next day, Monday, I went to the agents' office downtown. I met Samuel P. Cowley [assistant to Purvis]. I was scared that maybe some Dillinger gangsters would try to kill me. Mr. Cowley told me not to worry. 'We are going to do all we can for you on that deportation matter,' he said. 'The government appreciates what you have done.' On the next day, Tuesday, I called Mr. Purvis on the telephone and he said he would make a trip to Washington and work on my case."

Promises Rejected by Courts.

Cowley was killed several months later in the battle at Barrington with George [Baby Face] Nelson, one of the last surviving Dillinger gang members. Purvis has since stated that he did tell Mrs. Sage he would recommend that she be allowed to remain in this country. The federal courts have held, however, that no promises of these agents could bind the immigration bureau, particularly in a matter involving the deportation of an alien for moral turpitude.

The bureau of investigation, department of justice, apparently made no effort to keep Purvis' pledge to aid Mrs. Sage in her fight to remain in America. Officially, it made a request for a stay of the order and, when the period of the stay was ended, notified immigration officials it was "no longer interested in the case."

In U. S. Since 1909.

"I came here in 1909, when I was 17 years old," she said. "I went back once for a visit of three months in Rumania in 1924. Always I thought I was a citizen until this trouble came up."

Altogether, in the years she lived in Gary, Mrs. Sage was arrested and convicted four times of operating a disorderly resort.

Under the shadow of the deportation proceedings, Mrs. Sage used such influence as she possessed and obtained from Gov. Harry Leslie of Indiana a pardon for the last two offenses.

"But we forget the other two old cases," she said. "They are the ones that are sending me back to the old country."

Her first husband, Michael Chiolak, came here with her from Rumania. They were divorced in 1922. In 1929 she and Alexander Sage were married. They separated, Mrs. Sage said, because the second husband did not get along with her son, Steve Chiolak. Steve, an intelligent young man of 25, who has served an enlistment in the navy, has been assisting his mother in her efforts to avoid exile.

When—or if—the order goes into effect, Mrs. Sage must leave the son here.

"And you," she was asked, "have you relatives in Rumania?"

"All dead or gone," she replied.

"What will you do there?"

"I don't know," was the answer. "I wish they had only let me stay. That was what I wanted—not the $5,000 reward I got for helping get rid of Dillinger."

AMERICAN GIRL GIVEN DIVORCE FROM CHINESE

Columbus, O., April 16.—(AP)—An east-west romance that bloomed in a Columbus ten cent store ended today when the Court of Domestic Relations granted Mrs. Viola Brown Lin an uncontested divorce from James Lin, foster son of China's president.

Judge Clayton W. Rose restored Mrs. Lin's maiden name and approved a property settlement which was not disclosed, but which court attachés said give the American girl between $3,000 and $4,000.

In brief testimony Mrs. Lin told of her elopement with Lin last July 14 when he was an Ohio State university student and she was a dime store clerk. She said Lin returned to China Sept. 9 and had no intention of living with her again.

PROPOSE BROOKS AND GLENN SOUND G. O. P. KEYNOTES

New Plan Suggested for Peoria Convention.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Republicans began to ponder yesterday the selection of a keynoter for the state convention at Peoria May 1. One idea which seemed to find favor was that Wayland Brooks, party nominee for governor, and Otis F. Glenn, nominee for United States senator, might be picked to enunciate the issues, as the two top figures who will lead the campaign for the state-wide ticket.

In the preliminary gossip one suggestion was that Mr. Brooks might be made temporary chairman and deliver a keynote address on the state issues, and Mr. Glenn might be permanent chairman and keynote on the national issues.

Borah Camp Voices Claim.

The convention will name eight delegates at large to the Republican national convention in Cleveland in June. The camp of Senator William E. Borah asserted yesterday that his big vote in the preferential primary downstate entitled him to have some friends among the delegates at large, although the statewide victory of Frank Knox of Chicago "advises" the delegates at large to support him.

One proposal is to have half the delegates at large from Chicago and half from downstate. Among some of the district delegates elected Tuesday a strong tendency is reported toward Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, as second choice, after the advisory effects of the preferential vote are deemed to have been fulfilled.

Demand Real Leaders Be Named.

Some downstate committeemen, in Chicago yesterday, were emphatic in declaring that outstanding Republicans, not mere politicians, should be among the delegates at large.

Downstate the Republicans polled a larger vote in the presidential primaries than did the Democrats on the basis of fuller but still incomplete figures.

Cheer for the G. O. P. was seen in the fact that in 3,019 downstate precincts out of 3,750 President Roosevelt, who had no opposition, had 426,866 votes. Borah and Knox, in 3,018 precincts, had a total of 437,954 votes.

Fuller returns from downstate counties still indicated that Borah leads in 13 districts with 26 national delegates out of the state's 25 congressional districts.

Borah Six Votes Ahead in Fourteenth

Completer returns from the Fourteeth [Rock Island] district, however, reduced Borah's lead in this district to six votes late last night. With one precinct missing, the count stood: Borah, 13,998; Knox, 13,992. So this district is a toss-up, which might mean a difference of two delegates.

With only 741 downstate precincts missing. Knox has a projected plurality of 70,000 in all Illinois. Borah's indicated plurality downstate stood at 40,000; Knox carried Cook county by 110,294.

From the Knox camp came a claim that forty-six of the state's forty-nine district delegates are favorable to Knox.

"Where district voters declared a preference for Borah," replied Edgar J. Cook, Borah manager, "the delegates from that district are under a moral obligation to act on that mandate. That was the purpose of the law."

Congress Races Decided.

Several places still in dispute were cleared up by later figures. In the Eleventh congressional district John R. Barber of Joliet defeated Carl P. Lies of Aurora for the Democratic nomination for congress. In the 18th district Hugh M. Luckey of Potomac defeated A. F. De Gafferelly of Danville for the Republican nomination. In the 19th W. H. Wheat of Rantoul is shown as Republican nominee against Hugh M. Rigney, Democrat. In the 20th, Harry C. Montgomery of Winchester won Republican nomination against Congressman Scott W. Lucas, Democrat of Havana.

Figures from the 21st give Frank W. Fries as Democratic nominee for congress. In the 22d Congressman Edwin M. Schaefer of Belleville, Democrat, was renominated. Figures from the 23d show Ben O. Sumner of Lawrenceville as Republican nominee for congress and L. F. Arnold of Newton as Democratic.

Justus L. Johnson of Aurora, former Republican state chairman, was reëlected to the state committee easily.

URGES A MANAGER FOR CITY AS WAY TO SLASH TAXES

The adoption of the city manager plan of government in Chicago would reduced municipal taxation 20 to 50 per cent and expand city services to the taxpayers at the same time, H. Barry McCormick, chairman of the Chicago city manager committee, declared last night. He spoke at a meeting of the Office Management association in the Medinah club.

"We do not believe that Chicago will adopt the city manager plan soon, but we do see victory for the plan in five or ten years," Mr. McCormick said. "If we can get the public to study the plan and discuss it, the public will soon want it. The city manager plan has reduced the cost of government in other cities, and it can do the same in Chicago."

Mr. McCormick explained that the city manager form of government is similar to the organization of a private corporation. The voters, like stockholders, choose directors to determine policy and select a competent executive, he said.

G.O.P. FINDS FOES' TICKET TOPHEAVY WITH CHICAGOANS

Cites Its Own Recognition of Downstaters.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Republicans studying the results of the primaries yesterday found a new cause for optimism concerning the outlook for the November election. They pointed out that the geographical analysis of the state ticket gives them an advantage over the Democrats.

The Democratic ticket, they said, is topheavy with Cook county men while the Republican ticket is the other way, a big majority of its candidates coming from outside Cook county. If the two places for congressman at large are included, the state ticket consists of nine places. On the Republican ticket three are from Cook county and six from downstate. On the Democratic ticket the proportion is almost reversed—five from Cook county and four from downstate.

Cite Horner Attack on "Bossism."

In any campaign, experts say, this contrast would be of importance, but they argued that in view of the extraordinary arousing of anti-Chicago feeling by Gov. Horner's attacks on "bossism" the sectional feeling of downstaters will play a tremendous part in the voting next fall.

It is considered one of the ironies of fate that Horner will now run on a ticket which includes four Cook county men in addition to himself. They are Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Secretary of States Hughes, State Auditor Barrett, and Attorney General Kerner.

When the importance of these offices and their political possibilities are considered, these five men have practically all the cream of the ticket. All that is left for downstate are the less desired posts. The downstaters nominated for them are John Stelle for lieutenant governor, John C. Martin for state treasurer, and the two men nominated for congressional seats filled by the state at large, E. V. Champion and Lewis M. Long.

Two Top Places to Cook County.

For years it has been considered bad political judgment to slate candidates for both governor and senator from Cook county. The Democrats have that situation on their hands today, and they have given no compensation for it in the distribution of other good places on the ticket.

In view of the sectional feeling that exists, the Republicans feel that they are fortunate in having Otis F. Glenn of Murphysboro running for the senate in a sort of double harness with Wayland Brooks of Chicago, the nominee for governor. But they attach even greater importance to the fact that their ticket throws the big bulk of the ballot downstate.

G. O. P. Offers Three from Cook.

The only Cook county men on the G. O. P. ticket are Brooks, Arthur J. Bidwill, for state auditor, and John T. Dempsey, nominated for one of the two places as congressman at large. Even the division of these two congressional places between Chicago and downstate is considered fortunate.

The downstaters on the Republican ticket in addition to Glenn are George Hatzenbuhler of Bloomington for lieutenant governor; William J. Stratton of Ingleside for secretary of state, Clarence F. Buck of Monmouth for treasurer, Charles W. Hadley of Wheaton for attorney general, and Rodney H. Brandon of Batavia for congressman at large.

DECIDE TO DISSOLVE LANDON COMMITTEE AS HARMONY MOVE

New York, April 16.—(AP)—Former Attorney General Albert Ottinger of New York, after a conference with the national campaign manager of Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, issued a statement today preparing the way for the dissolution of his volunteer "Landon for President" committee.

The formation of this committee some weeks ago had created internal differences among the Landon forces in New York state.

John Hamilton, who is in charge of the Landon campaign over the country, conferred with Ottinger on his current trip to New York. As a result of their conferences, Ottinger, predicting the nomination of Gov. Landon, issued a statement which said in part:

"Six months ago the opposition to the un-American, destructive régime in Washington was groping for a leader. That leadership has been found in Alf Landon, governor of Kansas."

WPA LEAVES HIGH SCHOOL GRADING WORK HALF DONE

Spends $20,185 in Year on 10 Acre Field.

The project of grading the athletic field of the Steinmetz High school at Mobile and Wellington avenues, started more than a year ago, was suspended yesterday by the Works Progress administration with the job only half done. It was explained that the WPA allotment of $20,185 to level the 10 acre tract has been exhausted and that nothing more can be done until additional funds are available.

Students and parents expressed indignation, asserting that, with the number of men employed on the project, the work should have been finished long ago. A number of students are said to have written letters to WPA authorities at Washington and to President Roosevelt protesting cessation of the work. The school has an enrollment of nearly 3,400.

Work Started by IERC.

According to the WPA records here the project was started originally in January, 1935, as part of the work program sponsored by the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. Last October the work was taken over as a WPA project with the $20,185 allotment. It could not be learned how much had been spent on the job by the IERC.

Sixty-two WPA men have been employed on the project since October. Only one-half of the field has been leveled off, however, and on this half the top surfacing must still be supplied. In the other half only a large hole has been dug in the hilly part. It was said that 400 cubic yards of cinders must still be added to the running track on the leveled plot.

Engineer Blames Weather.

Louis Falzer, engineer in charge of the work, blamed the delay in completing the field on the severe winter weather. He said that all the work had to be done by manual labor.

A request has been made for a further WPA allotment to finish the field, but it may be several months before this is approved in Washington, he said.

HORNER AND AIDS TO CONFER TODAY AT FRENCH LICK

Resort Parley to Outline Governor's Campaign.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Gov. Horner, his campaign associates, and a few other Democrats will gather today at French Lick Springs, Ind., to discuss the party's state convention on May 1 and to make preliminary plans for the drive to reëlect the governor next fall.

Mr. Horner will drive to French Lick from Springfield late this afternoon. By the time he arrives at least a score of Democrats will be on hand. State's Attorney Courtney, whose allegiance had every one guessing during the campaign, has a reservation at the spa, but could not be reached last night to learn when he planned to leave Chicago. At the prosecutor's home it was said he had not decided whether he would make the trip.

Brady and Boyle on Hand.

Already registered at the resort were City Clerk Peter J. Brady and State Representative James P. Boyle, member of the city board of local improvements, who is a candidate for speaker of the house for the 1937 session of the legislature.

Bailiff Albert J. Horan of the Municipal court and his insurance partner, Martin J. O'Brien, committeeman of the Twenty-ninth ward, were expected to leave the city for French Lick some time today. James M. Slattery, Cook county manager of the governor's campaign, and Peter J. Angsten, director of campaign organization, may drive over with the governor.

Other reservations made by Sam Nudelman of East St. Louis, associate state director of finance, were for Daniel Sullivan, administrative auditor of the state; F. Lynden Smith of Pontiac, who was Horner downstate campaign manager; Emil T. Rank, and John J. Donoghue of the state department of printing; John Casey of the highway department, and William Walsh, patronage manager. This list may be augmented tomorrow.

Horner to Stay for Week-End.

Mr. Horner plans to spend the week-end at the spa, returning to Springfield for the reconvening on Tuesday of the special legislative session which will wrestle with the relief problem.

The governor is expected to take up with his advisers the question of calling another special session to attempt passage of permanent election registration bills. The measures failed in February due to the solid opposition of tho Chicago bloc affiliated with the county Democratic organization.

California Income Tax May Yield 17 Million in 2 Years

Los Angeles, Cal., April 16.—[Special.]—Charles J. McColgan, head of the state tax department, today revised upward his estimates of the amount coming into the state treasury from the newly imposed California income tax. He said the yield for a two year period will be $17,000,000 or $18,000,000. The previous estimate was $16,000,000.

MAYOR OF ELGIN DEMANDS OUSTER OF WPA DIRECTOR

Charges Jobs Given as Political Favors.

Mayor Myron M. Lehman of Elgin yesterday charged Harold Achim, who is chairman of the Democratic central committee of Kane county, with using his position as county WPA personnel director to distribute political patronage. He demanded that higher officials of the works progress administration discharge Achim.

The mayor made his demand in Chicago before H. M. McCullen, director of district 2 of the WPA in Illinois. This district includes Cook county outside Chicago and Kane, Du Page and several other counties. Mr. McCullen requested that the complaint be put in writing and the mayor sat down last night and wrote a letter.

Cites 25 Appointments.

In this he recalled that up to March 1, when Achim succeeded Don J. Pieri as Kane county personnel director, there had been only two "personalized" appointments made in Elgin by WPA. Such appointments specify the person who is to be appointed to a certain job and the local superintendents have no opportunity to decide on the appointee's fitness. Since March 1 there have been 25 personalized requisitions by Achim.

"The absolute disregard of WPA rules by Mr. Achim is not in the best interests of either taxpayers or workers," Mayor Lehman asserted. "He has made political appointments under the guise of personalized requisitions of men not qualified for their jobs."

Claims Too Many Engineers.

Continuing, the mayor pointed out that there is a surplus of men designated safety engineers, being paid out of funds that should, in the mayor's opinion, be used for real work. Elgin, he said, wanted its WPA money spent judiciously, so that the cost of the projects carried out would be commensurate with their value.

When Achim was asked to comment on the action of Mayor Lehman he said:

"I get my orders from Chicago."

One of the specific acts which annoyed Mayor Lehman was the removal of C. B. Johnson as superintendent of the adult patrols in Elgin and his replacement with another appointee, Edward J. Burns. The adult patrols are WPA workers acting as part time trafic policemen.

Takes Back Equipment.

When the organization was first projected the city approved and purchased the men arm bands and canes. They were also given badges to show their authority. When Johnson was tossed out and Burns put in, Mayor Lehman took back the canes, badges, and armbands and announced the city was no longer responsible in any way for the patrols. He asserted that Johnson was competent in his job and that Burns owed his place to political expediency.

In Alimony Battle

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Julius L. Marks, former investment broker, was arrested yesterday in the federal court of Judge John P. Barnes on a writ of attachment. He was taken before Judge Rudolph Desort in Superior court to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for being $1,955 in arrears in alimony and support money to his former wife, Mrs. Bernice Marks, 8011 Crandon avenue, and their daughter, Evelyn, 16 years old.

Marks was sent to the county jail last week by Judge Barnes for failure to turn over $6,500 to the trustee in bankruptcy of his defunct brokerage concern. Yesterday he posted bond pending his appeal and was leaving Judge Barnes' court when he was served with the Superior court writ.

In the hearing before Judge Desort Mrs. Marks, through her attorney, Norman Becker, said she did not want to send her husband back to jail and would agree to give him two weeks' time to get some funds.

STATE WPA HEAD DISCHARGED ON HOPKINS' ORDER

Political Fund Collecting Is Charged.

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—Asserting that "we won't stand for political skullduggery in WPA," Harry L. Hopkins today dismissed George H. Gannon, the Washington state administrator, because of the alleged collection of campaign contributions from his staf.

At a press conference Hopkins announced he had telegraphed Gannon that he was "relieving" him of his "responsibility" as state administrator "as a result of conclusive evidence secured in the investigation of political activity and collection of funds in your administration for political purposes."

Holds Gannon Responsible.

Saying he did not know whether Gannon had permitted the collection of between $3,000 and $4,000 from administrative employés, Hopkins nevertheless asserted that "Gannon was running that show and I hold him responsible for what was done."

The WPA chief said he did not know what the money was collected for, but that it had been returned as a result of his investigation. Gannon is a Democrat, he said, adding that "I don't remember how he got his job."

Hopkins said Democratic congressmen had recommended many applicants for WPA positions, but that none had been suggested by the Democratic national committee.

Complaints from Democrats.

"We get substantially more complaints from Democratic politicians than Republicans," he said.

"That average may change as we get closer to election," he added, smiling.

Hopkins noted that Gannon was the first WPA administrator to be dismissed for any cause, and said his action was taken without consulting either of the Washington senators. Declining to say for what purpose the contributions were asked, Hopkins said that was "vague," and expressed doubt that any federal law had been violated.

Lets Hopkins Do Talking.

Seattle, Wash., April 16.—(AP)—George H. Gannon, Washington state Works Progress administrator whose discharge was announced today by Administrator Harry L. Hopkins at Washington, said "as far as I am concerned, I'll just let Mr. Hopkins statement stand. I have no further comment."

Gannon announced his resignation, effective June 1, at a Jefferson birthday banquet Monday night at Tacoma. At that time he said he had accepted the position for only one year and the period would be up at that time.

PRESIDENT LAYS CORNER STONE OF INTERIOR OFFICE

Second Largest Building; Cost 12 Millions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today laid the corner stone of the new $12,000,000 Interior Department building, and dedicated the edifice which is to rise in sixteen months to "a vigorous, continuing national policy of conservation."

In the ceremony Mr. Roosevelt used the historic silver Masonic trowel with which George Washington laid the corner stone of the capitol in 1793.

Second Largest Building.

The structure will be second in size among the federal office buildings to the Department of Commerce building. It will occupy a block in sight of the Lincoln memorial and Washington monument.

Cabinet officers, diplomats and members of congress turned out in force for the ceremony. Conspicuous among the guests were 15 Hopi Indians, colorful in tribal costumes, who gazed on the 5½ acre foundation in awe.

The President sealed in the corner stone a copper box containing, among other things, a pamphlet on the constitution and a bronze medallion bearing his likeness. The box also contained an autographed photograph of Secretary Ickes, a Bible, a silk American flag and various documents pertaining to the interior department.

Symbol of Resources.

"As I view this serviceable new structure," Mr. Roosevelt said, "I like to think of it as symbolical of the nation's vast resources that we are sworn to protect, and this corner stone we are about to lay as the corner stone of a conservative policy that will guarantee to future Americans the richness of their heritage."

The President endorsed a plea made by Ickes, who spoke earlier, that the name of his department be changed by congress to the department of conservation. He lauded Ickes' management of the department and traced its growth from one clerk in 1849 into a vast number of the federal burocracy.

G. O. P. TO VIEW BOONDOGGLERS' MIDGET 'CIRCUS'

Chairman Hails 'Mr. Farley's Wax Works.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—An offer of the national emergency council of general exhibits of government functions and activities for the convention cities was hailed tonight by Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the Republican national committee as "the best news I have heard for weeks."

Fletcher named the exhibition "Mr. Farley's Wax Works." The New Deal plans to set up the exhibits, which range from a stamp display of the postoffice department to a model of the TVA, in halls near the Cleveland and Philadelphia convention headquarters.

"We will welcome Mr. Farley's wax works," Fletcher said. "I had no idea Mr. Roosevelt's boondogglers were so bright.

"I feel sure that the delegates and visitors to the Cleveland convention, who will get their first glimpse of this boondoggling, will find it amusing and instructive in the use of federal funds for political purposes. We have known all along that this was the plan of the Democratic campaign. It could hardly be expected, however, that this new 'bread and circuses' performance would be brought to our own door.

"We will now have a chance to see Mr. Farley's stamp collection, a miniature of the ditch dug near Miami to let in fish to eat mosquitoes, and of the Memphis dog pound where they wash pups before giving them the gas—a treatment which might be applied beneficially to some of the boys who think up these ideas.

"We shall hope to see a miniature model also of Reedsville and of Red House, where the weeds grow through the floors and walls and water fills the cellars of houses no one will buy.

Suggest Loud Speaker.

"As barkers for the boondogglers' circus I suggest Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Ickes. Since Mr. Tugwell has been muzzled he might make a good clown, provided he wears a red cap so people can recognize him without his false whiskers.

"Since the federal communications commission no longer has to pore over the private telegrams of American citizens asking their wives to meet them at the train, it might hook up a loud speaker so convention visitors may hear the tides in Passamaquoddy bay crying for federal funds which never arrive since congress got up courage enough to say 'no' to this particular insanity.

"It is to be hoped that the wax works will contain heroic statutes of the public benefactor who thought up this new boondoggling project."

Black and his inquisitor colleagues were considering this afternoon whether to prosecute contempt action against Kurt Grunwald of Bayport, L. I., an organizer and director of the Farmers' Independence council, who was recalled for 10 o'clock tomorrow after refusing to answer questions.

Grunwald, after relating details of an organization trip among farmers in the middle west, particularly in South Dakota and Kansas, was asked to name some of the farmers he saw. At first he said he met so many he could not remember any of their names, but finally refused to answer Black's questions.

Refuses to Tell.

"Senator, you can ask me till doomsday and I won't give you those names. I don't want them to get into trouble," he declared.

"Do you think they might get in trouble?" Black asked.

"Get in trouble!" the witness exclaimed. "Why, under this New Deal of course they'd get in trouble! I'd be a damned fool to give you those names."

At this juncture Senator Sherman Minton [Dem., Ind.] bluntly asked the man when he was naturalized. He leaped up, rushing forward to the dais on which the inquisitors sat.

"I expected that because I am a man of foreign birth," he said. "Here are my naturalization papers. We men of foreign birth have to go through hell sometimes with you 100 per cent Americans."

Black demanded that Grunwald explain his statement and tell when he had been persecuted. He said it was during the war and that he was "persecuted" because he was born in Russia of German parentage.

"Aren't you satisfied here? Do you want to go back?" Minton demanded.

"Loves It" in United States.

"Yes, I love it here. I came through the Russian cheka and I don't want to go back," Grunwald said. The witness, who identified himself as a consulting agricultural engineer, was then asked what he did in the war.

"I was on a staf to go around getting farmers to grow more foodstuffs," he replied.

"How old were you?" asked Senator Lewis B. Schwellenbach [Dem., Wash.].

"Well, I'm 54 now. You know when the war was. Deduct it for yourself."

Grunwald said he came to Washington in January, 1935, to see Stanley Morse, a previous witness, who is executive vice president of the organization with headquarters in Chicago.

"I wanted to find some one with guts to fight the three A's," he said.

Garner's Letter Subpenaed.

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—The senate committee investigating lobbies was disclosed today to be in possession of private correspondence in which Vice President John N. Garner and John Henry Kirby, Texas anti-Roosevelt leader, discussed what Mr. Kirby defined as "the apostasy of the Roosevelt administration to the cardinal principles of the Democratic party."

Mr. Kirby asked Mr. Garner how long he was going to "tolerate" the "apostasy" and the Vice President replied by pointing out that "you don't control everybody you would like to and I am in a similar fix. I can't do half what I would like to."

The Vice President and Mr. Kirby were close friends during the early days of their careers and Mr. Garner's comment immediately raised a question as to his sympathy with the New Deal and the possible effect on his chance for renomination.

The exchange was included with a large file of books, records, and papers turned over to the committee by Mr. Kirby yesterday under subpena, but was not included in the transcript of the proceedings.

Farley Re-elected Head of New York Democrats

Albany, N. Y., April 16.—[Special.]—James A. Farley was in complete control of the Democratic state committee today when it reëlected him as state chairman. The rumblings of dissatisfaction among many of the upstate leaders because of his absentee leadership, which had caused reports of an open revolt, never showed at the meeting.

FARMER KILLED, DRIVER FACES QUIZ.

Kankakee, Ill., April 16.—(AP)—R. E. Umland, Shawano, Wis., truck driver today was ordered to appear here Friday for an inquest into the death of Herbert Cordner, 86, Chebanse, Ill., farmer who was fatally injured when he walked into the side of Umland's truck on a highway south of here.

COUNTY TO SEE ONLY 9 FIGHTS FOR ASSEMBLY

Parties Avoid Contests in Eleven Districts.

Cook county legislative races will be confined to eight districts this fall. There will be senators elected in three districts this fall. There will be senators elected in three districts and house contests in six, but two of the fights will be in the 6th district, where Senator James J. Barbour [Rep., Evanston] was renominated and each party seeks two seats in the house.

Failure of the senatorial committees to slate more than three candidates for house nominations in the other eleven districts was responsible for the small number of contests.

Senate opponents will be Senator Joseph Mendel, Democrat, and William Parillo, Republican, in the Second district; Senator Frank McDermott, Democrat, and Ignatius Zwarycz, Republican, in the Fourth, and Senator Barbour and John J. Meyers, Democrat, in the Sixth. The latter race should provide a good fight, for Meyers is backed by Charles H. Weber, Democratic committeeman of the Forty-fifth ward and also a house member.

Six House Contests.

House contests will be in the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eleventh, Thirteenth, and Thirty-first districts. Representatives Bernard J. Kewin and Louis G. Berman, Democrats, will run against Representative William J. Warfield and Miss Josephine Perry, Republicans, in the Fifth.

Weber's Democratic running mate in the Sixth is George H. Smith, brother of Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board. Their Republican opponents will be Representative Drennan J. Slatter and Fred G. Koehler. Representatives Bernice T. Van Der Vries and Frank E. Foster are the Republican standard bearers in the Seventh district and will run against Representative Frank G. Ring and Emmett McGrath.

Schnackenberg Faces Fight.

Former Representative Calvin T. Weeks and Roland H. Bradley, nominated by the Eleventh district Republicans, will have Representatives George A. Fitzgerald and Michael Hannigan against them in the fall.

In the Thirteenth district Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg and George R. Hillstrom, Republicans, were nominated against Representatives William W. Powers and John G. Ryan. Another pair of Democratic incumbents, Pierce L. Shannon and Mason S. Sullivan, were renominated without opposition in the Thirty-first district, where the Republicans picked Representative Edward P. Saltiel and Edward F. McGinnis.

Each district will send three representatives to the house.

COUNTY TO ASK CONTINUANCE OF IERC TO JULY 1

Board Without Funds to Aid Needy.

The Cook county board yesterday decided it had no means of raising relief funds that will be required when, under present legislation, the counties take over the work of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission on May 1. The board proposed instead that the IERC continue to function until July 1.

Under the existing state law the counties will be responsible for relief in Illinois during May and June. Beginning July 1 the burden will be assumed in Chicago by the city, and outside Chicago by the townships.

Will Ask Amendment.

The only way the life of the IERC can be prolonged for two months is through amendment of the law by the state legislature. Board members voted to ask passage of such an amendment when the second special session of the legislature is reconvened next Tuesday.

State Representative Benjamin Adamowski, Democratic floor leader in the house, and State Senator Harold Ward told the board they believed the measure could be put through. They will assist counsel for the board in drawing up the amendment.

"Cook county does not shirk the job of administering relief, but has no means of providing money," Clayton F. Smith, president of the board, said.

Federation Assails Law.

The relief setup after July 1, as well as before that date, met criticism yesterday. The Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency issued a statement assailing the legislation that will make Chicago and the 30 townships in Cook county outside Chicago care for the needy.

"Chaos in the administration of relief in Chicago and Cook county is threatened after July 1 unless the legislature comes to the rescue by amending parts of the law enacted in February," the statement declared.

"Under this legislation as it stands, the city of Chicago, which never has been responsible for relief, would be obliged to set up its own independent relief machinery. Each of the 30 townships lying wholly or partly outside of the city would be obliged to do likewise. It is certainly folly to disband an experienced and efficient organization and to set up 31 new and independent unrelated agencies to do the same work.

"We recommend the prompt enactment of legislation to place administration of relief in Cook county in the hands of a central body, preferably the Cook county bureau of public welfare."

CHARITY UNIT GOES TO AID OF 'SEEKERS AFTER UTOPIA' IN CUBA

HAVANA, April 16.—(AP)—The Anglo-American association, a charitable organization, said today it had arranged with railroad companies to bring a group of American "utopia seekers," stranded in Pinar del Rio province, to Havana.

The small auxiliary schooner, the Fleetwood, which left Key West, Fla., March 5 for the Virgin Islands, is in Cortes Bay, Pinar del Rio, with most of the passengers and crew aboard. The adventurers took shelter there when storms drove them off their course after they had left Matanzas, Cuba, March 28 for St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, where they sought a "haven."

Maurice Allard, head of the group which called itself the "Vana Vana" society, was in Havana and called at the American consulate. The Anglo-American association stated funds had been advanced to Allard's followers to bring them to the Cuban capital.

HOUSE APPROVES 440 MILLION FOR BUILDING ROADS

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—A bill authorizing a $440,000,000 road program for the 1938 and 1939 fiscal years was passed by the house today and sent to the senate.

Approved without opposition, the measure extends the Hayden-Cartwright act under which the present year's federal highway program and that for 1937 would be carried out.

For the first time $25,000,000 for each of the two years is earmarked for farm-to-market roads, to be matched on a 50-50 basis by the state.

Also included for the first time is $50,000,000 each year not required to be matched, for grade crossing elimination.

ARTHUR MULLEN IN $49,500 SUIT FOR UTILITY FEE

North Platte, Neb., April 16.—(AP)—Arthur F. Mullen, Omaha and Washington attorney, had on file in District court here today a suit for $49,500 in legal fees which he claimed the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation district failed to pay him for services in 1933, 1934, and 1935.

Mullen, Democratic floor leader for President Roosevelt at the last Democratic national convention, resigned as counsel for the project a month ago because he was not paid. The suit asks interest at 6 per cent from Nov. 23, 1935.

Mullen asserts in the petition he was paid only $500 on a $50,000 fee claim presented to the district on that date. Directors of the Platte valley project approved a bill for Mullen's services, but Secretary Harold L. Ickes, PWA administrator, declared it excessive.

Winter Returns for a Day; Snow Flurries in Chicago

Brief snow flurries occurred in Chicago yesterday as brisk northwest winds held the temperature in the low 40s. Forecaster J. R. Lloyd said that today would be fair with continued cold. Tomorrow, it is expected, will be cloudy and somewhat warmer.

FEDERAL APPROVAL OF ILLINOIS PENSIONS FORESEEN BY HUNTER

Joel Hunter, executive secretary of the United Charities of Chicago, predicted yesterday, following a recent trip to Washington, that the federal social security board will approve the Illinois old age pension system. Unless the approval is forthcoming, pensioners will receive a maximum of $15 a month [the state share] instead of $30 which would be made possible by federal matching funds.

"The Illinois old age assistance laws are not the best, but the board is anxious to approve them," Mr. Hunter said. "The decision has been held up at Washington while state officials prepare statements that will give the board some basis for approval."

Joseph L. Moss, director of the Cook county bureau of public welfare, announced yesterday that the first 200 old age pension applications from this county have been forwarded to Springfield. From now on there will be a steady flow of applications to Springfield, he said.

SEIZE N. Y. BOND THIEVES IN PARIS AS PART OF RING

Recover Nearly Third of $1,456,000 Loot.

New York, April 16.—[Special]—The arrest of two men in Paris on suspicion that they are members of an international security theft ring charged with stealing $1,456,000 in United States treasury notes from a messenger of the Bank of Manhattan on Jan. 28, 1935, was announced tonight by New York police.

The two arrested, a Czechoslovakian and a Hungarian, had eight treasury notes valued at $440,000 in their possession when taken into custody. The securities were identified as part of the $1,456,000 New York loot.

Paris police have been asked to hold the suspects, and Detective Henry Oswald of New York City will sail for Paris Saturday to question them.

Police also announced that the arrest of an American man and woman in Paris was expected momentarily.

Eight Others Arraigned.

It was revealed that the detention of David Frank of New York last March 31 on a charge of conspiracy in connection with an attempt to dispose of $245,000 in stolen securities was a step in the police investigation.

These developments came as eight men accused of being members of a gang that stole $590,000 in United States treasury notes in December, 1934, were held in bail totaling $325,000 when they were arraigned today before Garrett W. Cotter, United States commissioner.

Events leading up to the arrests in Paris had all the elements of a thrilling detective story, involving whispered telephone messages, a tip from a "beautiful woman" with a villa in Monte Carlo, and a murder.

The story concerns the tracing of a band of suave international bond thieves who operated in the principal cities of Europe—in London, Berlin, Paris, and at Monte Carlo—selling fortunes in stolen United States government certificates.

Phone Calls Give Clew.

For more than a year Detective Oswald and Lieut. Grover C. Brown worked on the case here without obtaining the faintest clew. Then on the morning of last March 4 a telephone tip gave the detectives a tangible lead.

Finally as a result of information obtained from a "beautiful" American woman who owned a villa at Monte Carlo and from a man who lived on Park avenue, the detectives cabled to the prince of Monaco, asking that all members of the bond theft gang be taken into custody and held.

The request was quickly acted upon. The police arrested the Czechoslovakian and Hungarian, who are now being held in Paris.

Other information from Paris indicated, according to New York police, that the Paris-Monaco bond thieves also have hidden somewhere another $2,780,000 in stolen United States treasury securities, but where they were stolen or when was not disclosed.

MADRID FASCISTS BATTLE REDS; 3 KILLED; 50 HURT

Guard Spanish Capital; Fear Terrorism.

MADRID, April 16.—(AP)—Police and first aid units in the Spanish capital prepared for emergency service tonight as the aftermath of a gun battle between Fascists and communists in which three persons died and at least 50 were wounded.

From the protection of a heavily guarded chamber, the Cortes [parliament] gave the government a vote of confidence after a bitter debate on its policies in maintaining public order. The vote was 195 to 78.

The crack of pistol fire from the partly constructed ministerial buildings on Castellana avenue opened the bloody fight and interrupted the funeral procession of Lieut. Anastasio Reyes of the Civil guard, killed in a demonstration Tuesday.

Kin of De Rivera Slain.

The dead: Andre Saenz de Heredia, a cousin of José Antonio Primo de Rivera, leader of the Fascist movement, and two other Fascist mourners. A fourth Fascist was reported so seriously wounded he was not expected to live more than a few hours.

Marching members of the cortège asserted the fire was opened by communists employed in construction of the new buildings. One marcher asserted the attackers used automatic rapid-fire pistols.

Guerra Del Rio, another of the mourners, said at least fifty were wounded in the battle which ensued when the marchers returned the fire from their political opponents. The official report of the department of public safety set the number wounded at forty.

After the pitched battle, rumors of a general strike accompanied by terrorism alarmed the capital.

With the first burst of gunfire, mounted police charged into the fray. They swept the streets of the battling forces, amid the insults of extremists. A man with a bomb was reported by rightists to have been arrested at one intersection.

The immediate cause of the outbreak, officials believe, were shouts of "Long Live Fascism!" from civilian marchers in the funeral procession.

Premier Manuel Azana undertook the defense of the government in the parliamentary debate which won the vote of confidence for the newly installed leftist administration.

Azana declared the present financial position of Spain was "the fault of the rightists who created a situation of panic by withdrawing 500,000,000 pesetas from circulation after the leftist election." The premier urged the left united front to maintain its solidarity "to enable the government to carry out its republican policies."

BELGIAN ADMITS PLOT TO KIDNAP KING'S CHILDREN

Ex-Convict Sends Death Threat to Leopold.

BRUSSELS, April 16.—(AP)—Police charged tonight that Nicholas Elsen, 31, a former convict, was the author of letters to King Leopold in which the monarch was threatened with death and his three motherless children with kidnaping.

Elsen, who police said confessed the abduction plot, was held at Liege after an investigation carried on secretly for several weeks.

Police Minimize Threats.

Belgian authorities attempted to minimize the threats against the king and his children, Josephine Charlotte, 7; Baudoin, 3, and Albert, 1. Their mother, Queen Astrid, was killed in an automobile accident near Lucerne, Switzerland, last August.

The plot charged to Elsen began when the king received letters signed "Gangster," demanding 2,000,000 francs [about $68,000].

The writer advised King Leopold to leave the money in a wooded section near Liege. Police, advising the ruler to deposit a dummy package, lay in wait for the author of the letters. He did not appear.

Served Six Years as Robber.

Elsen was finally apprehended after officials traced a reference in one of the notes that the writer was a former convict. Elsen was released from prison last year after serving a six year robbery term.

The king's children, closely guarded during the inquiry, left today for a seaside resort soon after news of the former convict's arrest reached the palace. Leopold, himself, was reported to have left the capital en route to Switzerland.

Officials said Elsen probably will be brought to trial in June or July, but will be given a medical examination before the hearing.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, April 16.—With record speed and with the utmost politeness, the British government today accepted Turkey's request to discuss revision of the Lausanne treaty and refortification of the Dardenelles.

Britain apparently is anxious to show that revision of treaties in a peaceful and legal manner can be begun almost as quickly as by the "hammerstroke" methods of Germany. A cordial note was sent to Ankara today, less than five days after Turkey's plea was received at the foreign office.

HOW foolish I WAS

You see, my husband is fussy about coffee, and so am I . . . but we have a budget. So we kept on trying one coffee after another, and being disappointed each time. Of course we know that Hills Bros. Coffee is the best, but we thought it too expensive.

Then John's mother came down for a week-end, and I wanted to prove that her daughter-in-law was really a good cook. So I bought a can of Hills Bros. . . . and would you believe it! It cost practically the same as the coffees we'd been trying but it was miles ahead in flavor! Well, Hills Bros. Coffee is part of the family now — and we didn't have to revise the budget, either!

CELEBRATE 10TH YEAR OF FLYING ST. LOUIS MAIL

Aviators Stress Need for Lake Front Airport.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Recollections of early air mail flying, a review of the technical improvements which have come during the decade in which commercial aviation has progressed and predictions for the future were given yesterday at a celebration of the 10th anniversary of the opening of the Chicago-St. Louis air mail route. The occasion was a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman.

The recollections were supplied by Maj. Phil Love, commandant of aviation for the Missouri National Guard, who, with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, made the first air mail flights between Chicago and St. Louis on April 15, 1926. Maj. Love started for Chicago from St. Louis at the same time Col. Lindbergh, then an obscure but expert flyer, left with the south bound mail.

Tells of Strange Cargo.

"Mostly I remember the strange sorts of cargo we carried in the De Havillands with their open cockpits and Liberty motors," Maj. Love said. "Lots of times I made the trip with crates of chickens on my knees. It wasn't the two hour trip it is today. Usually it took four hours and lots of times even longer."

C. R. Smith, president of American Airlines which with the National Association for the Advancement of Aviation, and the Aviation post of the American Legion was co-host at the luncheon, spoke of the reliability of modern airplane engines and the radio and instrument aids to flying that are used today.

Landing Fields Are Problem.

"What we now need," Mr. Smith said, "are landing fields which are not so far removed from our cities that the time saved in the air is lost on the ground.

"St. Louis, of course, has not the opportunity for acquiring just such a field as Chicago. I refer to the projected lake front airport which would save a full hour on all flights leaving or landing here. Though I understand a lack of money has temporarily halted efforts to build this field, I hope and feel sure that inevitably it will come."

Opposes Federal Control.

Edward A. Hayes, past national commander of the American Legion, urged the removal of commercial aviation from all governmental control, including that of the federal bureau of air commerce.

Among those present were Pilots James Doolittle and James Mattern; Mrs. Schuyler Terry, national vice president of the Women's Aeronautical association; Ernest Kruetgen, postmaster, and Dr. Frances Dickinson, sister of the late Charles [Pop] Dickinson, one of Chicago's aviation pioneers.

WEYERHAEUSER BOY'S KIDNAPER REPORTED SEEN ABOUT SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash., April 16.—(AP)—The Times said today it had learned a former convict told authorities last month he had recognized William Dainard reputed leader of the George Weyerhaeuser kidnap gang, on a street here.

This report, the paper said, was made about the same time approximately $800 in altered ransom bills were found by banks here. The bills were altered so cleverly, the paper reported, that microscopic examinations were necessary to determine definitly they were part of the $200,000 paid last June for the release of the 9 year old Tacoma boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Weyerhaeuser of the lumber family.

Dainard, alias Mahan, has been sought since Harmon Waley and his wife, Margaret were captured in Salt Lake City last June. Waley is serving a 47 year sentence in Alcatraz prison and his wife a 20 year sentence in the women's detention farm at Milan, Mich., for their part in the crime.

RIVER DEATH VERDICT LEFT OPEN.

A coroner's jury yesterday returned an open verdict on the death of Mrs. Josephine Druzick, 51 years old, 104 North 12th avenue, Melrose Park, whose body was found in the Des Plaines river near Madison street in Forest Park March 27.

NEW AIR ENGINE OF 14 CYLINDERS RATES 1,000 H. P.

East Hartford, Conn., April 16.—[Special.]—Roaring on a deeper note than yet had been heard from an American aircraft engine, a new 14 cylinder twin row motor was demonstrated here today at the plant of the Pratt & Whitney division of the United Aircraft corporation. It is rated at 1,000 horse power and draws 1,150 for emergency use.

At the same time an order from United Air Lines for 26 of the engines, known as the 1830 Wasp, to power, with spares, ten 24 passenger Douglas transports, was made public. More than 200 are on order for the navy for long range patrol boats and combat craft.

Demonstrated on the dynamometer to a group of newspaper men, the new engine showed a maximum of 1,160 horse power at 2,700 revolutions a minute and more than 1,000 horse power at 2,400 revolutions. Despite the delivery of this enormous power which deafened the ears of those in the test chamber, gauges showed that the cylinder and cylinder head temperatures, respectively, were running only about 160 to 210 degrees Fahrenheit.

20 DIE, 200 HURT AS 20,000 POLES BATTLE POLICE

Idle Riot at Funeral for Slain Youth.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, April 16.—The 1,000 year old market place at Lwow again was the scene of bloodshed today. Twenty thousand unemployed persons fought foot and mounted police for six hours when authorities attempted to prevent them from using the funeral of Wladislaw Kozak, 23 years old, to stage a demonstration against the government. Kozak was killed during a riot by unemployed last Tuesday.

Authorities reported that the known casualties are twenty men and women killed and more than 200 wounded. Twenty policemen also were treated for injuries.

Hurl Tear Gas Bombs.

Refusing the demonstrators' demands that Kozak be given a special grave, police attempted to disperse the crowd which gathered in the market place. Tear gas bombs proved ineffective and a charge of mounted police, who swung blunt edged sabers, also was repulsed with a barrage of cobblestones.

The demonstrators fired pistols and the police were ordered to fire. The first volley killed a woman and wounded twenty rioters. The crowd then attacked, but fell back before repeated volleys. The rioters ran through the streets and smashed windows, looted shops, and overturned seventy street cars and motor buses.

Telephone communication between Lwow and Warsaw was cut off during the afternoon and martial law was declared tonight. A number of high government officials, including the minister of interior, were reported to have arrived at Lwow by airplane from Warsaw at a late hour.

Heavy reinforcements of police also arrived from neighboring cities and Lwow was heavily patroled by armed squads.

Government authorities blame communists for the disorders, alleging that they provided the demonstrators with arms. A house to house search for communists was ordered by the police.

The casualties in recent disorders in Cracow and other Polish cities are largely due to the government's policy of using steel helmeted police armed with rifles to suppress rioters instead of arming them with rubber clubs and night sticks. The Polish press condemns the use of rifles, declaring that bullets make martyrs, but a blow from a policeman's club "makes a fool of the man who receives it."

JURY CHOSEN FOR REND SUIT AGAINST BANK

Lawyer's Illness Causes Delay in Hearings.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

A jury was selected in Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward's court yesterday to try the $1,500,000 fraud suit which was started two years ago by the late Joseph P. Rend, Chicago coal merchant, against the City Company of New York, formerly the National City company of which Charles E. Mitchell was president. The suit is now being prosecuted by Rend's widow, Mrs. Agnes Rend, as executrix of his estate.

Adjournment was taken in the case until Monday morning because of the illness of Max D. Steuer, New York attorney who is defending the case for the bank. Mr. Steuer is remaining at the Drake hotel under a physician's care. Opening statements will be made Monday and the first witnesses will be heard in the afternoon. The plaintif has about ten witnesses, but much of the important evidence will be heard by deposition, including a statement which Mr. Rend made just before his death.

Principals Attend Opening.

Mrs. Rend and her daughter Mary, both in black, sat at the table with the attorneys during the morning. There are three other children interested as heirs to the estate, Mrs. Helen Rend Clark, Mrs. Thomas G. Wheelock, and William Rend. The Rends live at the Seneca hotel.

As the examination of prospective jurors was taken up by Attorneys Walter Beebe and Preston Boyden for the Rend estate and Mr. Steuer in turn, it became evident that this was another of the depression aftermath suits in which the issue is the good faith of those who sat in seats of financial power in 1929 and manipulated stocks in mysterious manner. It has a resemblance to the Insull trials in some features, and also to the efforts of Mrs. Leonard Busby to collect for lost investments from the bank which handled her husband's estate.

"The base of this case," Mr. Beebe informed the men in the jury box, "is fraud and deceit in the sale of stock."

Question Jurors on Bankers.

Then Mr. Beebe and the other lawyers sought to get at the minds of the prospective jurors to find out whether they had any prejudice against banks or bankers, whether they were ready to say, "Well, we all lost money and let's forget it," or as a business transaction subject to inspection as to its honesty and intent.

The lawyers had a suspicion that there might be some prejudice against big law firms and inquired carefully into this. The New York bank has not only Mr. Steuer, but John D. Black of the firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, and the New York firm of Shearman & Sterling.

"Would talk of millions embarrass you?" one prospective juror was asked.

"Not in these days and times," he replied.

Intent Included in Evidence.

Mr. Steuer asked few questions and these in a low, conversational tone. He took no notes but remembered the name of each man. One man who had bought bank stock under circumstances similar to those alleged in this case and still felt aggrieved about it, was excused by agreement. Only two peremptory challenges were exercised.

Representations made to Mr. Rend by his brother-in-law, Mr. Mitchell, and by Hugh E. Baker, former president of the National City bank, regarding the value of the bank stock in which Mr. Rend invested $1,023,000 in 1929, will form an important part of the evidence. What the stock was worth at the time, whether the men who were trying to hold it high were acting with fraudulent intent or in a sincere belief of good to come, will be the main issue of this trial.

MOVE KOSKIUSKO STATUE TO AVOID PERIL OF TRAFIC

Works Progress administration workers are moving the statue of Gen. Thaddeus Kosciusko, Polish patriot and American revolutionary war hero, about 150 feet southwest of its present location at Humboldt boulevard and North avenue, it was learned yesterday. W. I. Bell, chief engineer of the Chicago parks district, said this is necessary as part of the project to eliminate a trafic hazard. The statue will be given a more beautiful setting on the lawn where the public may view it without danger from automobiles, he said.

EFFORTS TO FREE MRS. TEGTMEYER MEET NEW DELAY

Another attempt to free Mrs. Daisy C. Tegtmeyer, who has been in the county jail since Jan. 5, 1934, for contempt of court, was temporarily halted yesterday when Judge Michael Feinberg referred a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to the executive committee of the Circuit court for reassignment. The petition was drawn and filed by Mrs. Myrtle Moore, a New York school teacher who is a sister of Mrs. Tegtmeyer. Mrs. Moore is staying at the Harding hotel.

Judge Feinberg called attention to the fact that last March 15 he dismissed a habeas corpus petition filed by Attorney William J. McGah on behalf of Mrs. Tegtmeyer. In view of this the judge said he thought it would be unwise for him to hear Mrs. Moore's petition.

Mrs. Tegtmeyer was sentenced to jail on the contempt charge by Judge Hugo M. Friend of the Appelate court, then sitting in the Circuit court, when she refused to account for $30,000 in an estate for which she was trustee.

Robbed of $120 When She Makes Call in Phone Booth

Miss D. L. Williams of Valparaiso, Ind., reported to the police that she was robbed of $120 yesterday by an armed man who threatened her as she was making a telephone call in a booth in the basement of Liggett's drug store at State and Madison streets.

MACVEAGH FILES APPEAL ON $2,500 LOVE JUDGMENT

It was learned yesterday that Eames MacVeagh, 60 years old, son of the late Franklin MacVeagh, pioneer Chicago grocer, has filed an appeal with the Illinois Appellate court to set aside a $2,500 judgment awarded against him last fall by Judge Joseph H. McGarry in Municipal court in behalf of Miss Louise Hagen, New York artist. The judgment was based on an alleged breach of contract in which MacVeagh agreed to pay Miss Hagen $250 a month for life.

In his appeal MacVeagh cites a number of letters written to Miss Hagen and, after quoting a letter written in 1919, the appeal brief says: "The whole letter is a stave-off and indicates no attachment or desire for the society of the lady. He did not even have it in mind to write, telegraph, send flowers, or otherwise gladden the heart of his mistress who had borne him a child."

Attorney Herbert R. Stoffels, counsel for Miss Hagen, in an answer to MacVeagh's appeal, declared that MacVeagh was under a legal liability to Miss Hagen on the contract and that MacVeagh's contentions were merely a "smoke screen." In 1930 MacVeagh married Miss Zellie Barthelmy, daughter of a former French consul in Chicago. Miss Hagen has a second suit on file here against MacVeagh to collect an additional $3,250 allegedly due her.

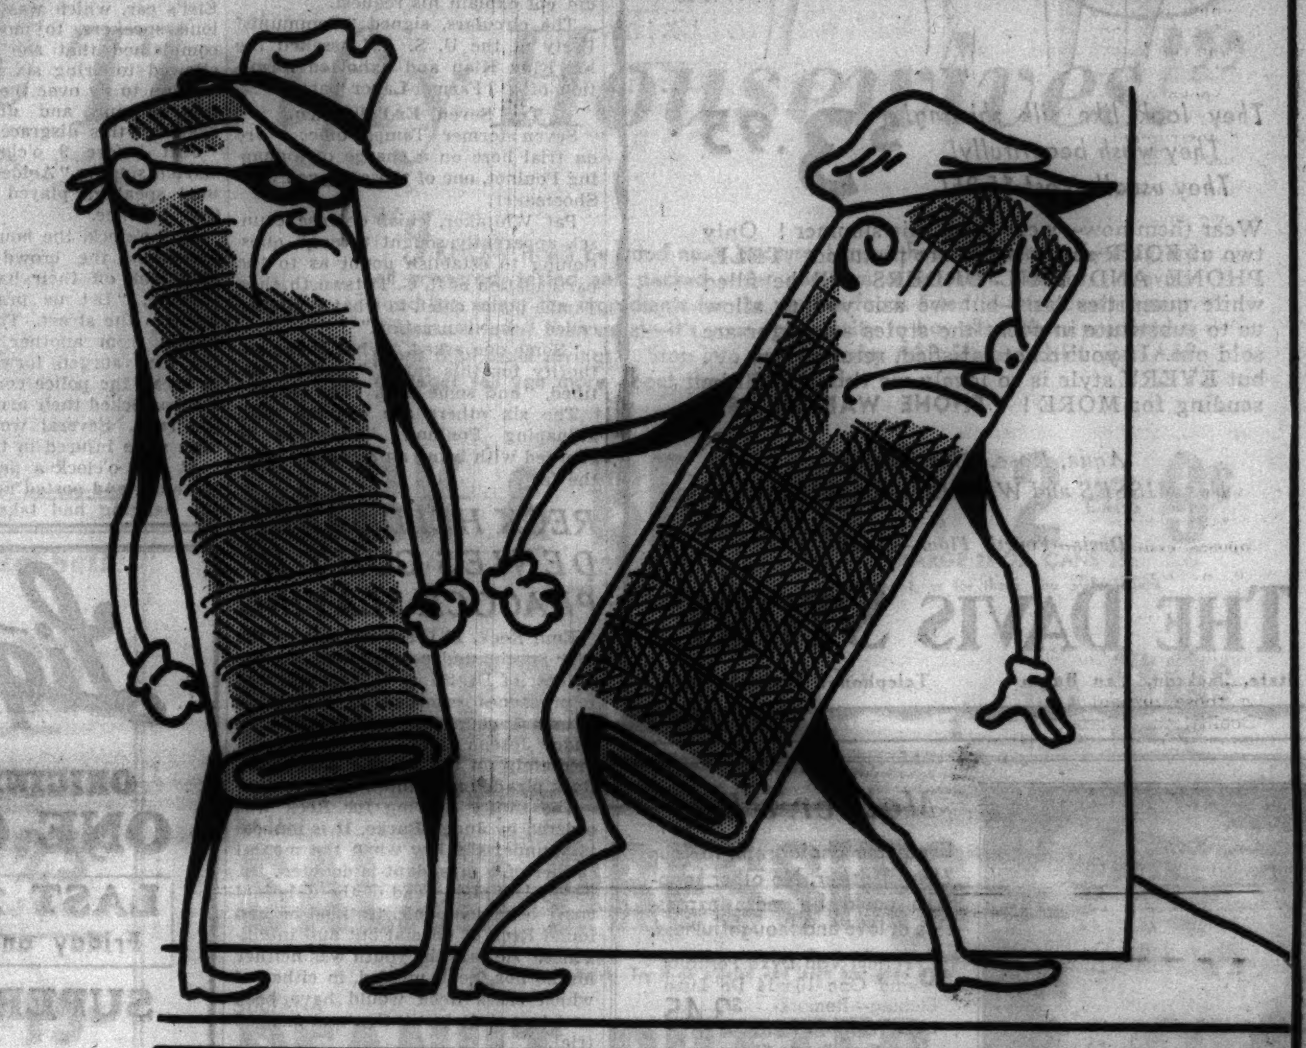
"The Cotton Gang" is at large!



REMEMBER the old bootleg days when "cutting" bottled goods was a fine art? Well, "The Cotton Gang" works in the same way. Only this bunch operates on fabrics—by mixing cotton with wool. For a while they kept under cover. But ever since the price of wool started going up, "Kid Cotton" and his boys are back on the job. And as usual, the innocent bystander gets the worst of it! ★ Sad enough, fabrics made of cotton mixed with wool look like the real McCoy. But what a difference, once you wear them! The least bit of dampness will curl and pucker them like an old dish-rag. The cotton shrinks, the wool doesn't! You can picture what happens when each tries to go its own way. ★ And if you ever get "hot under the collar," there's still more danger in store. When cotton absorbs perspiration it turns yellow. The result is not very pretty to look at, or to wear in polite society. ★ So, when you pick your Spring suit, beware of "The Cotton Gang"! Demand pure wool! One sure way to get it, is to buy at Bond's—where the fabric in every suit is put through the third degree, and is guaranteed 100% virgin wool. You'll get more wear and better appearance—at consistently low prices—$25, $30, $35 (two trousers with every suit).

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

An easy way to capture a good suit of clothes is to "charge it" the Bond way. This popular service permits you to pay weekly or twice a month. And it costs not a cent extra!

SCREAMS HEARD AS POLICE QUIZ FLOGGING VICTIM

Home Raided Without Legal Warant.

Bartow, Fla., April 16.—(AP)—The first prosecution witness in the Tampa flogging case testified today he heard one of the three victims screaming as police questioned him at headquarters following a raid on a home where the men, organizers of unemployed, were meeting.

The witness, C. E. Jensen, said he was with the flogging victims when Tampa police entered a private house and arrested them without ceremony as they were reading the constitution of the "Modern Democrats."

One Victim Dies.

At police headquarters, said Jensen, he heard Joseph Shoemaker screaming as he was being questioned out of Jensen's sight.

The state charges that after questioning Shoemaker, E. F. Poulnot and S. D. Rogers about alleged communistic activities, police released them and a mob seized the three outside the station house, flogged them, and tarred and feathered them. Shoemaker died.

During the trial today Judge Robert T. Dewell summoned newspaper men to a conference and asked that they make no mention of communist handbills distributed here today urging a "fair trial." Most of these informed the judge the incident already had been reported. The judge did not explain his request.

Try Seven Ex-Policemen.

Pat Whitaker, chief defense counsel, apparently sought through questioning to establish doubt as to the participation of R. G. Tittsworth, then Tampa police chief, in what Whitaker called "the transaction."

"Some one asked, 'What is the authority for this raid?'" Jensen testified, "and some said, 'The chief.'"

The six others are charged with kidnaping Poulnot. Tittsworth is charged with being an accessory after the fact.

RECK HELD SANE; DENIES GUILT IN PEACOCK SLAYING

Emil Reck, 19 years old, one of the four youths under indictment for the murder of Dr. Silber C. Peacock, was found sane yesterday by a jury in Criminal court at the direction of Judge Joseph Burke. Arraigned immediately on the murder indictment, Reck pleaded not guilty.

The sanity hearing for Reck was ordered by Judge Burke. It is mandatory under the law when the mental caliber of a defendant is doubted. Dr. Harry Hoffman, head of the Criminal court behavior clinic, testified he had found Reck of normal but dull intelligence. He said the youth was neither insane nor feeble-minded, in either of which cases Reck would have been sent to a state institution and escaped trial.

Reck testified he understood the proceeding in court, and his attorneys said they would not contest Dr. Hoffman's findings. Judge Burke thereupon ordered the direct sanity decision.

One other of the four indicted for the Peacock murder, Michael Livingston, 17 years old, has entered a not guilty plea. Durland Nash and Robert Goethe, both 19 years old, have pleaded guilty.

500 POLICE FIGHT MOB AS MOTHER OF 5 IS HANGED

British Nurse Dies for Killing Patient.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 16.—Five hundred policemen fought back crowds which tried to break a cordon around Winson Green prison at Birmingham, where Mrs. Dorothea Waddingham, 34 year old nurse and mother of five children, was hanged this morning.

Fearing disorderly demonstrations because of the high feeling which had been aroused against executing women, reserve police forces were also concealed around the prison.

Unaware of Mother's Fate.

No details of the hanging were printed in the British press in accordance with the usual custom. The woman was hanged by T. A. Pierrepoint, assisted by his nephew, A. Pierrepoint. The nurse's five children, the eldest of whom is 10 years and the youngest 6 months, know nothing of their mother's death.

Mrs. Waddingham, the first woman to be executed in Great Britain since 1934, was convicted of the poison murder of Miss Ada Baguley, a crippled patient in her Nottingham nursing home. She had expected a last minute reprieve.

At an early hour crowds began to gather about the prison. Sandwich men paraded with posters which read: "Stop this terrible crime of hanging a mother of five children."

Many women were in tears. Mrs. Violet Van der Elst, leader of a campaign against capital punishment, arrived outside the prison in a limousine an hour before the execution. Signs on her car read: "This barbaric age would hang a mother."

Force Car to Move Along.

The police forced Mrs. Van der Elst's car, which was equipped with loud speakers, to move along. She complained that she had not been allowed to bring six airplanes from London to fly over the prison during the hanging and drop pamphlets against "this disgrace."

Just before 9 o'clock the crowd started singing "Abide with Me," and loud speakers played "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

At 9 o'clock, the hour fixed for the execution, the crowd was hushed. Men took off their hats and a man shouted, "Let us pray." Hundreds knelt in the street. Then there were shouts from another direction and the mob surged forward and tried to break the police cordon. The constables locked their arms and stopped the rush. Several women and children were injured in the crush.

At 9:04 o'clock a prison attendant came out and posted up a sign saying the hanging had taken place.

Miner Ends His Life in Dynamite Blast.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 16.—[Special.]—A secret investigation was pressed by authorities tonight into the suicide of a miner, who blew himself to bits with dynamite, in the belief it may have a connection with the "Easter gift" bombs which spread terror through this anthracite region last week.

Investigators have been without a clew for a week in their hunt for the person or persons who mailed six bombs, disguised as Easter gifts, from a downtown mail box last Thursday night. Four of the bombs were intercepted, but the explosion of the other two took three lives.

Mine Watched Closely.

The miner who took his life was Anthony Denovige. He killed himself last night in the Buttonwood colliery of the Glen Alden Coal company in the section of the mine that has been under closest scrutiny since the bombings. It had been found that dynamite used in the Easter day bombs was similar to that used in the Buttonwood mine.

Authorities sped to the scene of the suicide and arrested eight persons for questioning. Two were picked up in Breslau, where Denovige lived, and the others were taken in custody in nearby Hanover township.

The third victim of the mailed bombs died shortly after Denovige's death. He was Thomas Maloney, former president of the virtually disbanded United Anthracite miners, long a rival to the United Mine Workers union.

Son Killed, Daughter Hurt.

Maloney was injured fatally by the same bomb that took the life of his 4 year old son, Thomas Jr., and injured his 17 year old daughter, who gathered around him as he unwrapped what he thought was a box of cigars. Another of the lethal packages killed Michael Gallagher, 70, church sexton.

A report was being investigated that two sticks of dynamite had been found in the rectory of St. Mary's church, home of Msgr. James J. Curran, known for 40 years as a friend of miners. However, the Rev. Paul J. Cary, Msgr. Curran's assistant, denied the report. The rectory burst into flames last Thursday night in the midst of the frantic search of postal inspectors for the mailed bombs.

FATHER MURDERED IN AUTO BLAST, SAYS SON IN DEMANDING INQUIRY

Los Angeles, Cal., April 16.—[Special.]—Insisting that the death of his father in a mysterious auto explosion last Tuesday was not suicide but murder, John Moriarity, 30 years old, demanded a thorough investigation on his arrival here today from Chicago.

Dr. William D. Moriarty, a professor of economics at the University of Southern California, and his wife were killed when a bomb exploded in the automobile in which they were riding with their friends, Harley McCoy and Eleanor Thonis. The professor had asked McCoy to drive to a lonely spot on the outskirts of the city, McCoy told police.

"I have been close to my father's business during the last year through correspondence with him," young Moriarity told police. "The last letter, the day of his death, told me something proving that some one had a motive to 'get him out of the way.' This letter with others which will prove my contention will be turned over to investigators."

The son also called investigators' attention again to one of the notes written by Dr. Moriarity in the week before his death. It read: "Just in case something should happen to me that might seem to come not from pure accident but from design, I beg of you have nothing to do with vengeance, legal or otherwise."

An inquest is scheduled tomorrow.

PRISONERS IN N. Y. READ AVERAGE OF 6 BOOKS A MONTH

New York, April 16. — [Special.] — Austin H. MacCormick, commissioner of correction, revealed today the voracious literary appetites of prisoners in the city's eight penal institutions.

Each of them, he said, reads an average of six books a month, which is more than the average outsider reads in a year, and their tastes range from the Bible to a history of the world in Spanish, printed before 1900.

As the demand for books far exceeds the supply, he said, the institutions are requesting 20,000 books from the book sharing week campaign, which will be held from April 16 to 23.

TRUCK KILLS GIRL WALKING ALONG HIGHWAY

Driver and Helper Fail to See Victim.

Neeltje Van Es, 13 years old, was struck and killed late yesterday afternoon in Halsted street opposite the Washington Park race track, near Homewood, by a truck driven by James Hardman of Brazil, Ind.

Halsted street at that point, just north of Ridge road, between East Hazel Crest and Thornton, is a four lane highway, Illinois route 1. The child was walking north in the outer of the two southbound lanes. The truck was traveling south.

Admit Failure to See Child.

Hardman, driver for the R. & M. Trucking company of Brazil, and his helper on the truck, Albert Goodnight, also of Brazil, were taken into custody by county highway police of the Homewood station. They told police that they failed to see the child in the path of the truck.

The police had no theory as to why the child did not see the truck in time to step out of its way. She had left Central school, Homewood, and was within a block of her home at 17801 South Halsted street, when she was killed.

Hardman and Goodnight were held without charge for an inquest at 9:30 a. m. today at 2035 Ridge road, Homewood.

Brother of Sherif Killed.

Louis Kampmeyer, 60 years old, a brother of Sherif Albert J. Kampmeyer of Kane county, was killed last evening when a milk truck he was driving was struck on the Wayne road crossing, four miles southeast of Elgin, by a westbound Chicago, Aurora and Elgin train.

The train carried the truck onto the third rail and it caught fire. The body of Kampmeyer was burned in the vehicle. Kampmeyer, who was a bachelor, operated a dairy farm near the scene of the accident.

Continue Crash Inquest.

An inquest into the deaths of Mrs. Marie Vierson, 27 years old, 10718 South Michigan avenue, and Miss Alice Statkus, 19 years old, 715 West 120th street, was continued yesterday to allow police opportunity to obtain witnesses.

LeRoy J. Vierson, former husband of Mrs. Vierson, was driving the car in which both women were killed Wednesday night when it struck a fire plug at Halsted and 108th streets.

Vierson, who escaped uninjured, admitted driving at an excessive speed. He said he was divorced from his wife but that she lived with him and his parents. A fourth occupant of the car, Raymond Coughlin, 29 years old, 12121 Normal avenue, incurred a broken arm and bruises.

Another Victim Dies.

William Witt, 55 years old, 745 South State street, struck Wednesday night by a hit and run driver in the 2200 block on South Michigan avenue, died yesterday. His skull was fractured.

Mrs. Edith McDonough, 37 years old, of Long Lake, died yesterday of injuries suffered Saturday when she drove her car into the side of a Milwaukee railroad train at a crossing in Wilson, two miles west of Waukegan. Mrs. McDonough's daughter, Lucille, 17, riding with her, was killed instantly.

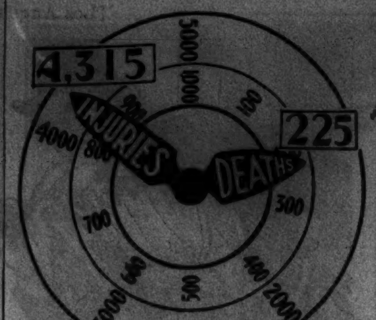
Killed While Driving Alone.

Early yesterday, Mrs. Edith Finnell Anderson, 46, of Geneva, was found dead in the wreckage of her automobile, twisted against a tree on Roosevelt road, one-quarter mile west of West Chicago. Testimony at the inquest indicated she lost control of her car, and it skidded off the road.

At 4 p. m. yesterday 274 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. During the same period 225 were killed and 4,315 persons injured within the city limits of Chicago.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

Daughter of W. B. Wanzer Is Granted a Divorce

Mrs. Phyllis Wanzer Carr, 7015 East End avenue, daughter of the late W. B. Wanzer, dairy company executive, was granted a divorce yesterday by Superior Judge Rudolph Desort from Richard H. Carr, automobile salesman. She testified they were married on Nov. 20, 1934, in an elopement to Waukegan and that her husband deserted her on Jan. 13, 1935.

DE KALB BOOSTS DRIVE TO OBTAIN ELEVATED ROAD

Project Urged for Safety and Economy.

BY HAL FOUST.

De Kalb, Ill., April 16.—[Special.]—Leaders of De Kalb this afternoon adopted a resolution asking the mayor and council of Chicago and the governor and legislature of Illinois to begin construction promptly on an elevated highway system in the metropolis.

This city of 8,500 population, 62 miles west of the loop, would improve its motor transportation facilities with Chicago for safety as well as economic reasons. Business and social errands take local residents to Chicago frequently and they find that the most difficult and dangerous part of the trip is within Chicago.

Reduced Costs Predicted.

"Furthermore," said W. P. Hiland, mayor of De Kalb, "a large portion of the farm produce from hereabouts is marketed in Chicago and the transportation cost saps the farmers' profits. And the transportation costs come from the profit of local merchants who receive well over half of their goods from Chicago by truck. An elevated highway system would reduce these transportation costs."

"Also," added Glen W. Reynolds, secretary of the De Kalb Chamber of Commerce, "we are close enough to Chicago that with any improvement in automobile travel conditions this vicinity will become a more desirable residence for Chicago business men who wish to enjoy a country home."

Urges Forty Foot Road.

"An elevated highway," said R. K. Dallas, president of the chamber, "is needed as an adequate terminal facility for the Lincoln highway. We also need a forty foot road from here to the Fox river valley, the present western limits of the four lane pavements."

E. E. Embree, lumber and coal merchant and a member of the Kiwanis club's safety committee, said that similar resolutions indorsing Chicago's proposed elevated highways will be presented for adoption by the De Kalb city council, its chamber of commerce and its civic clubs. Today's action was taken at a meeting called by the Chicago Motor club.

Part of Safety Program.

Frank W. Greenaway, a member of the Chamber of Commerce good roads committee, said that the indorsement of the elevated highway proposal was in keeping with other safety activities of this organization. G. L. Sims, district manager of the Illinois Northern Utilities company, nodded assent.

This was the third meeting outside of Chicago called by the Chicago Motor club to obtain the sentiment of all northern Illinois toward the elevated highway plans. The Fox river valley cities indorsed the proposal in a session at St. Charles, and Joliet expressed itself similarly at a recent luncheon there. Other meetings are to follow.

FATAL ACCIDENTS GAIN 17 PCT., BUT AUTO TOLL DROPS

Springfield, Ill., April 16.—(AP)—Fatal accidents of all kinds in Illinois during the first two months this year increased 17 per cent over the same period in 1935, Dr. Frank J. Jirka, state director of public health, said today.

He declared the gain was due to the severe winter weather. Thirty-seven deaths were attributed to exposure, 34 to asphyxiation and 45 to being trapped in burning buildings, while the same three causes brought only 34 deaths last year. However, Jirka said, fatalities in auto accidents had dropped 10 per cent.

SENDS 2 CO-EDS TO SEE VICTIMS OF AUTO MISHAPS

Miss Jean Gregory, 17 years old, 421 Melrose street, a Northwestern university student, and Miss Jeanne Howard, 20 years old, 5515 Blackstone avenue, a University of Chicago student, were among 28 young automobile speeders who were sent on a tour of the fracture wards of the County hospital, where there are many trafic accident victims, yesterday by Judge John Gutknecht of the Trafic court. Miss Gregory contributed $4 and Miss Howard $3 to a fund for needy accident victims.

Howard Snorf, 42 years old, 818 North Grove avenue, Oak Park, protested to Judge Gutknecht yesterday that West North avenue police put him in a cell when he was unable to make bond immediately on a speeding charge. The judge fined Snorf $6, then rebuked the police for "treating a respectable citizen like a criminal."

Adolph Szawica, 19 years old, 1239 Fry street, was fined $100 yesterday by Judge J. M. Braude in Boys' court on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. The judge indicated he would vacate the fine if Szawica paid for the damage he caused to the window of a florist shop at 1237 West Chicago avenue.

A SETBACK FOR THE GRAND SNOOP.

Senator Hugo Black and his associates on the lobby committee—Minton of Indiana, Schwellenbach of Washington, Gibson of Vermont, and Frazier of North Dakota—at last got a bit too strong even for the house of representatives. An appropriation to make immediately available $10,000 as a special fee for Attorney Crampton Harris of Birmingham, Ala., was voted down by 153 to 137.

Harris is a former law partner of Black. Black wanted him as counsel for the committee defense in the injunction proceedings brought by Mr. Hearst to protect his telegrams and papers from being hooked and netted by the lobby investigators on a fishing expedition. Under the law no employé of an investigating committee can be paid more than $3,600 annually. The fee to Harris was to be a down payment and, as protesting congressmen said, there was no stipulation that it was to be in full.

The amount of the fee was not the chief issue in the action taken by the house, although it was the direct one. Members of the house of representatives must all go into the elections this fall to retain their seats. They know that Mr. Black and his inquisitors are giving congress the worst reputation it has had in years. The lobby has been so contemptuous of the constitutional rights of private citizens that it has become notorious as the spearhead of governmental tyranny.

No citizen could safely predict for himself that any privilege and immunity granted him by his laws could be relied upon if the federal government started out to get him. Although he had imagined himself secure in his person, property, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, the Black senators were asserting their right to seize him and all his effects any time they wanted to turn him inside out to discover what, if anything, they could use against him.

The inquisitors had not only tried their own catch-all subpena processes but they had applied to the federal communications commission to use its authority over the wires and take up millions of private messages.

Although the senate has some members to whom the dragooning of American citizenship must be abhorrent, that body was not disciplining its turbulent and willful members. Only part of the senate must stand for reëlection this year and, moreover, senators are notoriously tolerant of the misdeeds of their associates. In mutual indulgence the senators give each other the wildest license.

Inasmuch as Senator Black was bringing odium upon congress as a whole and arousing in the electorate a justified fear of the entire legislative body, the members of the lower house would have to stand the gaff and each in his district answer for the usurpations and lawless conduct of the five men in the senate unless disavowed by him.

If some of the Democratic house leaders hadn't pleaded for gentler treatment of the senatorial correspondence snatchers the vote would have been a more thoroughgoing condemnation of the outfit of swashbucklers and constitution tramplers.

Mr. Black has said that the courts are powerless to stop him. That remains to be seen. It is also still an issue in congress whether his methods shall be indorsed and extended into amendments granting new authority to the federal trade commission to take a similar high hand against any corporation, partnership, or individual it desires to investigate. If the house has anything like a change of heart it will not give Mr. Black's methods root in the growth in the federal trade commission.

THE SCRAMBLED EGGS.

Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the national Republican committee, has gathered together a number of conservative economists from the universities and asked them to study the scrambled eggs of the New Deal monetary and economic acts. The men selected are known for their opposition to the advice and the advisers influencing the administration's conduct. There are professors and professors. The Republican group is not composed of brain trusters. It includes Saxon of Yale, Bullock and Carver of Harvard, Hobson of Wisconsin, Gane of Northwestern, and other faculty men opposed to revolutionary economics.

Experts will be required to determine the full affect and meaning of the bewildering New Deal assault upon orthodox finance and economy. The scrambled eggs will have to be unscrambled by any administration succeeding the Roosevelt government, and the longer that government continues the harder will be the task. So it is a wise thing to start the study at once and make preparation for the long time job that will be somebody's hair thinning responsibility later on. Getting into the calamity could be undertaken with a smile. There will be long faces on the men who try to get out. The United States will have a bill to pay when the Roosevelt joy ride is over and every mile out will seem like ten coming back.

HUMAN NEEDS AND WASHINGTON POLITICIANS.

The Illinois Emergency Relief commission is to shut up shop May 1. Thereafter for two months relief is to be administered by the counties and, under a law taking effect after July 1, the townships will be in charge, except in the city of Chicago, which will have the responsibility. Warning is given that these various shifts will cause a great deal of suffering and confusion unless better provision and preparation are made.

For the local care of the needy a great deal can be said. In ordinary times each community is reasonably supposed to know how to handle the situation. Relief was taken over by the federal government because it alone could get the money for so great a problem. The federal treasury was depleting the sources of state funds. Some states are habitually impoverished for one reason or another and have been unable to rise to the emergency; consequently the fairest thing was for the central government to take charge of all. An administration of the federal relief was organized in each state and the task of seeing that the impoverished were housed, clothed, fed, and given medical care was undertaken.

Such relief could be regarded as a primary obligation on the government, but it was entirely too simple for the New Dealers. It was too commonplace for their genius. Their theory was that unemployment and poverty could be banished by their various social and economic reforms. Their principal concern was not with the needs of people unable to support themselves, but with makeover of government. They asserted that they had the cure and, having dosed the country with their remedies, they next proclaimed that the cure had been successful.

If the patient were well again, the administration of relief could cease. The patient wasn't well. There are even more unemployed, but that didn't stop Harry Hopkins and the other political medicos. They say they know a well man when they see him and that he has been restored to health by WPA and the rest of the alphabetical combinations.

If the fears of relief officials are borne out by consequences in the next few months the basic responsibility will be on the Washington radicals who dropped a program which did not satisfy their ambitions and devoted themselves to hurtful schemes in which zeal for meddling and wastefulness was combined with the buying of votes.

Mr. Hopkins is a bullheaded man whose high place in the New Deal was won by his ability to waste more money in quicker time on more absurd undertakings than any other mischievous wit in Washington could think of. The scandal of the political manipulation of funds under his control is growing and to it may be added the scandal of the uncared for destitute.

INSIDE LOOKING OUT.

In his speech before the transportation conference at Detroit recently Federal Coördinator of Transportation Eastman observed that many people thought that government regulation had strangled enterprise in red tape.

"I tried to find out about that by asking the railroads themselves to tell me from what restrictions they wish relief," continued Mr. Eastman. "The striking thing about their response was that they asked for so little. Their proposals left untouched most of the vital parts of the present scheme of regulation. . . . What they did ask had largely to do with the regulation of rates."

Mr. Eastman should visit the penitentiary at Stateville. There he will find a population fully regulated as to hours of service, diet, and dress. Yet if he will ask one of the inmates what he desires in the way of relief the reply will also be very simple. Merely a key—or perhaps only a file.

Control of their sources of revenue through the liberty of making their own rates is the key to the whole railway problem. Without it the railways can to a very limited extent improve their "motive power, cars, tracks, stations, stops, or other facilities." If the boon is so insignificant as to cause Mr. Eastman surprise, why not grant it?

Editorial of the Day

NOT FOR HEARST'S SAKE.
[Birmingham, Ala., Age-Herald.]

Senator Lewis B. Schwellenbach, the sharp tongued first term Democrat from the state of Washington, no more than Senator Black relishes the recent challenges of the telegram seizing of the senate lobby investigating committee of which they both are members.

Publisher Hearst is one of the challengers. And the alert Senator Schwellenbach, quick to try to take advantage of what seems to him a fine opening, sees an illuminating inconsistency in the fact that many other publishers and editors have supported this particular stand by Mr. Hearst.

Once, says Senator Schwellenbach, most other publishers condemned Mr. Hearst. Now, he says, Hearst has become their "plumed knight leader."

Doubtless the senator believes he has scored heavily by this neat thrust. Perhaps he goes so far as to believe that the simple fact that Mr. Hearst has challenged the committee is enough to establish its virtue. Perhaps he thinks that those newspapers which have also taken the Hearst stand in this episode are only revealing at last that they, too, belong in the same category with that particular publisher.

But one wonders whether it has ever occurred to this defender of the people from the great open spaces that it may not be in devotion to Mr. Hearst that numerous other newspaper men back up his stand against wholesale telegram seizing. The very fact that they formerly had no admiration for Mr. Hearst and still probably feel exactly the same way about him, of course, makes their position exceedingly significant. But it is not significant in the way seen by the senator.

Mr. Hearst can sometimes be right. It is in defense of the obvious right, however, rather than of Mr. Hearst himself that the publishers act.

The senator would have done better by his committee if he had not called attention to this unusual alliance with Hearst. It makes Hearst look good and the committee look bad.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

YES INDEED! I plumb forgot it. In speaking of there being no crying need for the new dictionary containing five hundred thousand words when the vocabulary of most of us is confined to "okay," "alritie," and "okiedokie" I quite forgot an equally important word, "swell." Everything is "swell" from Whistler's "Portrait of My Mother" down to a hunk of custard pie that one gets at an Eatie Shopple. The Grand Canyon of the Colorado, sunrise in the Swiss Alps, Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, a hot dog sandwich on rye bread, a hurdy-gurdy playing in the alley, and all sorts of other things need none of the five hundred thousand words in the new dictionary to describe them—they're all "swell." Shakespeare was in luck that he died several hundred years ago; how it would have grieved him if he had heard people who were coming from a performance of "Hamlet" saying the one to the other, "Well, say, that was certainly a swell play." And if anybody writes to me and says that this was a swell piece I had in the Line I'm going to turn the letter over to the United States postal authorities. But what's the use? If the government sent 'em to Leavenworth they'd be sure to stop outside the great prison as they were being taken in, give it the once-over, and then say, "Oh, what a swell jail!"

A PILGRIM TELLETH HOW HE ENCOUNTERED A STRANGER.

The wind was wilder, I tell you, than grief;
He was tossed and torn like a broken leaf;
His face in the wind was white and dim,
But he spoke to me, and I spoke to him.

Little one, shift
The weight of your pack;
The load is large
For an untried back.

The load is heavy,
Master, indeed;
The way is darkening,
And I bleed.

Yield me your pack;
It is much for you;
Who bears one burden
Can carry two.

Thou bearest all,
And all are the same.
Master, Master,
I faint for shame.

Little one, hush;
I have more than might.
Love is my burden,
And love is light.

He took my pack and he set me free,
But I saw him bleed when he stooped to me.

DOROTHY KISSLING.

"WISECRACKING Weakens Mind, Canadian Says."—Headline. But doesn't the weak mind cause wisecracking? Which comes first—the wisecracker or a weak mind? This seems to be fully as debatable a subject as the one about whether the chicken or the egg was the first arrival.

"SCIENTISTS IN STOCKHOLM Produce Temperature of 500,000 Degrees, Highest Ever Attained."—Headline. Not so! If a thermometer was shoved under the collar of a lot of people paying the New Deal taxes it would be discovered they were a lot hotter than that.

SINCE SENATOR BLACK can't get ten thousand bucks to continue his great work of opening my private telegrams I want to explain to him that the xxxxxxxx's he found in my last telegram didn't mean what he thought it did. It was addressed to H. H. Smitters, Painted Post, Neb., and for all he knew that H. H. might have stood for Hortense Honoria and he would say, "Ha, ha, xxxxxxxx's for Hortense Honoria." Not at all; the H. H. stands for Hiram Henry and he is a fat man with long whiskers, who chews tobacco and has a chronic grouch. The xxxxxxxx's in that telegram were simply a part of the message I crossed out. But I was afraid the telegraph operator put them in and sent them and I have been worried because Sen. Black might figure out that H. H. Smitters was a lady and get me all wrong. But when you think somebody else is reading your telegrams, of course you do a lot of imagining and get terribly worried.

ADVICE FROM EXPERIENCE.

Walk along a narrow road,
Notice not the warmth of sun,
Nor the star-filled night.

Moonlight on a darkling lake
Makes one weak in heart.
Walk straight as a willow wand,
Hold yourself apart.

Lift not your eyes to any man,
Be as carved of stone.
Give not your heart to any man,
He'll always keep his own.

Yours will be a lonely life,
But 'twill be safe from fears.
And winding paths across the fields
Only end in tears.

CAMILLA BOWMAN.

AND THE PRIMARIES being over we are commencing to hear again of a certain Franklin Delano Roosevelt who was lost sight of when brother Democrats were beating other brother Democrats over the head with big clubs. But that's all over and Mr. Roosevelt comes out of the storm cave.

SOME FACTS ABOUT FOODS.

ONE of the worst of the food fads is that which loads the digestive tract with great quantities of roughage—usually in an attempt to reduce weight or to relieve constipation. We must not forget that man is not a grass-eating animal and that the human digestive apparatus cannot dissolve an appreciable amount of cellulose [vegetable fiber]. Nevertheless, people will insist upon taking foods which bulge the intestinal tube, some of which are almost as digestible as sawdust.

Constipation often leads either to the adoption of a diet containing an excess of cellulose or to the use of cathartics, many of which may make the condition worse. People differ as to habit, but it is not absolutely essential that the colon shall be emptied each day. Most cathartics depend for their action upon the power to irritate the intestinal wall, thus producing an accumulation of water within the bowel.

Every general diet should contain well cooked fresh vegetables, but in the presence of an irritable colon it may be necessary to strain or pulp them. The ordinary vegetable sieve is a helpful piece of kitchen equipment. Through its use the important parts of vegetables will be retained and the irritating fractions dispensed with.

Fruits and salads form a part of almost every reducing diet and are valuable as such. But we cannot make up our entire menu from these materials, inasmuch as they are lacking in too many food essentials.

Reducing diets that are composed largely of milk and milk products lead to a type of starvation which is attended, in the largest percentage of cases, with an obstinate constipation. This in turn may compel the laxative habit. Rather than use laxatives at all six ounces of warm olive oil may be injected slowly into the rectum at night and the unabsorbed portion removed by a plain water enema the day following. This as an occasional procedure affords a hygienic means of emptying the colon.

Another fad which is harmful to many is the no-breakfast or no-lunch habit. Some persons are not hungry in the morning for the reason that the stomach has not emptied completely during the so-called rest or sleep period. Sometimes the tongue is badly furred because the mouth and teeth have not been properly cleansed before retiring or because a late evening lunch has left débris behind.

All meals should be taken regularly and without hurry. Large meals are likely to distend the stomach unduly and place an excess load on the liver and the digestive functions in general. The four meal schedule is far closer to nature's scheme of things than the two meal plan. If three meals is your habit, stick to it, but balance them in quantity so that breakfast will be between one-third and one-half in bulk and nutrition that of the heaviest meal; the noon meal may be even a bit lighter than breakfast unless one's occupation calls for considerable muscular activity.

Night suppers, as a rule, represent an excess amount of food that the body does not need. Furthermore, they are usually eaten at a time when there is considerable mental excitement accompanied by body fatigue. It is a well known fact that in the presence of physical exhaustion food is not digested well.

The American habit of bolting food—satisfying hunger in ten minutes—not only invites the swallowing of air which distends the stomach, but prevents an intimate mixing of the food with the gastric secretions.

Many people consider meat harmful. They believe that it causes high blood pressure, kidney disease, and a host of other ills; hence the rise of the so-called vegetarian diet. The fact is that when properly prepared meat is one of our best foods; and roasting is the most desirable method of preparation.

Of course there are no real vegetarians. The human digestive tract is not built so that the body can be nourished by vegetables alone, and we find that most so-called vegetarian menus include eggs, milk, and cheese. In this way sufficient protein is provided. If we depended upon potatoes, for example, for the protein needed by the average adult, ten pounds each day would be required.

MAY BE MENTAL.

J. F. E. writes: I have been troubled with gas, indigestion, nervousness, constipation, loss of weight, dizziness, and a feeling of insecurity in the legs when standing up. I have been told that it is colitis, infection in the intestines, heart trouble, etc., but three doctors have told me I have thyroid gland trouble. I am 33 years old. Will an enlarged thyroid cause these symptoms? Do you think removing the thyroid a good plan?

REPLY.

Your symptoms indicate lack of good mental hygiene rather than a definite disease. Diet and exercise and rigid mental discipline will probably do you more good than "doctoring." However, in order to eliminate the possibility of organic disease you should have a thorough examination, including a metabolic test [for thyroid sufficiency]. The symptoms of hyperthyroidism include extreme nervousness, muscular tremors, heart palpitation, and shortness of breath on exertion. Only your physician can advise treatment.

WATERY EYES.

Miss R. R. writes: Last spring my eyes were watery and ran continuously. My friends said it was hay fever and advised me to wear dark glasses. I did and my eyes stopped watering. Now I am beginning to get the condition again. Is there anything that can be done about it? Is it hay fever?

REPLY.

This is a fairly common complaint and is probably a manifestation of hay fever. You are sensitive to some of the early spring pollens. There are tests to determine just what substance is bothering you. Vaccines and other methods of treatment can be used by your physician. If your eye symptoms [conjunctivitis] are due to dust, colored glasses will help.

RECOVERY THE RULE.

G. T. writes: A relative of mine, 51 years old, has had pus in the kidneys for over two years. She has her kidneys irrigated once a month, but she is not getting any better. All her teeth were extracted over two years ago. Is there any hope for recovery?

REPLY.

There are many useful urinary antiseptics. Some of these should be tried. Every effort should be made to build the general health to a high level. If irrigation is not successful, surgical drainage of the kidneys should be considered. Recovery is the rule.

From Across the Sea

BY NORMAN INGREY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile.—South American discussions and preparations regarding President Roosevelt's continental peace conference have revived an old and bitter argument: What is America and who is an American?

New world Latins object to citizens of the United States calling themselves Americans to the exclusion of all other inhabitants in this sphere and occasionally have registered their objections diplomatically.

Unfortunately for them, as has frequently been pointed out, the official designation of their northern neighbor is the United States of America, so laid down in the constitution and with no alternative title. This makes United States citizens Americans.

According to La Prensa, Buenos Aires daily, with the largest Spanish language circulation in the world, Americans have not even the right to be known as North Americans. It criticized a contemporary for having referred to Franklin D. Roosevelt as "President of North America."

La Prensa pointed out, with all geographical correctness, that North America commences at Tehuantepec isthmus and continues on through Mexico, the United States and Canada into the polar regions. Without developing the argument and explaining such details as to what is actually the United States, it delved into the older and larger question as to what is America and who is an American. It said in effect:

"The use of the word 'American' should be common to every inhabitant of the continent, native or naturalized. But we still see, even in official documents, the term 'United States of America,' which is a false designation, for on this continent there are the United States of Mexico, the United States of Venezuela and the United States of Brazil, all of whom might claim the title with equal justice."

La Prensa voiced another grouch. It objected to the visits "so frequently made" by some presidents elect of Latin America to the capital of the United States prior to taking charge of their exalted posts.

"It looks as though it were absolutely necessary to receive some kind of ratification of their appointment from the White House," it was complained. The editorial also stated:

"Generally speaking, there would appear to be something strange about this and even contrary to the equal status which all countries of this hemisphere are supposed to enjoy and to the spirit of independence which should inspire the actions of their supreme heads."

La Prensa illustrated its argument with the case of the president elect of Cuba, who was strongly opposed by his adversaries because of his close affiliations with the United States and who, when passing through Panama on his way to confer with President Roosevelt, attributed Cuban economic revival to the new treaty with Washington.

The Argentine newspaper said this was bound to lead to fresh and well founded objections on the part of the opposition, "for which reason, among others, such visits to Washington are not to be recommended."

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

ASSETS OF ESTATE.

Chicago, March 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Father died a year ago leaving everything to his wife by will. The estate being small and no claims against it, the will was not probated as this was agreed upon by the three surviving children. My brother and I were named as [1] administrators of the estate. Among the personal property left to mother was a number of shares of common stock of a small closed Chicago corporation issued in the name of my father. 2. The assignment forms on back of the certificates were never signed in blank by father before he died. Mother now wishes to sell these shares of stock and the writer would like to know [3] what procedure to follow in this respect, bearing in mind the stock is still registered in father's name. 4. Will it be necessary to probate the will? 5. Has any stockholder the right to demand an audit at the corporation's expense, considering that an annual statement has never been furnished stockholders and that they feel it necessary to protect their interest in the corporation? 6. To demand this would it be necessary to get a court order and [7] if so what is the procedure? C. A. C.

1. Executor is the proper term where there is a will.

2. Even if he had signed, such a power of attorney would be revoked by his death.

3. Ask the transfer officers of the corporation for a statement of the requirements. You may be able to persuade them to waive probate.

4. Yes, if they insist.

5. No.

6. Yes.

7. You state no facts to indicate that you could succeed with such a demand.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CITIZENSHIP STATUS.

Chicago, April 10. — [Friend of the People.]—Having entered this country from Germany at the age of 15, I would like to become an American citizen as soon as I can. I am little in doubt as to how I can become one. I am 22 years of age and was married at the age of 21 to an American girl. 1. Can I apply for second papers without a first paper? 2. Where do I have to go to apply for my second papers? 3. What is the price? 4. What questions are being asked? 5. If my father, who is here, was a citizen before I reached my 21st birthday, did I become one also? W. D.

1. If the inquirer was married to an American citizen after 12 noon, eastern standard time, May 24, 1934, he may apply for final papers without a declaration of intention [first paper].

2. An application blank may be obtained at room 718 New Postoffice building.

3. The naturalization fees are $2.50 for a certificate of arrival, $2.50 for filing a declaration of intention, and $5 for filing a petition for citizenship.

4. It is suggested that the inquirer attend one of the classes in citizenship training being conducted free of charge throughout the city under the supervision of the public schools.

5. If the father was naturalized during the inquirer's minority, the inquirer would be a citizen, provided he was legally admitted to the United States for permanent residence at the time of his arrival at the age of 15. FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,

THOUGHTS ON HEARING MR. ROOSEVELT.

Chicago, April 14.—It would have been more fitting and natural for the President last evening to have gathered the Democratic youth of America around his fireside in Washington and there to have imparted to them in true grandfatherly fashion contemplated plans for their future—planned as only the brain trust could plan.

Now, after three years of inactivity, the New Dealers propose to help youth. If these proposals are as effective as some of the now extinct alphabets, youth has little to hope for. Those now at or approaching the voting age remember only too well these last three years, and know that in three more years [of brain trust experimenting] many thousands more will have reached the voting age with slender prospects for employment. They also know that the younger are always preferred when inexperienced workers are required.

If the administration plans a greater PWA to include youth, the glorified pick and shovel will become [if it is not already] a symbol of future expectations and attainment.

Does the President, in raising the age of compulsory education, intend to set up a collegiate NRA, or, by enforcing a retirement age, propose unconstitutionally to decree operators or partners of enterprises useless? He overlooks the fact, "as you know and I know," that nearly all of the Supreme court justices and even some of his very own rubber stamp congressmen would be forced into inactivity. Did not his original cabinet contain more than one person above 65 years of age?

It is true, as he said, youth dreams and should dream, but it is doubtful if it absorbs pipe dreams.

The promoters of these enthusiastic Jefferson birthday gatherings overlooked an important item in their gala program. Since they so underestimated the intelligence of American youth they should have at least also passed out lollypops and copies of Grimm's Fairy Tales, thus convincing youth [in New Deal logic] that the brain trust is producing an ecstatic Utopia. S. F.

Chicago, April 14.—"I say to you 'Do something, and when you have done that something, if it works, do it some more; and if it does not work, do something else.'"—Roosevelt at Baltimore, April 13.

That is to say: Borrow the people's money and plunge our country into debt; if it works, borrow some more and keep it up as long as you can get by with it; and if [or when] it does not work, do something else—confiscate the savings through taxation of food, clothing, real estate, personal property, income or anything else they have.

Get the saps' money somehow and splurge it around with fantastic promises. They'll fall for it, and the next election will be cinched. J. A. BOYD.

KENTUCKY PRECEDENT.

Chicago, April 13.—We notice with amusement that the some 17,000 Kentucky colonels, appointed by former governors of Kentucky, have been demoted and relegated to private life, and hereafter such honors, so conferred, will last only so long as the official term of the donor.

Would it not be well for our universities in conferring honorary degrees on politicians and members of their families —either to advertise their college or because of the recipients' political prominence—to limit such honors to the political term of the recipients?

It is getting so that honorary degrees bestowed without merit are no more of an honor than the flowers at a gangster funeral, or a D. S. M. on a swivel chair general. What is the matter with the dignity of our "institutions of higher learning"? HENRY LARSEN.

BAYONET HOLDERS.

Chicago, April 14.—I am constrained to reply to the editorial of April 13 which was captioned "Bayonet Holders."

In refutation to your statement that hand-to-hand fighting is an infrequent incident of modern warfare and that the rifle and bayonet are ineffective weapons, I am endeavoring to show that the opposite is true.

In the world war, with explosives developed to unprecedented destructiveness, it was proven conclusively that the enemy cannot be blasted from his entrenched or fortified positions. Field fortification development has more than kept pace against shell-fire. Only through the will and resolution for personal hand-to-hand combat, supported by artillery fire, can the enemy be ejected from his entrenched position and the victory finally be won. Only with the infantry, or men armed with the rifle and bayonet, can positions be won and held.

The German offensive power was shattered in their last futile drive, the Champagne-Marne drive. German supplies were low, their reserves were consumed, and the appearance of fresh and aggressive American troops broke the German morale. Their strategy was to withdraw their armies without disorganization and fight only rearguard and delaying actions. That is why Americans saw little use for the rifle and bayonet.

The army has developed a semi-automatic rifle for each soldier which increases his fire greatly.

Lieutenant, ORC, United States Army.

Chicago, April 13.—Your editorial on "Bayonet Holders" settles the long argument about who won the war and settles it as any intelligent soldier has always insisted.

A million of our soldiers in France and two-thirds of them unable to contact the enemy. And the artillery is only effective after it can reach a good position, find something to shoot at and accomplish its purpose before it in turn is shelled out.

Then who won the war? The M. P.'s.
WILLIAM C. DORE.

SYMPHONY OR BASEBALL?

Chicago, April 13.—May I not ask THE TRIBUNE to confer a favor on thousands of music lovers who have just been deprived of three or four concerts by the New York Philharmonic orchestra [Toscanini conducting, as a rule] because, forsooth, the baseball season has opened? Must we music lovers stand aside in order to make room for fans who enjoy baseball without seeing it?

The millions of fans have rights which the radio stations are justified in considering. But their season is long, and the symphony season is short. We are entitled, I think, to the few remaining concerts of the great New York orchestra under its brilliant conductor. Will not some station take over these concerts? Why not THE TRIBUNE, which has given us so much fine music? Noblesse oblige, you know.

It is a minor outrage abruptly to discontinue the concerts in question without a word of explanation or apology. Doubtless there is no good explanation to offer. The majority should not always rule. The cultivated and enlightened minorities deserve decent treatment. V. S. Y.

FIFTY FIFTY.

HEAR CLEANERS' APPEAL IN FIGHT ON PRICE FIXING

Judges Reserve Decision After Arguments.

After hearing final arguments the Illinois Appellate court took under advisement yesterday the long pending appeal of six independent cleaning and dyeing concerns from the price fixing injunction issued last July in behalf of the Cleaning and Dyeing Plant Owners' Association of Chicago.

The injunction was issued by Judge Benjamin P. Epstein in the Circuit court. It set a minimum price for cleaning a dress or suit at 90 cents, when called for and delivered, and at 75 cents for cash and carry trade. After one independent had been found guilty of contempt for violating the injunction and appealed, it was agreed the injunction would not be enforced pending the Appellate court's ruling.

Injunction Illegal, Claim.

In the hearing yesterday Attorney Irving Breakstone, counsel for the independent cleaners, reiterated his contention that the injunction is unconstitutional and denies the right of free competition. He argued that there is no specific law enabling a court to determine prices in an industry and that Judge Epstein had acted arbitrarily in signing the injunction order.

Attorneys William Jaffe and George S. Lavin argued in behalf of the plant owners' association that the independents were guilty of a conspiracy to ruin the industry and that the injunction should be upheld for the benefit of all. They contended that the right of free competition is not absolute but is subject to regulation by the courts.

At one point Justice Denis E. Sullivan asked: "Where does the court get the right to fix prices? Are there limitations on the rights of individuals to engage in free competition with each other?"

Presiding Judge Comments.

"When I practiced before the commerce commission they put people in jail for scheming to fix prices," Presiding Justice Ross C. Hall commented.

"The court is human and must take note of existing facts," interrupted Justice Oscar Hebel on another occasion. "I see stores advertising cleaning at 29 cents. How is this possible when the court has determined the minimum price at which it could profitably be done is 75 cents?"

Also before the Appellate court is the appeal of Edward A. Fink, president of the Peacock Cleaners and Dyers, one of the independents, who was sentenced to six months in the county jail for contempt of court by Judge Harry M. Fisher.

RELEASE YOUTH IN BRIDEWELL.

Bernard Yukinis, 20 years old, 120 Kensington avenue, who was sentenced on March 3 to serve six months in the Bridewell on a larceny charge, was released yesterday by Judge J. M. Braude in the Boys' court. He will remain under supervision of the court.

PUPILS STRIKE; TEACHERS, 2 ON BOARD MAY QUIT

Leaf River, Ill., April 16.—[Special.]—This village of 400 inhabitants was in turmoil today over the proposed dismissal of Principal Stanley Finifrock at the end of the term because he allegedly was spending too much money.

The entire student body of 100 went on strike and paraded through the streets in a protest against the dismissal which the school board approved last night by a vote of 3 to 2.

Every store in town planned to close tonight while another parade and a massmeeting are held. All the teachers in the school and the two dissenting school board members announced they would resign if the principal is not retained.

Strikers Picket 10 Schools.

Hazleton, Pa., April 16.—[Special.]—Marching to the music of their own band and accompanied by adult sympathizers, striking students today picketed Hazle township schools in a protest against the dismissal of twelve instructors.

WEST COAST SEAMEN ENLIST IN SUPPORT OF SAN FRANCISCO UNIT

San Francisco, Cal., April 16.—(AP)—The Pacific coast district of the International Longshoremen's association today pledged itself to stand by the local unit, headed by Harry Bridges, militant longshore leader, in its labor dispute with the Waterfront Employers' association.

William J. Lewis, president of the district, announced its support of the Bridges group and also extended a peace offer to the employers to settle the tense situation which has tied up the Grace liner Santa Rosa here.

SENDS 3 TO JAIL FOR BANK NIGHT FRAUD AT MOVIE

Charles Romano, 38 years old, a former convict, and Patsy Pellegrini, 28 years old, and his wife, Pauline, 24 years old, were found guilty of attempting to commit a crime yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan.

Romano was the holder of the winning ticket on a bank night at the Symphony theater, 4937 West Chicago avenue. The Pellegrinis collaborated in drawing from a hopper the duplicate which designated Romano the winner of $350. Albert Blaske, theater manager, found the hopper was filled with duplicates of Romano's number.

Judge Hartigan sentenced Romano to six months in the Bridewell, and the Pellegrinis to 15 days each. Romano admitted the scheme was suggested to him by a friend, but would not name him. Blaske said he had not been able to discover how the duplicates were placed in the hopper.

Woman Attacked by Sheep; Knee Joint Is Fractured

West Branch, Ia., April 16.—[Special.]—Mrs. Albert Pedersen of West Branch suffered a fractured knee joint when she was attacked by a sheep as she was feeding a lamb in the barnyard. Her daughter rescued her from the animal and she was taken to an Iowa City hospital for surgical attention.

BRIBERY CHARGE FOUND AGAINST POLICE CAPTAIN

Cleveland, O., April 16.—(AP)—Judge Frederick P. Walther and Assistant Prosecutor Charles McNamee announced today that the Cuyahoga county grand jury had voted a bribery indictment against Police Captain Louis J. Cadek. The grand jury has been investigating bank deposits totaling $109,000 which Cadek made in three prohibition years on a $3,500 annual salary.

Thirty-four witnesses appeared before the jury as it studied Cadek's accounts in several savings and loan companies, which Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan said were made under four different names.

The captain, a veteran of nearly 30 years' service, was relieved from duty without pay Monday by Police Chief George Matowitz.

Cadek has asserted the funds involved were "legal money" and his attorney charged political foes for reasons of "personal malice" arranged to make Cadek the object of the investigation. The income tax division has conducted an independent investigation of Cadek's finances.

TRIES SUICIDE; FACES COURT.

John Shanahan, 23 years old, 6252 South Spaulding avenue, a clerk, will be arraigned in the Stockyards court today on a charge of disorderly conduct as a result of his attempted suicide in his home yesterday.

JURY TAMPERING CHARGE UPSETS BABY HOAX CASE

Declare Mistrial; Defense Denies Accusation.

Kahoka, Mo., April 16.—[Special.]—The sensation packed criminal conspiracy trial involving the famous "gift of God" baby was declared a mistrial today after a juror told Circuit Judge Walter A. Higbee he had been offered $100 to hang the jury.

The juror, Charles Long, was called to the witness stand by the prosecution to substantiate its motion for a mistrial on the ground of jury tampering. The defense also made a motion for discharge of the jury.

Long, a PWA laborer, said the offer was made two or three nights ago by Harry Spangleer, a surveyor, who had charge of a sewer project where he was employed. The juror testified that Spangler explained he was acting for Joseph L. Gutting, one of the defense attorneys.

Denied by Accused Man.

"He wanted to know if I had formed an opinion," Long related. "I said, 'No,' and he said, 'I'd like you to.' I said I would not be bought off. He told me there would be $100 in it for me if I would hang the jury."

Spangler was brought into court on a subpena and promptly denied Long's charge. He said he had seen the juror twice since the trial began several days ago, but that on neither occasion did he mention the case.

"Did I ever tell you to offer $100 to Long?" Gutting asked him. "No, you did not," Spangler replied.

The sudden end of the case climaxed a series of sensations that had featured testimony in the trial of Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, former St. Louis society matron; her husband, Dr. Ludwig O. Muench, and their friends, Attorney Wilfred Jones and Mrs. Helen Berroyer.

Four Accused of Conspiracy.

The four were charged with conspiracy to obtain unlawful possession of the "gift of God" baby which the St. Louis Court of Appeals last December ruled was the son of Miss Anna Ware, 19, unwed servant girl. The 44 year old Mrs. Muench claimed the child was born to her.

Accusations were made that possession of the baby was sought in two separate instances to dupe wealthy men out of money by hoaxing them into believing they were its father. Mrs. Muench allegedly tried to dupe a St. Louis physician out of $250,000, and Mrs. Grace Thomasson, a state witness, was accused of having planned to "shake down" a Texas cattleman.

Case Reset for August.

The mistrial came after eight days of testimony and when it appeared probable that the case would go to the jury this evening. Both state and defense had rested their cases when evidence of the alleged attempt to bribe the juror was disclosed.

Judge Higbee asserted that in view of the information given him there was nothing to do but declare a mistrial. He reset the case for the first Monday in August.

PLANE AND TRAIN SPEED AID TO TRIO TRAPPED IN MINE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., April 16.—Speeding by airplane and train halfway across the continent to aid three men who have been entombed since Sunday in a gold mine near Moose River, Nova Scotia, a rescue squad of four northern Ontario miners passed through Montreal today.

Bad weather conditions prevented their departure from Montreal by plane, so they took a regular train. They are due at the mine tomorrow night. They carried 800 pounds of special drilling equipment with them. The miners came from the McIntyre Porcupine mine at Schumacher, Ont.

Dispatches from Moose River said engineers had set up a diamond drill to bore a five inch hole 140 feet deep into the ground to try to send food and supplies to the trapped trio. The three men are Dr. D. E. Robertson, H. B. Magill, owners of the mine, and Charles Alfred Scadding, timekeeper. All are from Toronto. Mine experts expressed fear there was little chance of finding the men alive.

BURGLARS RAID THREE SAFES IN SOUTH BEND OFFICES; LOOT $980

South Bend, Ind., April 16.—[Special.]—Burglars broke into three safes in business offices here last night, taking $980.

At the Indiana Bell Telephone company office two safes were looted. Nothing was taken from one, which contained checks, but $930 was taken from the other. Most of the loot consisted of sacks of quarters, nickels, and dimes collected from pay stations. From the office of Robert Orcutt, clerk of the city board of education, in the school administration building, the burglars took $50.

Police believe the robberies to be the work of a gang which started operating here Feb. 25, when loot valued at $1,000 was taken from a lether goods store.

DIES IN INDIANA CHAIR AS SLAYER OF POLICEMAN

Michigan City, Ind., April 16.—[Special.]—Gaston Slaughter, 36, colored, of Texas, was electrocuted at Indiana state prison here tonight, still protesting his innocence.

Slaughter, to whom the state Supreme court granted three stays of execution before denying his appeal, was executed for the murder of Walter Lanfair, Terre Haute policeman, on Aug. 3, 1934. He has been in death row more than a year.

Last minute efforts by defense attorneys to prove Slaughter was in Chattanooga, Tenn., the night of the murder failed late today when Chattanooga police failed to corroborate the alibi. Slaughter claimed he spent the night of the murder at a rooming house there under the name of Willie Williams.

QUINTS BORN TO GYPSY MOTHER DIE IN RUMANIA

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 16.—(AP)—Malformed quintuplets born to a gypsy mother in a field lived but a day, authorities at Oradea reported tonight.

The unusual births took place on a farm in Transylvania, and the children and their mother were taken to a hospital at Oradea, where the quintuplets died today. Physicians at no time held hope that the babies would live, although they expect the recovery of the 25 year old mother, Mrs. Maria Ljnguraru.

The babies were described as "not like children" in appearance, but "animal-like," by Gov. Johan Piku of the Bankjla district and Dr. Jankulisku.

The mother was said to be recovering. She was aided in the delivery by her husband, who had gone with her to work in the fields when the children were born yesterday. Physicians said the births were premature. Two couples of the children were joined together and the fifth was born separately.

Father Hillenbrand, 29, Named Seminary Rector

The Rev. Reynold H. Hillenbrand, a professor at Quigley Preparatory seminary, has been appointed rector of St. Mary of the Lake seminary at Mundelein, according to an announcement yesterday by Cardinal Mundelein. Father Hillenbrand, who is 29 years old, is said to be one of the youngest rectors of a pontifical seminary in the world. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hillenbrand, 1844 Hammond street, and a brother of the Rev. Frederick Hillenbrand, rector of Chicago House of Studies in Rome, Italy.

CHAS. S. CUTTING, FORMER JUDGE, 82, GRAVELY ILL

Attorney Charles S. Cutting, former Probate judge, was reported gravely ill in the Presbyterian hospital yesterday. He has been a patient there for the last ten days. On Wednesday night he suffered a relapse, but his physician reported him resting easier last night.

Mr. Cutting is 82 years old. He is senior member of the law firm of Cutting, Moore & Sidley, 11 South La Salle street. He resides at the Union league club.

The firm of Cutting, Moore & Sidley yesterday announced the retirement of Nathan G. Moore, 83 years old, who has been a member since 1919. Mr. Moore, who was admitted to the Illinois bar 57 years ago, resides with his wife at 329 Forest avenue, Oak Park. He said that he and Mrs. Moore plan to travel.

3 HIGH SCHOOL BANDS QUALIFY FOR U. S. FINALS

The finals of the 11th annual Chicago High school band contest, held last night in the Roosevelt High school auditorium, resulted in the selection of the Lane, Austin and Farragut bands to represent the city in the national contest to be held in Cleveland.

Senn high's band was given a rating almost equal to that of the winners, and Amundsen's was declared excellent by the judges. There were seven bands left for the finals after elimination of seventeen others in preliminary contests. The Public High School Band association sponsored the events.

HUNT EX-SUITOR IN MURDER OF MRS. TITTERTON

Unrequited Love of Seven Years Ago Revealed.

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—Detectives, aided by close associates of Nancy Evans Titterton, today reached back into her life before her marriage to produce a story of unrequited love which holds the possibility of supplying an explanation of her murder.

There was a man, the detectives learned, who fell madly in love with young Nancy Evans more than seven years ago. He had been associated with her during her first years in New York. He was bitterly jealous because of her marriage to Lewis Titterton.

The man had not been a member of the Titterton circle for years, but there was reason to believe this afternoon that police were close on his trail.

If they find him, they may find only a normal person who has long outgrown the affair of so many years ago.

But the story offered at least a straw to clutch at, and the police department is willing now to grasp at even the semblance of a straw.

Aside from such investigations, the police can only place their hopes on a grease spot and on the chance of an accident that may yield a clew.

A slight hope still hung on the thirteen-inch cord left behind in the Titterton apartment when the murderer fled after raping the young writer and leaving her body in a bathtub.

UNIFORM STATE LAW COMMITTEE TO MEET TODAY

Delegates from 32 states, including governors, attorneys general, tax commissioners, and legislators, will attend a meeting of the commission on interstate coöperation of the Council of State Governments today and tomorrow in the Shoreland hotel.

The purpose of the council is to solve problems of conflicting taxation, transient control, labor agreements, and other questions upon which the states are at variance, with the hope of halting the tendency toward centralization of government, Henry W. Toll, executive director, said.

Speakers will include John Pollard, former governor of Virginia; Louis Brownlow, director of the Public Administration Clearing house, and Attorneys General Philip Lutz Jr. of Indiana, P. O. Sathre of North Dakota, Ray E. Lee of Wyoming, Paul P. Prosser of Colorado, and Frank H. Patton of New Mexico.

GIRL, 13, KILLS SELF WITH FATHER'S GUN; NOTE KEPT SECRET

Norristown, Pa., April 16.—(AP)—Nancy Haines, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haines Jr. of Meadowbrook, was found dead of a bullet wound in her father's room tonight. Police Chief Patrick McKee said the girl committed suicide with a gun her father kept at his bedside.

McKee, who heads the Abington police, said the girl left a note, but declined to reveal its contents. "There is no doubt this is a case of suicide," the chief said.

Police said besides Nancy, two servants were in the house. A brother, George, 18, was on the grounds of the estate. None heard the shot.

The girl, a student at a school at Rydal, was taken home by her mother after classes today. Mrs. Haines found her daughter's body after returning from the shopping trip.

JAIL TERMS OF 17 STRIKERS LIFTED; DISPUTE SETTLED

Jail sentences for contempt of court against 17 striking employés of the Oakes Products corporation of North Chicago were vacated yesterday by Judge Edward D. Shurtleff of Marengo, sitting in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan. The action followed an agreement between the company and the strikers, ending a walkout which started four months ago.

Attorneys J. A. Miller and Henry Fisher, representing local No. 140 of the International Union of Metal Polishers, Buffers, Platers and Helpers, and Attorney Leslie Vogel, chief counsel for the company, presented the agreement to terminate the dispute. In it the company agreed to consider striking employés as having been on furloughs, and to reëmploy them before hiring new employés.

Judge Shurtleff issued a permanent injunction restraining the union and its members from illegal picketing.

BURGLAR, 19, GETS 18 MONTHS.

William Franc, 19 years old, 1939 Madison street, who confessed looting more than 30 homes in the northwest part of the city, was setnenced to 18 months in the Bridewell by Judge J. M. Braude in the Boys' court yesterday.

DIVORCE DECREE ABOUT ALL SHE HAS LEFT NOW

Mrs. C. E. Hirsh, 40 years old, 5547 Winthrop avenue, who obtained a divorce from her husband, Benjamin, only last Monday, was a sadly disappointed woman last night. She requested the Summerdale police to assist in a search for her fiancé, Ralph Mark, 43 years old—and for $150 and jewelry valued at $600 which she lent him in expectation of a honeymoon trip to the orient.

"I had known Mr. Mark only two months," Mrs. Hirsh said. "But he was charming. Last week, when he proposed, I accepted him. We were to have been married today, and I told my friends good-by and packed up my clothing for the wedding trip. The money I let him have was for tickets to San Francisco. There Mr. Mark—he said he was a marine engineer—promised that we would board a boat for the orient.

"He failed to keep his date for the marriage and I wish I had my $150 and the jewelry back."

Domingo and Haiti End Border Row; Pact Fixed

GENEVA, April 16.—(AP)—The Dominican Republic notified the league of nations today that it had exchanged instruments of ratification of a frontier agreement with Haiti ending a longstanding border dispute. The Dominican government characterized the occasion as "a day of American brotherhood."

5 STOPS— just driving Johnny and Mary to school

4 out of every 5 miles you drive are "STOP-and-GO"

FIRST you stop coming out of your driveway! Then you stop at a cross-street . . . stop at a traffic light . . . stop for a traffic cop . . . stop at the school! That's five stops—just on one of your many daily "errands."

No wonder you average over 30 complete stops a day . . . shift gears over 60 times a day! And you're eating up gasoline, remember, every time you stop, shift or accelerate.

Shifting gears after a single stop, leading automotive engineers say, can use up enough gasoline to take you 1/3 of a mile. That's costly driving!

For economy, your gasoline needs 3 kinds of power—just as your car needs 3 shifts of gears. You need one power for QUICK STARTS, one for FAST PICKUP and hill climbing, one for STEADY RUNNING.

SOME STATES EAT SOUP, MR. PRESIDENT, AND SOME EAT CAKE

President Roosevelt, reading his message to Congress on the night of January 3, 1936, asked:

"Shall we say to the several millions of unemployed citizens who face the very problem of existence--of getting enough to eat--'We will withdraw from giving you work, we will turn you back to the charities of your communities and to those men of selfish power who will tell you that perhaps they will employ you if the Government leaves them strictly alone'? Shall we say--'Your problem is a local one except that perhaps the Federal Government, as an act of mere generosity, will be willing to pay to your city or to your county a few grudging dollars to help maintain your soup kitchens!"

The Roosevelt Administration Answers:

Yes, let them eat soup if they are residents of States which refuse to bow down to the New Deal, of States which are not controlled by the New Deal machine, of States which cannot be counted on for 1936!

THE RECORD

STATE	Families on Direct Relief in 1935	Federal Direct Relief to States 1935	Average Per Family of Federal Funds

Paid for Reducing 1933-1935 Cane Acreage.

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—The $1,067,665 payment by the AAA which Secretary Wallace recently reported was said in responsible congressional quarters today to have gone to the United States Sugar corporation.

While agriculture department officials still declined to give further names in connection with rental and benefit payments, newspaper men learned that this biggest payment was for reducing sugar cane acreage from 1933 through 1935.

The letter by Secretary Wallace to Chairman Smith of the senate agricultural committee, which gave the amount of the payment, did not name the concern.

Linked to Chicago Concern.

The corporation, of which C. R. Bitting is listed in financial directories as the president, is affiliated with the Celotex company of Chicago, which also operates large sugar cane properties in Florida and Louisiana.

Informed sources said both concerns use the processed sugar cane stalks for production of wallboard.

The sugar firm's contract to cooperate with the AAA was signed by James J. Harrington of Clewiston, Fla., vice president.

12,837 Acres Planted.

The certificate of compliance, issued to the United States Sugar corporation by the AAA, showed the firm's sugar cane acreage planted for the crop year of 1935-'36 was 12,837 acres and that its production allotment for the same crop year was 403,752 tons.

In reporting the leading sugar payments to the senate, Wallace said the sugar program involved such large payments because "corporate production is more commonly carried on in sugar than in any other kind of agricultural production."

The next largest benefit payment was $961,064, which went to a Porto Rican sugar producing corporation.

GYNECOLOGISTS DINE TONIGHT AT 500TH MEETING

The Chicago Gynecological society, one of the oldest special medical societies in the city, will celebrate its 500th monthly meeting with a dinner tonight at the Knickerbocker hotel in honor of its 52 past presidents, 28 of whom are still living. The oldest living past president is Dr. Henry T. Byford, who headed the society in 1887. The present president is Dr. Edward L. Cornell of the gynecological department of the Northwestern university medical school. The society was organized in 1878 to raise the standards of this branch of the medical profession. Dr. Elmer Sevringhaus of the University of Wisconsin medical school will be the principal speaker tonight.

DOCTOR REPORTS RESPIGHI DYING OF HEART DISEASE

ROME, April 16.—(AP)—The noted Italian composer Ottorino Respighi, 56, is dying from heart disease, his doctor announced today. Ill from blood poisoning for many weeks, the composer lost consciousness Tuesday night. His wife was at his bedside.

Respighi has often visited the United States, where several of his operas have been presented and where he has conducted orchestras.

Respighi is well known in Chicago, having appeared here in 1926 and 1929. He was the composer of "La Fiamma," the opera which has been selected for the opening performance of the City Opera company's 1936 season Oct. 31. "La Fiamma" also was presented last year. Respighi's opera "The Sunken Bell" was presented at Ravinia several years ago.

Tree Planting to Feature Arbor Day in State Today

By proclamation of Gov. Horner today will be celebrated throughout Illinois as Arbor day. Civic organizations and clubs will take part in tree planting programs. The Chicago Outdoor Art league, active in the beautification of grounds surrounding hospitals, schools, and institutions and in plantings along roads, will hold special ceremonies at the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children, 2211 North Oak Park avenue.

PROBE CEMETERY VAULT FIRE; FIND A BODY ROBBED

Delanson, N. Y., April 16.—[Special.]—Authorities tonight were investigating what they suspected was an incendiary fire in a receiving vault in Grove cemetery. The fire brought to light the robbery of a woman's body awaiting burial.

Firemen discovered the body lying on the floor of the vault after they had been fighting the fire about half an hour. Sherif Thomas J. Walsh said he was told it had been removed from a coffin. Deputy Sherif William Blumer said a gold ring was missing from one of the woman's fingers.

Flames slightly burned the body and that of one of two men which also had been placed in the vault during the winter to await spring burial.

CORN DYNAMITE IS LATEST FIND OF LABORATORY

Inositol Explosive Held Superior for Blasting.

Kansas City, April 16.—(AP)—Corn dynamite, a new product of the test tube, potentially superior to the nitroglycerin, was reported to the American Chemical society today by its president, Prof. Edward Bartow, head of the University of Iowa department of chemistry.

Prof. Bartow pictured the possibility of corn, processed in this new fashion, being used all over the country to blast stumps from fields, excavate road and skyscraper foundations, and "shoot" quarries, mines, and oil wells.

Base is Inositol.

The new explosive is one of several possibilities opened by production from corn of a sugarlike substance known as inositol, hitherto unavailable because extraction made it cost about $500 a pound. In the last two months, Prof. Bartow said, Dr. W. W. Walker, in his department at Iowa, has found a method of extraction which cheapens the rare substance, so that many laboratories already have started work on its possible uses.

One of these is for a superexplosive. Inositol, Prof. Bartow said, is really a form of alcohol, by itself it is nonexplosive, being composed of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. When nitrated, however, it becomes an explosive of high power.

The difference between this and ordinary nitroglycerin, Prof. Bartow said, is that the new corn product is a solid instead of a liquid; that it contains twice as much nitrogen as nitroglycerin.

Molecules Are Larger.

The corn explosive seems to be made of larger molecules. That is why it is a solid, Prof. Bartow said, and is one advtange. For nitroglycerine now used in dynamite has to be mixed with infusorial earth to change it from liquid to solid. The infusorial earth is inert in the resulting dynamite.

No inert addition is expected to be needed for the corn nitroglycerin. Prof. Bartow said he has inquiries for supplying inositol for experiments in explosive manufacture.

The inositol is about as sweet as sugar to the average taste. The University of Iowa medical school has been experimenting for two months on the possibility of using it in diabetic diets. No conclusions have been announced.

Inositol has been known for many years. It exists in very small quantities in muscle and in the liver.

The new extraction process at Iowa makes it from the "steep" liquor waste from the manufacture of corn starch. Prof. Bartow said this waste from the manufacture of corn starch alone in the United States would supply about a million pounds of inositol a year. Prof. Bartow now has 25 pounds of inositol which he keeps in a safe at the university.

PROTEST BY NORWAY IN 'RUM BOAT' CASE IS REJECTED BY U. S.

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—A protest by Norway against seizure of an alleged "rum runner" flying the Norse flag has been rejected by the United States and an official said tonight the case would be prosecuted in federal courts.

Wilhelm Munthe de Morgenstierne, the Norwegian minister, lodged the protest with the state department after federal officers had seized the tramp steamer Reidun in New York harbor and arrested four of the ship's officers.

Secretary Hull's reply said that since the case was already before the federal courts it was beyond the jurisdiction of the state department and he could take no action.

The Reidun—along with two other vessels flying the Norwegian flag—was charged with "rum running" in a formal protest made to the Norwegian government by the United States in January.

BACTERIA CELLS AWAKENED FROM 249 YEAR SLEEP

San Luis Obispo, Cal., April 16.—(AP)—Microscopic dots of life have been aroused from a 249 year "sleep" to the normal activity they abandoned in 1687, Dr. Ira B. Bartle reported tonight.

Dr. Bartle, who has spent years studying spores and fungi, said he resurrected soil bacteria colonies which went into suspended animation two and a half centuries ago when they were sealed in the adobe walls of the Tumacacori mission near Nogales, Ariz.

He brought the brick to his laboratory here and said he succeeded in bringing the bacteria out of their lethargy.

"The samples obtained showed ninety-four colonies," his report said. "In forty-eight hours there were 131 colonies."

"These spores and bacteria live and multiply as long as there is moisture and oxygen. As this disappears the protoplasm thickens and contracts until respiration and reproduction ceases and they go into a state of suspended animation, in which condition they are immune to almost every condition except fire itself."

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

New Life Everywhere.

April 16, 1936.

WOODLAND lovers and other visitors at the Tribune farms are now getting their last long looks down through the timber where foliage will soon shut off the vistas. All winter long ridge riders could look across the Fox river valley on the Yorkville farm and see the winding stream, count silos, barns, corn shocks, soybean hay cocks, and get glimpses of hounds chasing foxes through the brush. Within a short time the winter views will be blotted out as if a curtain had been dropped.

Tiny leaves are in the making in the woods and orchards. Within a few days touches of green will be showing up in the trees on both of the Tribune Experimental farms. New life is springing up on every side. Old sows and young sows are sweeping across the pastures with their squealing litters of pigs. Lost lambs deafen the herder with their bleats when they get a few yards away from their mothers.

Vegetables Are Planted.

Spring work has been in full swing in the farms' gardens this week. At the Wheaton farm the gardeners have planted an assortment of cool weather vegetables, including the following crops and varieties:

RADISHES—Scarlet globe white tip.
BEETS—Crosby's Egyptian.
PEAS—Early little gem dwarf defiance.
ENDIVE—Ever white curled.
ONIONS—Crystal white wax. Sets also were put in the open garden.
TURNIPS—White Milan.
SPINACH—Bloomsdale new long-standing.
SWISS CHARD—Cut and come again.
CARROTS—Select Denver.
LETTUCE [head]—New York and big Boston.
PARSLEY—Double curled.

Seek Bigger Peonies.

The gardeners also fertilized the soil around the peonies this week, using a complete fertilizer that included 5 per cent nitrogen, 8 per cent phosphorus, and 7 per cent potassium. The fertilizer has been applied to increase the size of the blossoms this year. The mixture was scattered over the surface of the soil about six to eight inches away from the peonies to avoid burning. The fertilizer was then worked into the top two inches of soil.

The head gardener says that peonies may be safely fertilized any time during the next two weeks. Beginners are advised not to work the fertilizer in too deep because there is danger of injuring the peony roots. On newly planted peony roots the gardeners use bone meal.

Complete fertilizer also is being used on weak spots of lawns started last fall in the private garden on the Wheaton farm.

Flowers started early in the greenhouse will not be set in the open until there is no danger of frost. The plants, now growing in flats, are being regularly transplanted to make them sturdy.

An Animal Cracker Dress

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

From a Chicago shop. Green and beige printed taffeta fashions a clever two piece daytime costume. It is made with short puffed sleeves, a fitted jacket top and white pique accents in the collar and flowers. The tiny beige printed designs are of amusing animal cracker patterns.

NewHouseCoats Fairly Breathe of Springtime

BY RHEA SEEGER.

It's time to park the fuzzy corduroys and cozy flannel house coats that took you through the cold winter. The gayest spring silks imaginable together with some chiffons and crêpes are hung around the shops, so moderately priced and so fresh and crisp and young looking that only a stern unimaginative shopper will pass them by.

Clever little tailored robes of bright dotted silks with white braid trim and white tassels edging the belt are just as smart as they can be, in red, green and bright blue . . . sprigged and flowered taffetas with huge puffed sleeves look like romantic coats, with yards and yards in the full skirt that accents a slim narrow waist.

You'll find these in pale old gold, in sapphire blue, in American Beauty and in creamy white with field flowers imprinted against this lovely background color. And some stunning black backgrounds splashed with bright hued spring buds, blossoms, and green leaves are attractive after weeks of dark flannels and winter robes.

A new arrival in the lingerie section in one store is the combination, made with lace trimmed camisole tops. They come in white, flesh and pearl gray satin . . . the camisole tops are alternate vertical lace and satin bands with the delicate lace dyed to match the flesh and gray satin. Shoulder straps are of narrow satin and the camisole is straight across the top, both front and back. Just the right invention for all the transparent lingerie blouses that practically test your ability to find underlayers that are decorative without being too frilly or complicated.

Fashion photograph . . . the animal cracker two piece outfit . . . the leaf green silk is amusingly printed with tiny creamy beige animals the exact color of animal crackers. The short sleeves are moderately puffed at the shoulders, the jacket top fits snugly around the ribs and very pointed white piqué collar tabs together with two white piqué flowers are used for contrast. It is from a spring collection of taffeta two piece dresses available in a Chicago shop.

Actor Freddie Now Prize of 3 Way Fight

Hollywood, Cal., April 16.—[Special.]—The scramble over custody and control of the salary of 12 year old Freddie Bartholomew, movie actor from England, became a three sided affair today when Philip A. Levoy, New York attorney representing the boy's father, arrived. Levoy entered the case after conferences had been arranged between attorneys for the child's mother and his paternal aunt.

The aunt has legal and personal control of the boy, and is being supported in her fight by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, which has a contract under which it pays Freddie $1,000 a week for forty weeks of the year.

Levoy arrived from New York. Explaining that the father, Cecil Bartholomew, is unable to come to this country, Levoy said that he was unable to explain why Mrs. Lillian Mae Bartholomew, the mother, broke appointments to consult him in New York and flew west from there unknown to her husband.

The law firm of Cunningham & O'Shea declared Freddie would return from out of town with his aunt, Miss Myllicent Bartholomew, tomorrow night, and that under "proper circumstances" they and Miss Bartholomew would consent to a meeting between the boy's mother and Freddie. They said "proper circumstances" meant "without publicity and in quiet and domestic surroundings."

The mystery of Mrs. Bartholomew's financial ability to make the voyage from England, the transcontinental air trip across America, and to meet legal expenses was explained today by Lawyer Levoy. Levoy said Mrs. Bartholomew had acquired funds by writing a series of articles, for publication in a London newspaper.

Good Morning!

"Downright enjoyable!" is bound to be your ultimatum on "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town."

The Chicago's current feature film is a comedy drama with suspense and real heart punch. The story has many surprising and intriguing turns and leads up to an electrifying finish.

Mr. Deeds, a young country chap, with a passion for playing the tuba, unexpectedly becomes heir to many millions. City lawyers with their own interests passionately at heart, escort him to the Big Town, ensconce him in the lap of luxury, provide him with body guards, a publicity man whose business it is to keep all unconventional news regarding him out of the newspapers, and equip him with a valet, and what have you.

Now young Mr. Deeds is naïve. He has a sweet, trusting nature, but he has also been endowed with much native shrewdness—and he manages to do very well for himself until the star reporter [feminine] of an enterprising daily is turned loose on him. . . .

He falls hard for this dear, confiding little creature whom he believes to be somebody's stenog'. He has no idea—for a long, long time—how on earth his most intimate doings and sayings make the headlines. When he does see the light—turned on by his irate personal press agent . . . why, Mr. Deeds loses all interest in life and folks.

By that time the lady is in throes of repentance—and love for the straight-from-the-shoulder young fellow she's been making a monkey of. The lawyers, realizing that Mr. Deeds has no illusions regarding them, have unearthed a couple of aspirants for the fortune and are screaming for a sanity trial for Mr. Deeds. They get it—and is that some trial. . . .!

I may seem to have told you the whole story. But don't you believe it! All I've delivered to you is a nut, neatly cracked and full of meat for your picking.

Gary Cooper has never done anything better than his portrayal of Deeds! He's immense! Jean Arthur gives a zipping characterization of the newspaper girl. She is so clever —so pretty—so intuitive!

Supporting players are all that could be desired and I don't see how the direction could have been better.

See you tomorrow.

THE death of Howard Thurston brought to a Chicagoan's mind a performance of Thurston's she had seen in Washington, D. C., during the early days of prohibition. Mr. Thurston walked through the ailes in his accustomed manner, pulling articles from the coats and pockets of the amazed spectators. It so happened that Andrew J. Volstead and his daughter Laura were present that evening occupying aile seats. It was unfortunate that most of the audience did not know the gentleman was Volstead, for Thurston produced a pint of whisky from his pocket.

A MAN with a business of his own who dabbles in the stock market has a neat system worked out whereby he can attend to his own affairs and still keep tab on what is going on at the New York Stock exchange. His office is in the Federal Reserve Bank building across the street from a brokerage office on the La Salle street side of the Continental Illinois National bank. He follows the market by means of binoculars trained on the translux in the brokerage office.

A YOUNG man carrying a book boarded a double decker bus and, climbing to the upper deck, made for a seat up front. He tripped over the feet of a young woman in the aile, lurched forward, and the book fell into her lap.

"Well, of all the nerve!" said the young woman. "Here [holding up the book], what's this?"

"This," snapped the youth, grabbing the volume, "is a book about people like you. It's called 'This Simian World.'"

LAST Monday noon a sound truck in the vicinity of Madison and La Salle streets was playing noisily "I'll Write Myself a Letter and Make Believe It's You." A housewife who was downtown wondered later if the song had anything to do with the primary elections and the frauds she read about.

* *

THIS really is a sob story—about a daisy chain girl who never carried the daisy chain. It all came out—a plaintive little interlude—when Vassar alumnæ sat making plans for their fashion show of Vassar styles since 1861 and supper-dance to be held April 25 for the benefit of the Vassar scholarship fund A daisy chain, with models wearing the actual dresses worn by Vassar daisy chain carriers of other years, which will be one of the features, was being discussed. The daisy chain girl with no daisy chain to remember is Mrs. Ronald M. Kimball, president of the north shore group of Vassar alumnæ. She was elected to help carry the 1917 daisy chain. That was the year the United States entered the war, and Vassar canceled all its class day and commencement festivities after the announcement we were a nation at war. Thus the little daisy chain carriers were an early casualty of war.

Milstein Plays Mendelssohn with Symphony

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The Germans have a word for it—morgenschön. The soft brightness of morning is as good a comparison as a year's search could produce, if the job on hand is that of describing the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto and Nathan Milstein's playing of it in Orchestra hall last night. The gifted Russian chose the sun-steeped movements of that familiar but always alluring work for his appearances with the Chicago Symphony orchestra in this next to the last week of the season.

There was a generous measure of such qualities as eagerness and vibrancy in the stiff tempos of the first and last divisions of the concerto, but not enough to mar the essential, delicate poetry of the melodies. Milstein makes much of their candid lyricism, lets his instrument sing them lovingly against the becoming backdrop of the simple scoring.

But it takes more than simple scoring to account for the beauty of this backdrop. Mendelssohn's preference for logical outline is responsible for the direct and effective metrical scheme which succeeds, somehow, in becoming genuinely infectious despite its unassuming quietness.

The open hearted beauty of the middle movement offered the great violinist [and his listeners] one opportunity after another to revel in some of the most ravishing tonal effects of which the instrument is capable. This is dangerous—and delightful—business, for music of such a kind can so easily cease to be sweet and become honeyed and cloying instead. A person with as much taste as imagination must be the arbiter in charge, or the joyful promise of the Wordsworthian world may change subtly but swiftly to crassness.

Milstein is careful, of course, and a person can enjoy his exciting pianissimo without much real fear that anything untoward is going to happen. The man is a master of an ineffable effect in which he and his music seem to win complete release from all physical properties. Any one knows that a tone so ethereal can have nothing whatever to do with wood and strings and a bow in a muscular hand, but it grows from his playing in a most satisfying and engaging manner.

Chills and fever, one must think, would be the sorry lot of the violin students in the house last night who heard Milstein's incredible double stopping in the Bach Chaconne that followed the concerto. A class A ovation at the end of the Mendelssohn brought the violinist to the stage several times, and there was no suggestion of that gradual diminution in the volume of the applause that might have given him reason to hope that three or four more trips would be a substitute for an encore; therefore he added that noble hit of Bach, which puts all responsibility for sonority on the shoulders of the violinist.

Much more difficult, both spiritually and technically, than the concerto, it succeeded in keeping its audience silent and enthralled through what many consider an over-generous length. The chaconne was one of the most startling displays of great fiddling that that historic stage has seen.

The program opened with the overture to "The Flying Dutchman" and closed with d'Indi's attractive, and opulently orchestrated, B-flat Major Symphony.

April 17 has arrived at last, the date of the long awaited appearance here of the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra. Leopold Stokowski and his men reach the city this afternoon on their ten car special train. The concert is at 8:30 in the Auditorium theater.

Betty Forgan Is Engaged to Phillip Allen

Announcement Surprise to Dance Guests.

BY JUDITH CASS.

AT a dinner-dance Miss Betty Forgan gave last night at the Tavern for Miss Priscilla Morse and John P. McWilliams II., who are to be married tomorrow afternoon, the young hostess' father, Robert Donald Forgan, proposed a toast to Miss Morse and Mr. McWilliams, and then he proposed another toast to his daughter and Phillip D. Allen. The engagement announcement was a real surprise, for the young couple had managed to keep their plans a secret and probably the only people at the party who knew of the engagement before were Mr. and Mrs. Forgan and Miss Betty's brother-in-law and sister, the William Edwin Smiths, and Mr. Forgan's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Forgan.

Miss Forgan, whose home is in Highland Park, is a provisional member of the Chicago Junior league and one of the most popular young women in social circles. She made her debut a year ago last winter, having finished school the June before.

Her last school year was spent at Stoneleigh Prospect in Greenfield, Mass., and before that she was at Dobbs Ferry for three years. Mr. Allen, who has been living in Chicago for about two years, prepared for college at Andover and was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan college in 1933. His mother, Mrs. A. H. Allen of Cambridge, Mass., did not come west for the announcement party but she will come for the wedding, which is planned for June.

Easter Engagement of Interest to Chicago.

Of interest here because the young man, Gordon Bruce Thayer, has many friends in Chicago, is the engagement announcement of Miss Lydia Prescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Prescott of New Bedford and North Dartmouth, Mass., to Mr. Thayer, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Charles Ellery Thayer of Boston. Young Mr. Thayer's brother, Charles Ellery Thayer, now of New York, formerly lived in Chicago. Miss Prescott is a graduate of Briar Cliff Manor in New York. Gordon Thayer has lived in Boston until recently when he moved to Brockton, Mass. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia.

Will You Do Only One Pleasant Thing To Lose Ugly Fat!

Now, without strict dieting, exercising or taking drugs it is possible to lose 7 pounds a month

Irene Rich is over 40, but weighs the same as at 16. She says, "Eat sensibly—drink Welch's Grape Juice."

HERE, at last, is a SAFE way to reduce. A way that does NOT call for strict dieting, exercising, or taking drugs. A way that actually increases your mental and physical energy as pounds of ugly fat seemingly melt away.

Please read carefully: In a recent test, held under the direction of the eminent Dr. Damrau of New York, 14 people who were gaining at the rate of 1⅔ pounds a month, followed this method. And the average loss registered was 7 pounds a person in a single month — WITHOUT STRICT DIETING OR EXERCISING.

What You Do

Now, all you have to do is this: Mix ¾ of a glass of Welch's Grape Juice with ¼ of a glass of water—and drink before each meal, and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly—and this is what happens.

First, Welch's Grape Juice satisfies your normal craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to over-eat fattening foods—yet you do feel comfortably satisfied.

Second, the grape sugar in Welch's is quickly burned up—producing vital energy—and, most important, helps nature to burn up excess fat.

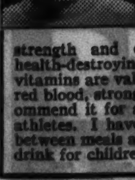
Only One Thing To Watch

In following this proved, SAFE way to lose ugly fat, eat sensibly—and then there is only one thing to watch. Use only the genuine Welch's Grape Juice. In order to get the finest, selected, premium grapes grown we pay more than anyone in the United States. That is why Welch's is always full strength. No adulterants; no artificial coloring—Certified Pure. Insist upon Welch's.



"Gives Quick Pep and Energy"

"Red" Woodworth, All-American Star and Coach at Morgan Park Military Academy, says: "Welch's Grape Juice gives my boys strength and energy without adding health-destroying fat. The minerals and vitamins are valuable in helping to build red blood, strong bones and teeth. I recommend it for all growing children and athletes. I have also found it excellent between meals as a quick energy pickup-drink for children and grown ups."

WEEK-END COST OF FOOD BASKET INCREASES AGAIN

Butter and Eggs Go Up; Staples Lower.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Food shoppers will have difficulty in filling their market baskets from the bargain counters of Chicago and suburban stores today and tomorrow. While price tags on a few staple items have been marked down since last week, most of the price changes have been upward.

Eggs, featured in Easter sales last week-end, are up 1 to 4 cents a dozen. Butter is higher for the second consecutive week. Most stores are selling butter 2 to 3 cents a pound higher than a week ago and some have raised the price of the better grades as much as 4 cents a pound.

Vegetable Prices Increase.

Last week's higher wholesale prices on several kinds of fresh vegetables now are being reflected in the retail stores. Cabbage is about a cent a pound higher and wholesale prices still are advancing slightly on both Texas and Florida stock. Old potatoes are up 4 to 6 cents a peck in many stores.

Strawberries are higher than a week ago, wholesale prices having advanced about 50 cents a crate during the week. Retail prices of head lettuce have varied during the last few days, but slightly higher price tags will be found in most stores today and tomorrow. Lettuce prices are up about 50 cents a crate on the wholesale market as compared with a week ago.

Carrots, celery, green onions, spinach, rhubarb, radishes, sweet potatoes, and turnips are among the other items on the green vegetable counters that are higher in most stores than last week. Wholesale prices on good quality spinach are advancing, according to federal market reporters. Shipments are coming from both Texas and southern Illinois.

Some Staples Go Lower.

Flour, cooking apples, dry onions, and new potatoes head the list of staples that will be offered today and tomorrow at lower prices than last week-end. Many stores have marked down their price tags on some brands of flour 4 to 10 cents on a 24½ pound sack. Apples are considered unusually low for this season of the year.

Increased shipments of the new crop of Texas onions are forcing wholesale prices down on both old and new stock. New potatoes now are coming mostly from Texas, driving wholesale prices lower.

Many stores are featuring fresh asparagus at special sale prices. The quality in most cases is only fair, due to rain and cool weather in the California and Georgia regions where it is grown. Wholesale prices of asparagus are lower than last week.

Other fresh vegetables that are lower on the wholesale market are rhubarb, cucumbers, carrots, and cauliflower. These prices have not yet been reflected in the retail stores. Liberal shipments of fresh rhubarb now are coming from both Michigan and California. Field grown cucumbers from Florida are arriving on the Chicago market in increasing quantities and are selling in competition with the local hothouse supplies.

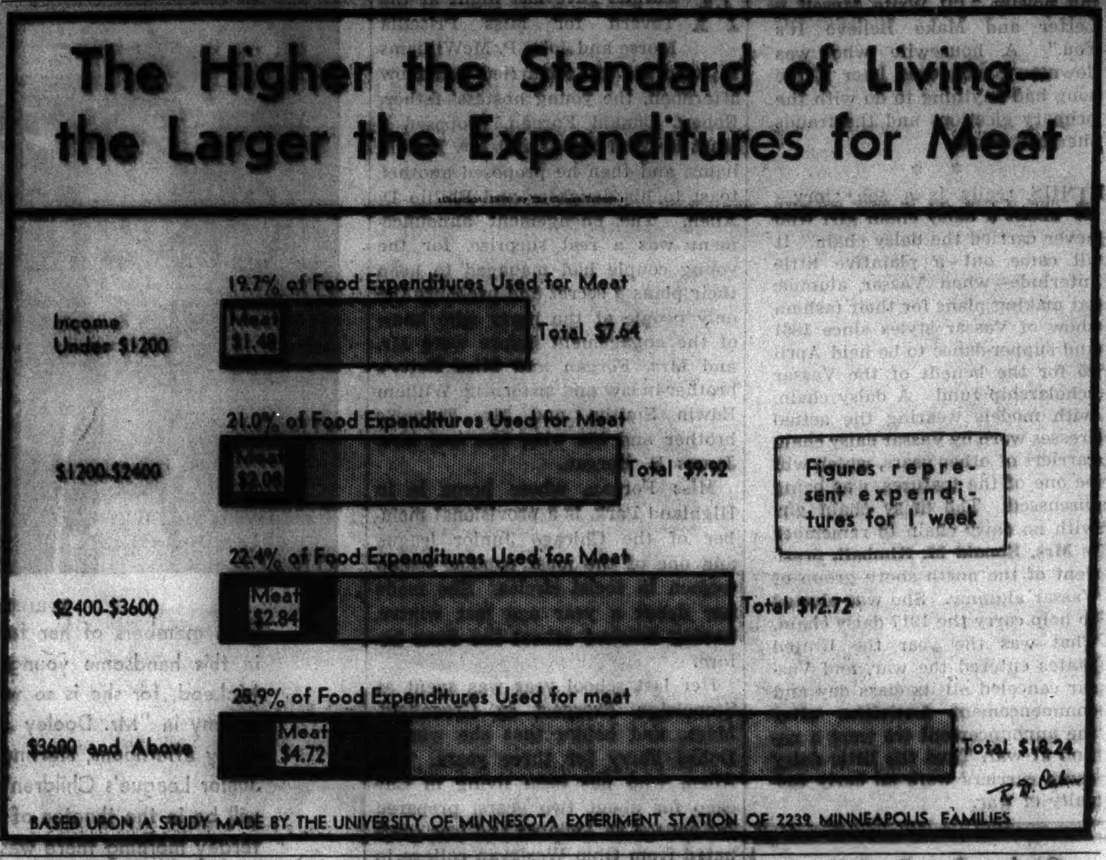
Many butcher shops will feature veal and lamb cuts on their bargain lists for this week-end. Most of these shops will sell leg of lamb at approximately 3 cents a pound less than last week. They have shaved about 5 cents a pound off the price of practically all cuts of veal. Some shops are featuring beef pot roast and spare ribs at special prices.

Live stock prices at Union stockyards changed but little during the week. Beef cattle prices dropped about 25 cents a hundred pounds while live hog prices advanced 10 to 15 cents a hundred. Prices paid farmers for live lambs averaged 15 to 25 cents per hundred pounds higher than last week.

Wholesale prices of fresh pork cuts dropped 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds during the week. Beef and lamb carcasses remained at about last week's prices.

Thickening Value of Flour Half That of Cornstarch

One tablespoon of cornstarch has the thickening value of two tablespoons of flour.



GROCERY CHAINS TO HELP MARKET PEACH SURPLUS

San Francisco, Cal., April 16.—[Special.]—More than forty companies operating 33,000 chain grocery stores in the nation took action today to dispose of the surplus pack of California canned peaches within the next month at the request of the California canning peach stabilization committee.

Responding to an appeal from California peach growers to assist in stabilizing their industry the chain stores have joined to stage four "California canned peach week events" to focus housewives' attention on the food values of canned peaches.

This is said to be the first time that the disposition of an entire crop surplus on a direct line producer-to-consumer basis has been attempted.

The idea originated with the growers when it became apparent that the demand for the 1936 peach crop would be affected seriously unless the 1935 pack were sold. But while the campaign was launched primarily to benefit the peach grower, it gives promise of being highly beneficial to other agricultural and business interests as well as the ultimate consumer.

Avocado Pears Seasoned with Lemon Juice, Salt

For bacon or sausage muffins add one-quarter cup of chopped and fried bacon or minced and fried sausage meat with its grease to a plain muffin recipe, just before turning the batter into the pans. Omit the fat in the recipe.

Prune and date muffins are made by adding one-half cup of the sliced fruit to the muffin batter right at the end of the mixing process.

HOW TO SOFTEN DRIED COCONUT USING STEAM

To soften dried shredded coconut place the coconut in the top of a double boiler and let it steam over boiling water until quite moist. If the dried out coconut is to be used in a boiled custard or a custard pie it need not be previously steamed because it will receive moisture by being mixed with the custard.

The LADY WHO LOST HER LOOKS

SHE could no longer deceive even herself. Now, she faced the mirror in that moment of sharp heartache that comes to many women . . . to some, years earlier than to others. She was getting old. Old! When she had every right to be young. But untimely wrinkles had crept over her complexion. Her eyes were dull. Even her smile was tired—as tired as she felt!

If women would only realize one little fact . . . simple to follow yet really important: The meals they eat day after day have considerable influence on how they feel and how they look. A poorly balanced diet, over a period of years, cannot help but show its effects on the face and personality. Leave adequate "bulk" out of the meal, for instance, and common constipation may develop.

Continued neglect of this condition causes discomfort, may lead to headaches, loss of appetite, listlessness. To be sure, the whole blame for poor complexions cannot be laid to constipation. Yet it adds one more handicap to happiness.

In Kellogg's ALL-BRAN you have a generous source of gently acting "bulk." Within the body, this "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently exercises and cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron.

Scientific tests have shown that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural laxative food for normal people. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN oftener. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all"—but it does correct common constipation due to insufficient "bulk." Guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Serve as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into appetizing muffins, breads, etc. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

BY MARY MEADE.

To keep the food budget purring in easy comfort the thrifty homemaker frequently strokes its ears with careful Saturday shopping. "Week-end special" prices inspire her to plan her menus ahead as she buys much of the food for the next week.

Staples, even some vegetables, cause no concern for storage when she arrives home, heavy laden from her Saturday marketing. But if she hasn't been able to resist the temptation of buying meat for several meals at her market's special prices, she's likely to wonder how best to keep it, to capitalize fully on her saving.

Fresh meat, when it comes from the market, should be immediately unwrapped, since the porous wrapping paper absorbs the juices. It should be wiped lightly, but never washed, and then placed in a clean, dry, shallow dish and put in the coldest part of the refrigerator. The meat never is tightly wrapped, for a little drying of the surface retards the growth of bacteria, but the top may be loosely covered with waxed paper—a circulation of air over the meat is important!

If the meat is kept in an ice refrigerator it never should be placed directly on the ice. In the coldest part of the refrigerator, yes, but not right on a moist surface which may encourage the growth of microörganisms.

At a temperature below 45 degrees F. meat may be safely kept for seventy-two hours or more. Steaks and chops, with a relatively large exposed surface, will not keep as well as a large, blocky roast. A roast which has a good, heavy fat covering will keep longer than a poorly finished one. Chopped meat spoils more easily than meat in one piece, while the edible organs, such as liver, brains, and sweetbreads, are more likely to spoil than are other cuts.

Cured meats, such as ham and bacon, keep best in a cold, dark place and at a constant temperature. From 50 to 60 degrees is the maximum, which means placing them in the least cold section of the refrigerator. When preparing bacon for a meal, only the quantity to be used should be taken from the package. If it is taken out and allowed to stand at room temperature, moisture will condense on it and lessen its keeping qualities. Sliced bacon may be kept under these conditions for as long as two weeks without its flavor being altered.

The temptation to which the thrifty homemaker may yield may not be several cuts of meat, but just one large roast, enough for several meals. In that case she is interested in the proper precautions for storing cooked meat.

Since the surface of the meat has been dried by cooking, the meat should be covered when stored in the refrigerator, to prevent further drying and loss of flavor. It should be kept in as large a piece as possible. If it is to be used for salads or sandwiches, in which case it is not heated again, it should not be ground or cut up until it is ready to be used. Cooked meat which has been kept in the refrigerator for any length of time should be heated thoroughly before using.

150 Winter Neighbors of Circus Attend Show

One hundred and fifty residents of Rochester, Ind., attended the Cole Brothers-Clyde Beatty circus at the Stadium yesterday to show their appreciation of the fact that the circus has chosen Rochester as its permanent winter quarters. The delegation, who came in automobiles, were entertained by the management in the show's mess hall.

DAINTIES FOR SPRINGTIME

Stuff them, top them, slice them, or garnish them with nuts or coconut, and gingerbread cup cakes become real springtime tea dainties or luncheon dessert delights. These little cakes, made from packaged gingerbread mix, can be quickly prepared and easily filled with a favorite fruited whipped cream. To stuff them, cut a cone shaped piece from the top of each and after filling replace the top.

HOW TO PREVENT ELECTRIC SHOCKS IN HOME IS TOLD

Although electric shocks received in the home are seldom fatal, they can be avoided if a few precautions are exercised, Dr. Hart E. Fisher, chief surgeon of the Chicago Rapid Transit company, yesterday told the engineering division of the Chicago Safety council in the Palmer house.

He pointed out that low voltage shocks, such as those received from light fixtures, affect the heart. High voltage currents stop operation of the lungs and cause asphyxiation, necessitating resuscitation.

To avoid shocks in the home, Dr. Fisher advised that care be exercised against standing in water or touching plumbing when turning on lights. All short circuits in electrical appliances should be repaired immediately, he said.

TRIBUNE RECIPES

CURRIED LAMB

3 cups chopped cooked lamb
3 tablespoons butter or meat drippings
¼ cup minced onion
1½ cups chopped celery and tops
¾ cup lamb gravy or meat stock
⅛ teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon tabasco sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

Melt the fat in a frying pan and simmer the onion and celery in it until tender and slightly yellowed. Add the rest of the ingredients, and if the mixture seems too dry add boiling water to moisten. Serve in a table casserole decked out with a border of hot, flaky, steamed rice and a garnish of parsley.

WILTED LETTUCE

3 hard cooked eggs
1 large head lettuce
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
6 slices bacon
2 tablespoons vinegar

Wash lettuce, drain, and chop. Add salt and sugar. Broil the bacon until crisp and brown. Cut into small pieces, add the vinegar, then the lettuce. Place over a low burner and, with a fork, keep the lettuce in motion so that it will wilt evenly. Add eggs, cut in slices, and serve at once.

DATE REFRIGERATOR PIE

2 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs, separated
½ cup lemon juice
1 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons gelatin
1 tablespoon cold water
½ cup scalded milk
⅓ cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream
⅔ cup chopped dates
⅔ cup halved dates
1 orange, segmented

Combine the two tablespoons sugar with the beaten egg yolks and the fruit juices. Cook in a double boiler until thickened. Meanwhile, soften the gelatin in the cold water, then dissolve in the scalded milk. Cool both mixtures. Combine them and fold in the cream [whipped stiff], the sugar, and chopped dates. Pour into a baked pie shell or a pan lined with a baked pie shell made of cracker crums and butter. Arrange on the top alternate circles of date halves and orange segments and chill till firm in the refrigerator.

DATE WAFFLES

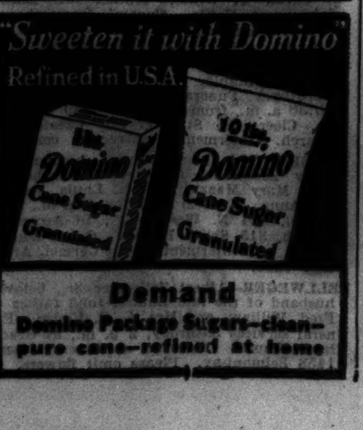
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons melted butter
1¼ cups milk
1 cup chopped dates

Sift together the flour, baking powder, and salt. Combine the milk and egg yolks and stir into the dry ingredients. Add the butter and beat until smooth. Add the dates and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Bake on a hot waffle iron, and serve with butter and honey.

CHICKEN PINEAPPLE LOAF

2 cups minced chicken
⅓ cup drained, crushed pineapple
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon paprika
1⅓ cups dried bread crums
Pineapple juice

Mix the chicken, crushed pineapple, seasoning, and bread crums. If not moist enough to pack together, add the pineapple juice. Press into a greased bread pan and bake in a hot oven [400 degrees F.] for three-quarters of an hour.



WHAT CHILDREN WANT ON RADIO, IT SEEMS, IS ACTION

Request Less Noise and No Teaching.

What the modern child wants in his radio programs is not blood and thunder melodrama, but tempo—a brisk moving tempo. The child is primarily interested in being entertained, and wants humor, adventure, music, and dramatics, but he shrinks from the word "education" and anything that resembles teaching.

These conclusions were reported yesterday at a luncheon of educators and civic leaders, which was followed by a studio demonstration, in the Fine Arts building. They were presented by John De Boer, director of practice at the Chicago Normal college, who directed a three year survey of juvenile radio preferences and reactions.

New Type Programs Coming.

The object of the survey, Mr. De Boer explained, was to determine how objectionable features may be eliminated and points of educational value injected into programs for children. That object has not yet been attained, but after interrogating 558 school children between the ages of 5 and 14 he believes that a new pattern for children's radio is at hand.

What do children think of the present radio fare? Of 279 between the ages of 5 and 8 who were examined by Mr. De Boer 174 listed Little Orphan Annie as the program they listen to most frequently. And whether they came from the gold coast or back of the yards there was little difference in their choice. Other popular programs, in the order of their rating by the young listeners, were:

Lone Ranger	161
Jack Armstrong	102
Singing Lady	73
Maj. Bowes	59
Jimmie Allen	51
Buddy and Ginger	51
Buck Rogers	42
Popeye	40

Older Children Change Ratings.

In the 9 to 14 age group, of 264 children surveyed, 157 listed the Lone Ranger program as their favorite and 113 picked Orphan Annie. Other ratings were:

Jack Armstrong	106
Maj. Bowes	98
Jack Benny	66
Popeye	58
Jimmie Allen	54
Ripley's Believe It or Not	53
Gracie Allen	48
First Nighter	46
Buck Rogers	41

More than half of the children reported that they listen to the radio for three hours or more a day, while 35 per cent reported that they keep the radio on while studying. Of the 558 children only 15 reported that they did not listen to the radio at all.

A survey of 300 children recording their physical responses to programs produced specifically for investigation purposes showed that high tempo programs are especially popular.

Respond to Quick Tempo.

"The use of the same tempo in a quiet dog drama that we used in a gangster program made the children highly responsive," Norman Alexandroff, a radio program producer, told the meeting. "But when we slowed the tempo down to a nice, refined, educational conception the children wouldn't accept it at all."

Further experimentation showed that lengthening of sound effects, such as having the fire siren screech too long, makes the children nervous, he reported.

Mathilda Nodek, Library Worker 25 Years, Is Dead

Miss Mathilda Nodek, an employé of the Chicago public library for 25 years, died yesterday in the home of her sister, Mrs. Della Vander Vein, 1344 North Kedzie avenue. She was 65 years old. Until her retirement 15 years ago, Miss Nodek was librarian for many years at the branch in the old Hebrew institute, Lytle and Taylor streets. The funeral will be held at 10:30 a. m. News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

If Freddie Bartholomew's mother should take him back to England, radio would lose an astonishingly good young actor. His portrayals in the CBS theater in which he played "Peter Pan," and on the Vallee hour where he played the lead in Arch Oboler's sketch, "Rich Kid," were among the remarkable events of the radio season.

The question most often asked Freddie last winter was: "Which do you like better, radio or movies?" An admiring fan popped that one at the little boy just after he had finished in "Rich Kid." Undismayed, the youngster replied: "O, they are such entirely different mediums, you know?"

Freddie is a little prankster, too: "What does a ship do when it comes into the wharf?" he queries, then yanks out the victim's tie as he answers, "Ties up." He tried it on Richard Himber, the bandmaster. But Dick, who is an amateur magician and knows all the tricks, stood bowed in thought, chin in hand, thus keeping his tie covered.

"What was that question again?" Himber asked after a few moments of reflection.

"Put your hands behind your back and I'll tell you," Freddie commanded. Dick complied—and then the youngster threw up his hands in dismay. Himber had taken his tie off!

Now that Himber has added guest stars to his melodious Friday evening program, like Ben Bernie, Phil Baker, Frank Parker, James Melton and Helen Morgan [tonight] he appears to be interesting a lot of listeners who passed him by when his own music was all that was offered. The show will move from CBS to NBC on May 1 with Lanny Ross as the guest attraction.

Hal Kemp is in a quandary. In a letter received yesterday he asks advice on what to do about playing "Gloomy Sunday," the Hungarian suicide song. Hal calls attention to published reports that a University of Michigan student committed suicide after hearing Kemp play the song on the air [via Mutual].

"If the song is to have a morbidly depressing effect," Kemp continued, "it would be inhumane to continue playing it. But it is one of the most popular numbers in our library and we feel obligated to the fans who demand it. What would you advise? Would you delete the number or capitulate to the many requests for it?"

If listeners will make known their feelings we shall relay the verdict to Mr. Kemp. Sunday, of course, need not necessarily be gloomy what with all the funny men on the air that day: Eddie Cantor, Parkyakarkas, Jack Benny, Phil Baker, Ray Perkins and Maj. Bowes' amateurs.

Griff Williams and his San Francisco orchestra are to take over the bandstand at the Aragon [with W-G-N as radio outlet] on May 9 at which time Freddie Martin leaves for the Texas Centennial. It will be Williams' first visit to the midwest. . . . WLS Barn Dance headliners will entertain at the Chicago Boys' club benefit party at the Merry Garden ballroom tonight. . . . Little Jackie Heller will return to Chicago studios next Wednesday, having completed work on his first movie in Hollywood.

DR. W. B. COLEY, NOTED AS CANCER EXPERT, IS DEAD

Victim of Gangrene at Age of 74.

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—Dr. William Bradley Coley, 74, once credited with having been more successful in treating cancer than any other physician or surgeon alive, died today in the Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled, of which he was surgeon-in-chief emeritus.

He had undergone an emergency operation for an intestinal infection yesterday, but gangrene had set in and could not be halted.

Used Toxins as Early as 1893.

Dr. Coley fought cancer with mixed toxins he devised as far back as 1893. He administered this special fluid in cases of inoperable cancer tumors. Fifteen years after he began the treatments nearly 150 instances in which the tumors were believed to have disappeared completely were reported.

Dr. Coley himself was credited with having handled forty-seven of these cases, more than any doctor then working in the field.

Fights "Fire with Fire."

His method was like fighting fire with fire. The toxins were designed to produce the inflammation known as erysipelas so that its effects might drive away the more dangerous cancer.

Despite this development, effective, of course, in only a minority of cases, Dr. Coley held to the prevailing belief that, wherever operable, "Surgery is the best remedy."

An authority on hernia, abdominal surgery, and bone surgery, Dr. Coley performed more than 17,000 operations during his career, friends here said today.

Henry Simons, Veteran of Board of Trade, Dies

Henry Simons, 81 years old, the oldest member of the Chicago Board of Trade in point of years on the exchange, died yesterday in the Mercy hospital. Mr. Simons was born in England and came to Chicago when a youth. He became a member of the board of trade in 1879. He resided at the Standard club. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Rayna Wallbrun. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon in the chapel at 5206 Broadway, with burial in Rosehill cemetery.

Plan Memorial Services Sunday for Sidney Porter

Memorial services for Sidney S. Porter, retired vice president of the Calumet Steel company, who was killed on March 13 in an automobile-truck collision at Hollywood, Fla., will be held Sunday afternoon in the chapel of the First Methodist church in Evanston. Mr. Porter resided at 1111 Michigan avenue, Evanston. He was a former alderman in Evanston and a director of the Evanston hospital association and of the Evanston Community Chest.

James Britton, Champion of American Art, Is Dead

Hartford, Conn., April 16.—[Special.]—James Britton, 58, portrait painter and organizer of several art societies, died here today. Mr. Britton was a champion of American art and devoted all of his time to art and its allied fields. The Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts was founded through his efforts, and many celebrated artists received a start through societies he helped to found.

Fay Webb Vallee's Mother Dead in Santa Monica, Cal.

Santa Monica, Cal., April 16.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mirtie Webb, 53, mother of Mrs. Fay Webb Vallee, died last night. She was born in Iowa. She was the wife of Clarence Webb, chief of police of Santa Monica.

DR. E. L. HAYFORD, HERE 40 YEARS, TAKEN BY DEATH

Dr. Ernest L. Hayford, a practicing physician in Chicago for 40 years, died yesterday in the Washington Boulevard hospital after a two month illness. He was 71 years old and lived at 2201 Monroe street. Dr. Hayford was graduated from the college of physicians and surgeons of Columbia university in 1890. He was a fellow of the American Medical association and a member of the Chicago Medical society and the Illinois Medical society. He is survived by his wife, Mary L.; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Akars of Indianapolis, Ind., and a son, Arthur W. Hayford of Westfield, N. J. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at Olivet Methodist Episcopal church, Adams street and Keeler avenue. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

WM. K. HOAGLAND OF INVESTMENT CONCERN IS DEAD

William K. Hoagland of New York, senior member of Hoagland & Allum company, Inc., investment brokers at 14 South La Salle street, died yesterday in his room at the La Salle hotel. He had been here for ten days on business. Dr. W. T. Harsha, hotel physician, said death was due either to a heart attack or a stroke. Mr. Hoagland was 52 years old.

Born in Peru, Ill., in 1884, Mr. Hoagland was graduated from the Kent College of Law in 1906. He was associated for a time with the First National Bank of Chicago and the Northern Trust company, entering the investment business in 1909.

Theodore Arndt, Chicago Florist 50 Years, Dies

Theodore Arndt, 94 years old, former Chicago florist, died on Wednesday in his home in Los Angeles, according to word received yesterday by Mrs. Eleanor Hirshberg, 1502 North Washtenaw avenue, a daughter. Mr. Arndt operated a florist shop at 735 Bittersweet place for more than 50 years until his retirement in 1909. His widow, Hannah, and three other children survive him.

Betty Forgan Is Engaged to Phillip Allen

Auditorium theater is certain to be occupied for the affair, not only because of its musical importance but because the women of the society started work months ago selling tickets and insuring the success of their benefit.

Mrs. James Ward Thorne, Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, Mrs. Howard W. Fenton, Mrs. Frank E. Wilhelm, Mrs. Norval Pierce, Mrs. Potter Palmer III., Mrs. Edward R. Fifield, and Mrs. Bryan S. Reid are a few of the many who are having dinner guests and then taking them to the Auditorium. Mrs. Kirk is president of the society and among those who have worked with her on arrangements are Mrs. Thorne, Mrs. Fenton, Mrs. Wilhelm, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Fifield, Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Laurance H. Armour, Mrs. Loyal Davis, Mrs. Mark W. Trude, Mrs. John Dern, Mrs. Walter J. Cummings, Mrs. Harry H. Shearson, Mrs. James R. Offield, Mrs. Orville Taylor, Mrs. Farwell Winston, and Mrs. George Rasmussen.

Mrs. Davis unfortunately will not be among those present tonight for she still is confined to her Lake Shore drive apartment by a broken vertebra suffered in Phoenix several weeks ago. She is getting along nicely, according to her husband, Dr. Davis, but she will not be able to be up and about for some time.

Mrs. Eleanor Winterbotham Will Arrive in City Today.

Mrs. Eleanor Hall Winterbotham will arrive in the city today not long before time to accompany her hostess, Mrs. George T. Langhorne, to the symphony concert in Orchestra hall. After the concert Mrs. Winterbotham, who is on her way back to her home in New York after having spent the winter in China, will assist Mrs. Langhorne at the tea the Cliff Dwellers will have.

Nathan Milstein, the soloist at this week's concerts—next week's end the season—will be the especial guest at the tea. Also assisting Mrs. Langhorne will be Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, Mrs. Herbert E. Hyde, Mrs. Charles Fabens Kelley, Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, and Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson.

Col. and Mrs. Langhorne are entertaining at dinner tonight for Mrs. Winterbotham before the Passavant benefit concert.

Several Events for Children.

Children are going to fare very well this week-end along entertainment lines, for in addition to the circus there are several affairs planned especially for youngsters. This afternoon and again tomorrow morning at the Community house in Winnetka the Winnetka Attic Puppets will present "Babar the Elephant."

All proceeds above expenses are donated to charity. Mrs. Richard Bull translated "Babar" from French into English and Mrs. Norman Harris composed the incidental music for the production. Today's performance will start at 4 o'clock and tomorrow's at 9:30.

There are three benefit performances for children in town tomorrow, the Junior League play in the afternoon; the Clare Tree Major production of "Hans Brinker or The Silver Skate," sponsored by the Hollins College Alumnæ club, and a showing of the film, "Dog of Flanders," for the benefit of the scholarship fund of the Francis Parker school.

"Hans Brinker" will be given at the Studebaker theater at 10:30 tomorrow morning and again at 2:30. This is the last of a series of children's entertainments sponsored by the Hollins club.

The Parker school benefit will be at 10 o'clock tomorrow at 2653 North Clark street and a number of mothers have bought blocks of seats.

Mrs. John Clay Jr. is having sixteen boys as her guests at the Junior League play tomorrow afternoon and Mrs. Richard Gambrill Jr. is having fourteen little girls.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale This Week-end.

The next two days will be strenuous ones for Girl Scouts and the women who direct their activities, with the annual cookie sale taking place in a dozen downtown hotels and stores and in various outlying communities. The cookie sale, for which the Scouts turn bakers and saleswomen, provides nearly one-fourth of the Scout budget.

Mrs. Henry H. Porter Jr., Mrs. James H. Douglas Jr., Mrs. Arthur Farwell, Miss Bonnie-Jean Clark, Mrs. Abraham L. Selz, Mrs. Joseph McNulty, Mrs. George Bayrd, and Mrs. Richard Bentley, the Scout commissioner, are among the women in charge of the sale.

Three Events to Aid Infant Welfare.

No fewer than three events, involving north and west suburban centers and a south side group, are taking place today in the interest of the Infant Welfare society.

The South Shore center is holding its annual spring luncheon, fashion review, and card party this afternoon at the South Shore Country club, with Mrs. Henry Kennedy in charge. She and her committee heads are looking forward to a successful party with more than a thousand tickets sold.

This evening the Kenilworth center is sponsoring the gala spring opening of the Continental room at the Stevens hotel. Among those who have reservations for dinner are Mr. and Mrs. Minier Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kelsey, Mr. and Mrs. Claude K. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Ashcraft III., Mr. and Mrs. David Van Vactor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osgood, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porter, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Abbott, and Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Coyne.

Clifton Utley is lecturing at 8:30 o'clock this evening at the Hinsdale club under the auspices of the Hinsdale junior auxiliary of Infant Welfare. Entertaining at dinner before the lecture will be the Gordon Wheelers, the William Wallace Kimballs, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Amberg Hasbrook [who will have Mr. and Mrs. Utley as their guests], Mr. and Mrs. Murray P. Brush, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Hannah, the D. L. Kroehlers, and the Lyell Ritchies.

Jerd Sullivans to Visit Parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerd Sullivan are arriving today from California to spend ten days with her mother and stepfather, the Robert J. Dunhams, on their way to New York.

Mrs. Wyllys Andrews arrived yesterday for a visit with her son, Dr. Edmund Andrews. On her way back from a sojourn in Hawaii she visited her daughter in California and then took the trip through the Panama canal.

Mrs. Edmund Andrews will return in a fortnight from England, where she and Mrs. Robert Dwen have been visiting relatives for six weeks. Mrs. Andrews' book on her collection of book plates, one of the largest private collections in the world, will be off the press at about that time.

According to CULBERTSON

UNNECESSARY BID.

Bidding, being a form of conversation, is guided by the rules of rhetoric. Redundancy is inexcusable and, in the case of bidding, at least, it often is expensive. When either partner has given or extracted all the information he requires, there can be no point, when a slam is not contemplated, in showing a new and inferior suit. Such a course cannot benefit any one but the opponents, who will be delighted to take full advantage of the information given them. In today's hand, East's defense of a vulnerable game contract was made comparatively simple by a completely unnecessary bid previously made by the declarer.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	NORTH ♠ Q 10 4 ♥ K Q ♦ K J 10 9 2 ♣ K Q 4
WEST ♠ K J 9 ♥ J 10 9 7 6 4 ♦ Q 8 3 ♣ 5		EAST ♠ 5 3 ♥ A 8 5 2 ♦ A 7 6 ♣ J 9 8 2
	SOUTH ♠ A 8 7 6 2 ♥ 3 ♦ 5 4 ♣ A 10 7 6 3

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	Pass	1 Spade	2 Hts. [1]
2 Spades	3 Hts.	4 Cls. [2]	Pass
4 Spades [final bid]

[1] Not a good vulnerable overcall.
[2] Since South has no serious slam aspirations, there is no point in showing the club suit.

West, on lead, decided he might jeopardize a possible club trick in partner's hand by opening his singleton and, anyway, it seemed likely that he had two natural trump tricks. So he led the jack of hearts. East won with the ace and took stock. It was apparent that only one heart trick was possible for his side, and probable that they would have to be content with only one diamond trick also. Where could he pick up the other two tricks necessary for the contract's defeat? Well, considering West's lack of heart tops, it was highly likely that he had a high spade honor, for quick control of the suit. Also, if South's four club bid had been based on a five card suit [probable, since North-South were not using asking bids] West would have only one club. Therefore, the thing to do was to remove this club while West kept trump control and he, East, retained the diamond ace for entry. On this good reasoning he led a club, Dummy won with the king and cashed the heart king for a diamond discard, after which the ace and another trump were played. West hopped up with his king, put East on lead with the diamond ace, and ruffed the club return, as per plan.

Inasmuch as East was a good player, it is quite possible that he would have used the same defensive plan had South not bid clubs. But it cannot be denied that South's bid made the defense much easier.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: What does the term "double-dummy" mean?

Tomorrow's Hand.

North, dealer.

	NORTH ♠ 10 4 ♥ A J 5 ♦ K Q 6 4 3 ♣ A 7 5
WEST ♠ Q 8 3 ♥ 10 9 8 7 6 ♦ 5 ♣ J 8 6 3		EAST ♠ J 9 7 6 2 ♥ K 3 ♦ A 8 7 ♣ K 9 4
	SOUTH ♠ A K 5 ♥ Q 4 2 ♦ J 10 9 2 ♣ Q 10 2

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's article.

Hays Wedding Tonight Will Be Large One

At one of the largest of the early spring weddings this evening at St. Mary's church in Evanston Miss Mary Louise Hays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Hays of Wilmette, will become the bride of Alan Mark Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Ferguson of Evanston.

The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Virginia Hays, as maid of honor, and by Mrs. M. A. Van Nostrand Jr. of Forest Hills, N. Y., as matron of honor. There will be eight bridesmaids—Mrs. Henry Butler of St. Louis, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Louis A. Ferguson Jr., and Mrs. Arthur Ferguson, the bridegroom's sisters-in-law; Mrs. Paul Cummins, Mrs. Robert Scott Jr., Mrs. John Haas, Miss Grace Slater of Richmond, Va., and Miss Jane Williams.

Walter Marting of Marion, O., who was Mr. Ferguson's roommate at Yale, will be his best man, and Arthur and Louis A. Ferguson Jr., brothers of the bridegroom; Henry Butler, Lucian and Emloe Wilkinson; John Mooney of Louisville, Ky.; Robert Phillips of Brookline, Mass.; George Wardman of New York, and Robert Badger will usher.

The large group of relatives and friends who will witness the ceremony will attend a reception afterward at the Edgewater Golf club in Rogers Park. Mr. Ferguson and his bride will go to Sea Island, Ga., on their wedding trip and afterward will live in Richmond, Va.

Miss Marion Ortseifen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ortseifen of Kenilworth, and Thomas J. Kane Jr., also of Kenilworth, will be married on June 27 at a solemn high mass at St. Francis Xavier church in Wilmette. Miss Camilla Kane, sister of the bridegroom, will attend as maid of honor, and Mrs. F. Henry Remien will be matron of honor.

The bridesmaids will include Miss Ortseifen's cousin, Miss Josephine Reddy; Miss Vivyenne Morin, Miss Agnes Bichl, Miss Dorothy Brooks, Mrs. Otis Rich, and Miss Clara Lawler. Billy Remien will be ringbearer and 8 year old Jean Reddy will be flower girl.

P.-T. A. Group Urged to Keep Tested Morals

Warned That Tendency Is Away from Laws.

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

Warning that the trend of modern society is from blue laws to no laws, the Rev. John B. Hubbard of Park Ridge last night called upon 2,500 members of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers to keep inviolate the time honored sanctities of life.

"Marriage and certain other institutions must be guarded if our society is to continue," the Rev. Mr. Hubbard declared. "Parents loose the reins rather than interpret life to their children."

In challenging mothers and fathers to uproot crime at its source the Rev. Mr. Hubbard continued the theme of Judge J. M. Braude of the Boys' court, who addressed a luncheon meeting of the congress delegates yesterday.

"We write articles on character, we talk about lowering taxes, but what we need to do is stop sewing new patches on old garments," the Rev. Mr. Hubbard explained. "We must get down to the sources. If all the organized women in the United States would get together on a social program they could accomplish amazing results."

Juvenile and adolescent delinquency are fundamentally economic and social and rarely traceable to hereditary deficiencies or transmitted qualities, Judge Braude declared. One-third of all the boys tried before him become involved because of the use of alcoholic beverages, he said. He urged the enforcement of the law that prohibits the sale of liquor to minors.

"Idleness is the greatest single contributing factor to adolescent delinquency," he continued. "Ninety per cent of the boys between 17 and 21 who get into trouble are neither working nor attending school." To curtail this situation Judge Braude urged keeping children in school until they can be reasonably assured of permanent employment.

Plans for a campaign for the curtainment of the sale of toy guns as advocated by Judge Braude will be embodied in a resolution to be voted on today.

Most of the 1,800 delegates to the convention spent their day yesterday in small conferences and at group luncheons. At the luncheon of the P.-T. A. mother-singers, Philip Maxwell of THE TRIBUNE extended an invitation to the P.-T. A. choral societies to sponsor a local musical festival and then send their winners to the seventh annual Chicagoland Music festival to be held Aug. 15 in Soldiers' field.

Without any opposition the slate of officers of the Illinois congress was reëlected for another year term. Mrs. Arthur R. Williams of Normal will continue in the presidency.

Cities in Michigan Pick Girls for Annual Blossom Fete Contest

Benton Harbor, Mich., April 16.—[Special.]—A score of cities and towns in southwestern Michigan are holding elimination contests this week to choose girls to come to Benton Harbor next Wednesday for the contest in which the 1936 blossom queen will be chosen.

The queen, accompanied by Miss St. Joseph and Miss Benton Harbor, will leave on Tuesday, April 28, for a thousand mile tour of midwestern cities, which will end in Chicago. On Sunday, May 3, she will come back to Benton Harbor and St. Joseph for the Blossom week activities, which will last until May 10.

Governors of three states, Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana, will be visited by the blossom queen, who will invite residents of the three states to the blossom festival. The queen will be in Chicago May 1 and 2. There the 25 girls of her court will join her for two days of sightseeing.

It Takes Tact to Manage the Five Year Old

He Is Entering Another Period of Childhood.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

The young colt, at five, "feels his oats." It's hard for parents to realize that, as a rule, this is all that's the matter with the small son or daughter whom they're used to thinking of as a mere baby—a sweet, docile, dependent baby.

Dozens of letters like the following come in the mail:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: At 6, Buddy is a normal, healthy, outdoor boy; but defiant, and lacking in manners and courtesy towards elders. I have tried patiently to bring out obedience without punishment, but all in vain.

"As he is the only boy, I have often considered another baby; but, in the meantime, I would appreciate your advice immensely. Perhaps it would guard against further clashes, with punishments which hurt me as much as him. He is bright, and his teacher speaks highly of him; but sometimes he acts like a wild little colt, and again, at times, he is just a fine little boy."

The little 5 year old can do practically everything now, as far as muscular controls are concerned. The ability to walk and talk are skills that have become automatic. He can now do everything with ease, even ride a velocipede, skate, and toss the English language about in a fashion calculated to take our breath away, at times. He is feeling his power, and naturally is going to experiment with it. New words that he hears from bigger boys usually appeal, regardless of their meaning.

Our cue, at this stage, is not to try to keep him a baby, but to realize that from 5 to 7 he is entering upon a different period in his childhood, and change both our expectations and our management of him.

Nursing Class Dance.

The senior class of St. Joseph's School of Nursing will hold a buffet supper-dance this evening at the Illinois Club for Catholic Women, 111 East Pearson street.

Women Will Open Pageant of Progress at Pier Tomorrow

A women's pageant of progress, stressing the achievements of women in science, industry, and the professions, will open at Navy pier tomorrow under the auspices of Chicago clubwomen.

Net receipts of the pageant, for which 200,000 advance tickets have been sold, will go toward the establishment of a milk fund for undernourished Chicago school children. Seventy-six women's organizations are coöperating in the affair.

Among the features, in addition to exhibits, will be daily fashion shows, held in the pier auditorium, a baby clinic conducted by the Chicago Hospital association; a demonstration of voting machines by the Woman's City club, concerts by the Woman's Symphony orchestra and lectures.

A pageant will open officially at 11 a. m. tomorrow when Lobo, celebrated Hollywood canine hero, will untie a cord with his teeth. Mrs. Burnett Dewey Warner, president of the pageant, will preside at the inaugural dinner tomorrow night.

Business Women.

Mrs. Rosa Cunningham of Des Moines, Ia., will be the principal speaker at the district meeting of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Sunday afternoon at the Palmer house.

Vanderpoel Gallery Opens Campaign for Additional Members

A membership campaign to get funds for an educational program was announced yesterday by the John H. Vanderpoel Art association. The association's gallery at Longwood drive and 96th street in Beverly Hills is known for its collection of paintings by Chicago artists.

Without an endowment or regular income the gallery depends upon the sale of memberships. Otto F. Reich is chairman of the membership committee. The campaign goal is $1,500.

The sum will permit the association, recently merged with the Ridge Art association, to sponsor additional art exhibits, make loans of pictures to schools and libraries and American Legion posts, award scholarships to the Art Institute to talented pupils, and afford the public better opportunities to inspect the canvases hanging.

Hull House Gets Addams Bust from Chinese School

A life size bust of the late Jane Addams was presented to Hull House last night by F. H. and K. Y. Tung, founders of an orphans' home in Foochow, China. The bust was displayed at the World's Fair here as an example of the work of the children in the school.

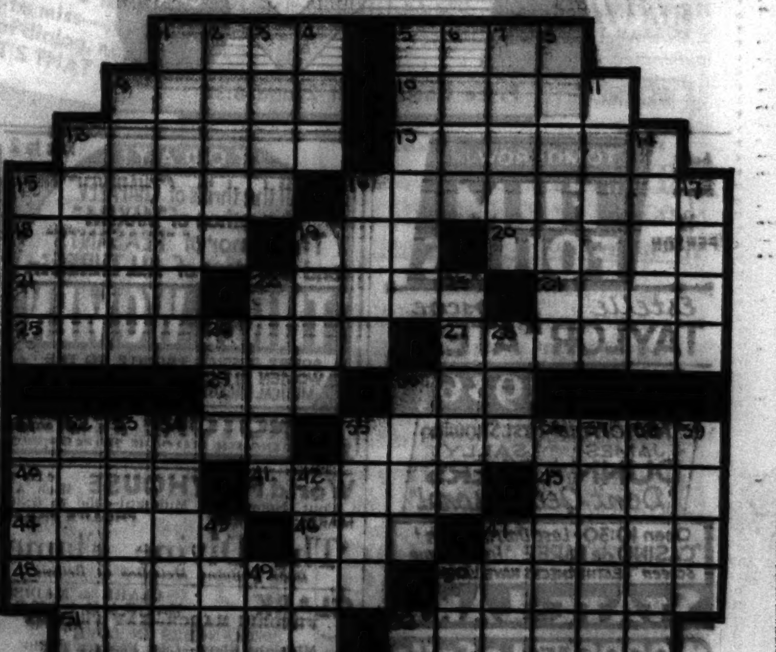
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



Bashfulness Is a Handicap to Social Success

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Elmer confides that he is a fairly intelligent university student, 20 years old, but never has had a girl because he has been so deeply interested in his studies and in certain sports activities he has had no time for them. Also, he doesn't show up well when he is introduced to girls. He becomes all hands and feet and can't think of a word to say. Naturally, the girls do not stay around to hear more of that kind of silence, as Elmer puts it.

On one occasion, he confesses, after hanging around a punch bowl for a while, he got up enough courage to kiss a girl. He was as surprised as the girl was. That was the first time in his life he ever kissed a girl. Well, the flavor remains and now he would like a girl friend as a fairly steady diet. But he can't get up the nerve to ask for a date. So Elmer fears that unless a radical change comes over him soon, he'll go to his grave with the memory of but one kiss and it synthetically earned.

"What," asks Elmer, "can a fellow do to overcome this shyness?"

Naturally, we can't advise Elmer to hang around the punch bowl and gather courage for another onslaught. But it is in the boy to express himself once he manages to release himself from the clutches of shyness. Knowing this ought to help Elmer. But why be so tongue tied with girls? Those with whom we happen to be familiar certainly are not forbidding and, given a small bit of conversational bait, they fall like a house on fire.

A college youth should be able to get a great amount of practice conversationally, with all the study and sports interests with which to open fire. However, it isn't what to say but how to get yourself ready to say anything with which the formula is concerned. And there isn't any other rule but to go ahead and talk. Open your mouth and say something, no matter if both feet land in it. Stutter, stammer, blush, shift your feet, but say something if it is only: "Aren't we having nice weather!" Say something. And again say something.

And keep on saying things, no matter how blah and inane they may appear to you at the time.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Small Children Need Clothes.

"Dear Miss Brown: I am the mother of a large family and have a difficult time trying to feed and shelter them, to say nothing of keeping them clothed. My husband is working at present, but his wages are small and he is not in good health.

"Do you suppose your readers could help me with discarded clothing for a boy of 7 and a girl 8? These two children are the oldest and the only ones attending school. On one occasion my little daughter came home crying because she had been teased about being so shabby. I am handy at making things over, and will greatly appreciate your help.

Special Squad

By Courtney Ryley Cooper

SYNOPSIS.

Inspector Sandy Ross and Buck Wasey of the department of justice travel from Reno to Vinton City in search of information on Sociable Joe Willis, suspected of implication in armored car robberies. A collision of two cars on a mountain road brings Jane Bronson into Sandy's life. But when she learns his identity she vanishes. A letter from Sociable Joe brought Jane to Vinton City to plead with her brother, Lee, to give up his gang connections. Lee makes a hurried getaway with Jane, driving a cream colored sedan. Meanwhile in San Francisco the Lurch-McKeever mob await the arrival of Lee Bronson, needed for his female impersonation [illegible]. Sandy and Buck fly to San Francisco, where another armored car holdup has been attempted. The gang is identified through finger prints. The manhunt brings Sandy and Buck to Kansas City, where Jane has returned to her home. Sociable Joe is also there. Jane can't understand Sociable Joe's interest in Lee. A telephone call from Lee to Sociable Joe arranging a meeting is intercepted. Jane accompanies Joe to the rendezvous. They are fired at by two bandits, Joe being hit. Federal men kill both men. Bronson is captured. Lee admits that Sociable Joe connected with the gang in a [illegible]. Lee is taken to Billings, where the gang has a mountain hideout. Lee refuses to aid the federal men until Sociable Joe confronts him and announces that Lee is not Jane's brother, but his own son, and threatens to take the stand against him.

INSTALLMENT XLVII.
CLOSING IN ON THE GANG.

In each car was the equipment of battle; rifles, machine guns, tear gas, and shotguns.

They were on the fringe of Yellowstone park. Sandy Ross glanced about him.

"No airplanes ever flew this route," he conjectured as he lowered the car's speed. "They went about twenty-five miles east of here."

The prisoner eyed him.

"You're thinking about that scrap of letter. The one about the bear. You see, I named him Sociable Joe—you know, from always hanging around. Still he was sort of skittish at that. So when he'd run we'd say he was trying to make an airplane. Gang code, you know, meaning to hit for a hideout."

"O," said Sandy as he turned slowly upon a precipitous mountain road. Lee Bronson, in that paragraph, had explained many things.

A change seemed to have come over the prisoner on this long trip from Billings. He had been silent for the most part, introspective. When he had answered Sandy's questions there had been almost an attitude of deference. All the fight was gone.

"Long range stuff," mused Sandy.

where the machines slowed to low gear and their droning journey was one of bumps and sideways along dangerous stretches where the rutty, trail-like passage literally clung to the side of serrated hills, with the gulch dropping away thousands of feet below. Only twice his reticence broke. Once, slumped in his seat, he stared for a moment at his handcuffs and said:

Again, when he spoke, it was with information that electrified:

They had reached a wide spot in the mountains, more of a swale than a valley. Sandy Ross pulled the car swiftly into the open space and with an extended arm commanded that the others join him.

Cars roared to a halt. Doors swung open and men flooded forth. Outposts were stationed to watch the road in each direction.

"The cabin's five miles from here," Sandy announced after a conference with Bronson. "They might hear our motors if we drove closer. We'll surround the gang shortly before dusk."

"Yeh, and even then we won't have any sweet time," growled Buck Wasey. His hand moved instinctively toward the Frontier model at his belt, then desisted. This job meant rifle work.

Guards took their places to remain with the automobiles. In the event of escape by the remaining members of the Lurch-McKeevor gang there must be no possibility that they find government cars waiting to aid them. Then, with rifles and extra cartridge clips, with caution beginning even here, the federal men began their journey.

It was a circuitous route; they could not risk the use of the writhing road which cut along the mountainside. Danger increased with every step of the upward journey. For that reason, to elude outlooks, to escape the possible effect of a sniping shot should their quarry be where Lee Bronson was leading them, they must avoid every open patch of territory, any route which would leave them exposed either to the gaze or rifle fire of those who might be awaiting them.

Again there must be constant watchfulness on the part of the federal men to assure themselves that they were not being led into a trap. True, Lee Bronson's manner had changed greatly since that stark scene in Sociable Joe's bedroom when even while claiming Lee as his son, he disowned him, while admitting parenthood he announced his repugnance.

Lee Bronson had lived on that queer egotism which, by obsessing gangsters, makes them and sometimes breaks them when it falters. It was this eventuality which the Special Squad depended upon for its safety—Sociable Joe's denunciation seemed to have taken from this young man the last vestige of the overwhelming inflatus which had surrounded him. But they could not be sure. The eyes of Sandy Ross and Buck Wasey were on him constantly. No signal sounded from above, however, no whistling shot sounded. Once as they stopped to rest Lee Bronson looked about him—at the stretches of conifer, the trickle of a stream as it splattered its way along a faraway rock slide.

"That's where we used to see Sociable Joe," he half whispered.

"Long way off," answered Buck.

"Sometimes he'd come closer," the bandit answered in a low voice. "When we were away he'd always sneak right up to the cabin and try to get in."

"Looking for bacon or sugar," said Sandy.

"Yeh, I know." The young man leaned against a tree. "We got a great kick out of him." A faint smile came to his lips. "We used to have a swell time out here. The gang always hit for this place, you know, as soon as we knocked over something."

Sandy regarded him. It was an entirely different Lee Bronson who now faced them, as though an armor had been stripped from him, leaving him piteously aware of his weaknesses. The inspector said:

"It'd been a good thing if you could have stayed here."

Lee Bronson nodded slowly.

"Yeh, I know that—now." He pulled at his breath, his lower teeth cutting hard at his upper lip. Then, catching the action of Buck Wasey as he hefted his gun and glanced upward, the gangster rubbed a hand slowly along the trunk of the tree against which he had been leaning, as if in gesture of farewell. Then, with bent form and plodding legs, he once more led the way up the mountainside.

Two hours later, perspiring from the heavy climb, their clothing torn by mountain brambles and sullied from soggy progress through the seepage of eternal snow, Sandy and Buck Wasey, with Lee Bronson between them, looked out from a patch of gnarled timber upon an expanse of thin-grassed, high-country meadow. In the center, more than a half mile from any cover, stood a one-roomed log cabin.

"Long range stuff," mused Sandy, and raised the heavy Monitor rifle which had seared his shoulder during the upward journey. He glanced about him. Spotted a hundred feet away was a special agent flat on his stomach and setting the sights on his .351 automatic rifle.

Beyond him was another—to the left there showed two more. Providing that their progress had been unimpeded, other groups were settling themselves at distances of some five hundred yards apart all about this wide area. "We'll wait a while," said Sandy at last. "Be sure that every one's in place."

In these long moments he could not help taking inventory on Lee Bronson. The once defiant, over-awed gangster was pale, gaunt—but even in his worn condition he somehow seemed to have become more wholesome to look upon. The sneer was gone from his lips, giving way to an expression almost of wistfulness. His eyes suddenly had taken on character; they seemed constantly to be looking far away, toward things which no one else could see.

GASOLINE ALLEY—MAKE IT BIG BUSINESS

Release Toby Wing; Find She Leads in Mail

Discovery by Paramount Comes Too Late.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., April 16.—[Special.]—Right after Paramount had permitted Toby Wing's contract to lapse and Hal Roach studio had signed up the bubbly blonde, an executive at Paramount was startled to learn that 20 year old Toby had drawn more fan mail during the last two years than either Claudette Colbert or Carole Lombard.

What made it more striking was not that Claudette and Carole are this studio's two major exemplifications of feminine appeal, but that Toby had not even appeared in a single Paramount picture in more than a year.

Platinum headed Toby is the secret passion of more United States sailors than any other actress. In that respect she has replaced Clara Bow, who has now retired. But if Paramount wants to film any more navy pictures with Toby in them it will have to borrow her at a salary premium from Hal Roach.

At M. G. M. they are using a cocker spaniel with a brood of puppies for one of the sequences. Nobody has yet had nerve enough to tell Sylvia Sidney, the fussy star of "Mob Rule," what the dog's name is. The dog's name is Sylvia and the prop men are trying to coax her to answer to a new name for the scenes when Miss Sidney is around.

Lew Ayres, who has just shifted from the rôle of actor to that of director, made a lively impression on a number of the preview critics with his first feature film. It is titled "The Glory Parade" and is about John Ericsson, inventor of the civil war monitor, and stirring times in and subsequent to the war. Ayres is 27 years of age and only about eight years removed from being a banjo playing crooner in a Mexican border café. Being a film director has been his goal ever since his start here in minor acting jobs in 1928.

Mary Garden has arrived to act as operatic adviser for Metro studio.

Josephine Hutchinson drinks one quart or more of milk every day. More than that, she says she goes on a wholly milk diet every now and then for a couple of days at a time.

Ketti Gallian, blonde French beauty who was superseded by Claudette Colbert in the recently completed "Under Two Flags," has been signed by Paramount for the rôle of the Russian girl opposite Francis Lederer in the light romantic drama tentatively titled "The Old Timer."

Bill Powell and Carole Lombard, who fell into romance and marriage when they were co-starred before, are now, as a happily divorced and mutually admiring couple, to be co-featured again in "My Man Godfrey" at Universal.

Montague Love is illustrating a book of plays written by his friend, Alan Mowbray. Love is an artist of professional rating and the same can be said about Mowbray as a playwright, one of his plays, "Dinner Is Served," having appeared both in New York and London.

In filming "Dancing Pirate," all color extravaganza just finished, Lloyd Corrigan, the director, vows that none of the cast at any time wore any grease paint at all. Seems this fundamental of all makeup practice has to be discarded for color camera work.

Bows and Graceful Lines

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

Simple sewing requirements are the keynote of this gracefully designed town dress suitable for either slender or heavy figures, but particularly flattering to the latter. The sleeves are raglan, whether one prefers them long or short. Soft bows trim the neckline and the belt and a new version of the scarf effect is presented in the bodice. Gores provide width in the skirt, becoming smart plaits at the hemline. Every detail of this dress casts its vote for summer comfort and laundering practicability.

This slenderizing frock is enchantingly lovely and feminine in violet linen or tub silk. Every woman considers that she has one favorite or especially flattering color which suits her best, and she may employ it to her heart's content in this dress, since its simple lines allow latitude in choice of shades.

Sheer cotton prints, shantung, and challis prints are other suggestions for this indispensable dress.

Style No. 2742 is designed for sizes 16 and 18 years, and in 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material.

Diet Has Major Influence on All Loveliness

Aids Skin, Hair, Teeth, and Fingernails.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Eat for a radiant skin. Food for that schoolgirl complexion. Feeding the hair from the inside. Food for your teeth. Food and the nails. Reduce for beauty. The foregoing, as chapter headings, indicate the sane and scientific trend we are taking in this eternal pursuit of beauty. The book treating beauty from the food standpoint is the work of Benjamin Gayelord Hauser, nutritional chemist, lecturer, and dictator of dietary doctrines to large bodies of women the country over. "Eat and Grow Beautiful" [Tempo] is the name of the book from which you may extract all manner of useful information on the subject closest to women's hearts.

"When fingernails grow brittle, hair falls out, or teeth grow soft," one reads the warning in "Eat and Grow Beautiful," "we should accept nature's warning and add minerals to the diet."

Sheen and luster to the hair, color to faded lips, smoothness to the fingernails, whiteness to the teeth, sparkle to the eyes, and peaches and cream to the complexion are but a few of the promises offered with what Hauser chooses to call his cosmetic diet. As in his chapter on reducing for beauty you'll find the facts of food presented in a simple manner and an easy to follow one.

Hauser puts emphasis on the way a potential reducer should consider beginning the day. You're wrong, he says, if you think you can't begin the day without a heavy breakfast. You can and will feel better for it, he claims. For breakfast our authority suggests you have either orange or grapefruit juice or, if you prefer, occasionally stewed fruit. These will help flush the waste out of your system and give your blood stream the purification it needs.

At noon time you are urged to make it a salad meal. Salad luncheons supply precious minerals and vitamins [true beautifiers] and they furnish the bulk and roughage the system needs. Two spoonsful of lemon juice, one spoonful of olive oil, vegetable salt to taste, and a bit of honey is offered as an ideal salad dressing.

For your dinner you are asked to begin with a vegetable juice cocktail or a salad. Then have your meat course, and with your meat have one or two cooked vegetables. In place of bread and potatoes eat all you want of what our authority calls "appetite spoilers," namely radishes, onions, celery sticks, carrot sticks, raw cauliflower. A fruit dessert or compote completes your menu for the day.

Former Pharmacy Students to Honor Dr. C. M. Snow

Dr. Cylde M. Snow, who has retired after thirty-four years as a teacher of pharmacy in Illinois colleges and universities, will be the guest of honor this evening at a dinner to be given in the Lake Shore Athletic club. His former students and faculty associates and a number of old friends will be present. Dr. Snow was graduated from the University of Illinois school of pharmacy in 1902 and had been on the staff of the school since 1910. Dr. Snow is 68 years old.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The bath trimming of the week is a vastly amusing one, and nice, too. It's amusing, that is, if you're one who adores a lovely, riotous fluff of lathery bubbles in the tub with you. It's a water softener that works in an unusual way its wonders to perform. You pour a few tablespoonfuls under the running water and when your tub is drawn you've more bubbles than there are clouds in the sky.

It perfumes the water, too, which is certainly important—but we're a fool for those bubbles. They make the bath so luxurious you feel almost too much of an orchid for your New England conscience. You're in a sea of frothy lather.

The mysterious liquid contains no soap, we're told—and how the bubbles get there is one of those ask-us-another problems some one else will have to worry about. We'll just enjoy them.

In any case, to get less frivolous, the lovely liquid softens the water, perfumes it, leaves the skin feeling slightly invigorated but pampered at the same time—and also perfumes the skin slightly. It doesn't leave the tub messy, either.

There are four fragrances. The lilac seems to us particularly successful. There's pine for those who prefer their bath glorifiers in that motif and one called "eau de cologne" which is excellent. This last tints the water, by the way.

These are inexpensive, which rather endears them to us. After all, luxurious baths should be within the reach of every one of us. It isn't only the girls with a flock of money to spend who have a taste for them.

The harder the water runs the bigger and better the bubbles are. You can have millions if you wish.

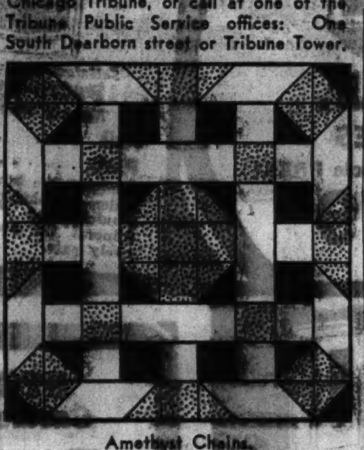
Blocks of Quilt Are Assembled in Chain Formation

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.



Amethyst Chains.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Amethyst Chains" is one of the oldest and, perhaps, least known of the many pieced quilt blocks. Made years ago as an allover quilt pattern, the blocks are assembled to form a series of gold chains, between the links of which are amethysts of various sizes and shapes. Quite naturally, the most successful color combination for this quilt is gold, amethyst, and white. The quilting done in outline around each single block creates a coverlet which, once made, never would be sold or given away, but remain cherished by the maker.

Red Cross to Offer Three Courses in Life Saving

PICK QUALIFIERS FOR NATIONAL GOLDEN GLOVES

3 Chicago Fighters Win A. A. U. Bouts.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., April 16.—Verne Patterson, John Hawthorne, and Paul Frazier led the Chicago Central association boxing team into the semi-finals of the National A. A. U. meet tonight in Public hall. Each won two bouts in the national tournament and now have qualified for the National Golden Gloves tournament opening in Chicago May 7.

Each, of course, still has a chance to win a National A. A. U. title, but this, in reality, is subordinate to qualification for the National Golden Gloves meet since, from that meet, the 16 boys who will represent the United States at the Olympic games in Berlin will be chosen.

Hold Finals at Stadium May 20.

These Chicago boys and their associates from the national tournament, from the national collegiate tournament, from the army and navy, and the 1936 Golden Gloves champions will step through the preliminary rounds May 7 and 8. The 16 winners will fight for the National Golden Gloves titles at the Chicago Stadium on May 20. This tournament, the most comprehensive ever undertaken in the history of amateur boxing, will supplant the International Golden Gloves show held each year by THE TRIBUNE.

Patterson, Chicago's survivor in the 135 pound class since Andy Scrivani lost a close decision last night, defeated Ralph Gallegos of the Southern association in his first fight tonight. Then the Chicago boy trounced Joe August, hard hitting fighter from the Intermountain association. Patterson dropped August at the end of the third round and his margin of victory was just about that much.

Frazier Demonstrates Speed.

Paul Frazier, middleweight, an Intercity winner this year in the ninth annual Golden Gloves meet with New York, won from Hugh McPhillips of the Pacific association in his first appearance tonight. Two hours later Frazier administered a licking to Harold Dettman of Cleveland. Paul never has been faster nor hit more effectively and there is every possibility that he may fight his way into the middleweight Olympic class despite the presence of the sensational Milton Shivers of Detroit, 1936 Golden Gloves champion.

Shivers is here but he is not fighting. Jackie Wilson of Cleveland, Golden Gloves 112 pound champion, the only one of the eight Chicago winners to compete in the National A. A. U. tournament, scored two victories tonight just as easily as he whipped New York's best flyweight. Wilson already has qualified for the National Golden Gloves tournament so the committee will name a substitute from the tournament here.

Bellini Beats Carlucci.

Tony Carlucci lost a brilliant scrap to Troy Bellini, 1934 Golden Gloves champion, tonight. Bellini was on the floor once in the third round. His victory, however, proved costly for he was weakened for his match with Lou Gevinson of the Washington, D. C., association. After leading for two rounds, Troy was floored twice in the third and lost the decision.

Howell King of Detroit eliminated Elwood McReynolds of the Chicago team on a hairline decision. John Smith of New Jersey whipped Hiner Thomas of Chicago in another close battle in which the decision could have gone either way.

Hawthorne Beats Merritt.

John Hawthorne, Chicago's light heavyweight, was the third boy to qualify from the Central association. Shortly before midnight, Hawthorne took his second decision of the evening from Daniel Merritt of Cleveland. In his first battle Hawthorne whipped Clarence Boone of the Carolina association.

The list of qualifiers for the Na-

Don't Lose Out

Tickets for the national Golden Gloves tournament, winners of which will represent the United States in the Olympic games, are going fast. Delay in mailing your order will mean disappointment.

Champions of the army, navy and marine corps! Champions of the colleges of America! National A. A. U. champions and our own Chicago Golden Gloves champions! All will be here.

AN INFIELD FOR 1948?

4 Perricones, A to D, Break Into Baseball

Beaumont, Tex., April 16.—(AP)—The world's only living male quadruplets, 6 year old A, B, C, and D Perricone, broke into professional baseball here today and stole the show.

They were introduced to Gov. James V. Allred and the crowd of 7,000 fans as the Beaumont Exporters' "1948 watch charm infield" by Owner Rube L. Stueart.

Will Get Opportunities.

Owner Stueart proudly told the fans he hopes the youngsters will become a million dollar infield. They will be offered every opportunity possible to master the game.

After the introductions the Perricones joined Gov. Allred in the stands. The governor and Charley Lockhart, diminutive state treasurer, seemed to enjoy the festivities fully as much as the famous A, B, C, and D boys. A thundershower ended the game in the eighth, but the Perricones were happy. Beaumont defeated San Antonio in a Texas league game, 8 to 0.

Yell Selves Hoarse.

And what a game! The Perricones yelled themselves hoarse, for Roy Cullenbine smashed out two home runs and their favorite Exporter, Lanky George Gill, set San Antonio batsmen down with only one hit.

The Perricones went home in high spirits—hoping to fulfill Owner Stueart's dreams of a million dollar quadruplet infield.

American Clinches World 3 Cushion Billiard Title

New York, April 16.—(AP)—Edward Lee of the New York Athletic club clinched the world's amateur three cushion billiards championship tonight when he defeated Hendricks Robyns of Holland, 50 to 35, in 66 innings for his sixth consecutive tourament victory. Lee thus became the first American ever to win the title. Lee has only one more game to play before the tourney closes, meeting Alfred Lagache of France, the 1935 champion, in the final match tomorrow. His closest rivals, Lagache and Eugene Deardorff of St. Louis, have lost two games each.

Petition Circulated to Ban Horse Bets in California

San Francisco, Cal., April 16.—(AP)—Atty. Gen. U. S. Webb titled an initiative petition today on request of a southern California group seeking to prohibit horse race betting. The group is the American Citizens Equalization society of Los Angeles, which will seek sufficient signatures to place the petition on the November ballot.

Jim McMillen Beats Brown at Coliseum

Jim McMillen, one of the veteran troupers in the professional wrestling ranks, staged another successful performance in the headline act at the Coliseum last night. He defeated Orville Brown, straight man with a very audible grunt, in 42 minutes and 45 seconds, which gave McMillen enough time to catch a train for Detroit, where he will appear tonight.

McMillen was given several embarrassing moments by Orville, but James pulled a few tricks from his bag as train time neared. The performers staged an interesting match despite the fact that it was held almost in privacy. The receipts were announced at $311.

Brown Has His Moments.

Each took turns on being thrown from the ring. Brown, who has played similar rôles for such artists as Jim Londos and Dick Shikat, tossed the former University of Illinois football player around the ring for the first 20 minutes of the match. McMillen then went to work.

The supporting cast met with marked success. Gus Sonnenberg, talented artist of Boston, and Abe Coleman, New York, toiled for 30 minutes, the referee returning a draw verdict.

Steele Defeats Murphy.

Bobby Bruns, Chicago, and Ernie Zeller, Terre Haute, Ind., also drew in the second number of the program. In the first act Howard Blazer, Green Bay, Wis., used a double toe hold to toss Don Koch, Milwaukee, in 13 minutes and 9 seconds.

SOX KEPT IDLE BY COLD; INVADE DETROIT TODAY

Whitehead Picked to Hurl Against Auker.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Cold weather kept the White Sox from playing the final with the St. Louis Browns at Comiskey Park yesterday afternoon and similar unfavorable conditions in Cleveland gave the world champion Detroit Tigers a day off. So all the Sox had to do yesterday was to figure on how to beat the Tigers in the champs' home opener at Detroit this afternoon, and the Tigers vice versa.

A capacity crowd is expected at the rebuilt Navin field in Detroit if the weather man gives the customers half a chance. Detroiters are strong for their champions, as the whole world knows, and it is thought that 30,000 or 40,000 of them would not be deterred by anything short of a blizzard. If there is a blizzard the opener will be postponed. As things stand, however, it is expected close to 120,000 will see the series.

Mercury Slides Down.

The reason the Sox had some concern about today's weather was found in the antics of the thermometer at their home premises yesterday. It was 52 at noon, a striking contrast from the 80 of opening day and Wednesday's 70, but still warm enough to play. At 2 o'clock the park mercury had dropped to 42, and a bulletin from the weather bureau said there probably would be a further drop of four or five degrees before game time. Then came the business of canceling the game.

John Whitehead, who showed evidence of too long a layoff in the Chicago opener, has been designated to start against the Tigers. It was against the Tigers, in the third game last year, that Whitehead won his first major league victory, the first of his sensational string of eight before he suffered his first defeat. The Sox won, 3 to 2, the Tigers doing all their scoring in the first inning.

Auker Choice of Tigers.

The Sox expect to look at Elden Auker, against whom they set a hitting record the last time they faced him. They made ten singles in one inning the last day of last season.

Both the Sox and Tigers will use the same lineups they have used in their two American league games:

CHICAGO.	DETROIT.
Radcliff,lf	Rogell,ss
Kreevich,cf	Cochrane,c
Haas,1b	Gehringer,2b
Washington,rf	Greenberg,1b
Appling,ss	Simmons,cf
Piet,2b	Goslin,lf
Dykes,3b	Fox,rf
Sewell,c	Owen,3b
Whitehead,p	Auker,p

The Sox are interested in seeing what they can do with their old pal, Al Simmons. Al never has failed to make a home run in his first game with a new team in its home park. Much as the boys like Al, they think this record has gone far enough. Al has doubled in each of his two American league games as a Tiger.

May Play One of Biggest Series.

The Sox, who are 500 points ahead of the Tigers in the major league standings, are scheduled to play in Detroit over the week-end. This may mean one of the biggest three game series in the history of the major leagues and certainly the biggest in the early part of the season, again with the weather proviso.

Right after his boys were frozen out yesterday Manager Dykes announced he had released Pitcher Ira Hutchinson to St. Paul of the American association and Catcher George Caithamer to the Richmond team of the Piedmont league.

The Sox now are down to 26 players, three over the May 16 limit. The three extras will not stick till the deadline, according to Boss Dykes.

Bowler Shoots Nothing at All in Tourney Game

Pekin, Ill., April 16.—[Special.]—Bowling in the Keystone sweepstakes, a factory tournament, Henry Waldon, Pekin, shot a score of nothing in his last game here last night on the Recreation Center alleys. Walden had never bowled before but started with a 50 game, followed with 42 pins and then rolled the ball in the gutter 20 straight times.

When in Doubt Bet Bradley; Back Banister

BY FRENCH LANE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lexington, Ky., April 16.—The Derby thousands who, when in doubt about the outcome of the race, bet on Bradley will buy their tickets this year on Col. Bradley's colt Banister. This surprising situation was revealed at Idle Hour farm, near here, today by Trainer Dick Thompson.

Banister, everybody in Kentucky had thought, was the one colt among the Bradley candidates that would command little attention. They further believed that he would be unlikely to start. He was unable to win a race in seven attempts last year, and thus will be a maiden when he reaches the Derby scene.

The weeks of long training ordeals and the anxious moments of speed trials, however, have shown Trainer Thompson that if there is to be a fifth Bradley Derby victory this year Banister must deliver the goods.

Bien Joli Dislikes Distance.

Bien Joli, the Bradley candidate with the best 2 year old record, has demonstrated that he doesn't want to go more than a mile. Trainer Thompson didn't say so, but the more talkative exercise boys on Idle Hour farm passed out this information. Bow to Me, the third of the Bradley Derby eligibles, already has gone wrong in training.

Still there's hope on Idle Hour farm that the coming Derby will be another Bradley Derby. The fact that Banister never has won a race does not cause concern. Brokers Tip never had won a race when he got that rough and tumble decision over Head Play back in 1933.

Banister is a much better looking horse than Brokers Tip and he has never faltered at the training tasks Thompson has cut out for him. There isn't a more severe training task master in the country than Thompson,

END ST. LOUIS VISIT WITH 2D VICTORY, 5 TO 3

Carleton Will Pitch Chicago Opener.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

With their appetites sharpened by two victories over the St. Louis Cardinals, their most formidable rivals, the Cubs will bow themselves into Wrigley field today for their season's home opener and endeavor to convince their constituents that a second straight National league pennant achievement is in the making. The Cubs made it two out of three over the Cardinals yesterday at St. Louis by winning, 5 to 3.

As a kickoff attraction this afternoon Manager Charley Grimm has put James [Tex] Carleton in a frame with hopes that the picture will dazzle the Cincinnati Reds, who will be the Cubs' rivals for the day as well as for tomorrow and Sunday. But the Reds are planning on a little dazzling in their own behalf. They are going to use Paul Derringer, who, being the No. 1 man of their pitching staf, may be able to create an idea that last year's pennant, which was raised during the unhappy world series with the Tigers and which will be floating this afternoon, is merely a symbol of a past event.

Case of Necessity.

The nomination of Carleton, winner of 11 games against 8 defeats last season, for an important occasion may be questioned by some of the back room managers, but in this case it is a necessity. The schedule makers, by limiting a series to three games instead of four as in the past, unconsciously broke up the old practice that permitted managers to open with their best mound worker. Grimm, having used up Lon Warneke, Bill Lee, and Larry French at St. Louis, had no other choice than Charley Root, but the old boy needs a little more time.

It can do no harm to recall Carleton's last appearance on the same mound from which he'll do his firing this afternoon. There also were advance complaints at that time that Grimm was assuming unnecessary risks. The event was the fourth game of the world series last Oct. 5. The slatlike Texan crossed up the skeptics with a brilliant exhibition against the Tigers, now world champions. They beat him, 2 to 1, but the deciding run was the result of Augie Galan dropping an easy fly and Bill Jurges losing a tame grounder hit by Alvin Crowder, the pitcher for the other side.

FRENCH CHECKS CARDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., April 16.—As a warmup for their homecoming, the Cubs this afternoon heaped grief on the half of the famous Dean family that wasn't present on opening day. This time it was Brother Paul, the younger and more modest of the pair, and while he was a skilled workman most of the afternoon he was nicked sufficiently to give the league champions their second triumph in the three game series with the Cardinals. The score was 5 to 3.

Bother Paul encountered all of his unhappiness in one inning—the fifth. With a two run lead in his possession he suddenly became entangled in such items as a hit batter, a couple of safe drives and a couple of passes. The Cubs hurriedly extracted four runs from this. Then they scored another useless run in the eighth when the three umpires in service temporarily scrambled their judgment on the infield fly rule and Happy Frankie Frisch, manager of the Cards, countered with a declaration that he would protest the outcome.

French Gets Better.

The flurry that nudged Dean off his course in the fifth was highly acceptable to Larry French, who last season wasn't able to beat the so-called Gas House gang. The veteran southpaw was lathered with four straight hits, good for two runs in the second, and for a couple of in-

RED SOX DEFEAT ATHLETICS, 10-4; CRONIN INJURED

Manager Suffers Thumb Fracture in 2d Inning.

Boston, Mass., April 16.—(AP)—Manager Joe Cronin stopped shortstopping for two and possibly three weeks today when he fractured his right thumb while his Boston Red Sox pounded the Philadelphia Athletics for a 10 to 4 victory.

The mishap occurred in the second inning, just after Cronin had missed George Puccinelli's grounder. Pinkey Higgins singled. When Jim Oglesby

The Manager juggled the ball and had to tag out Higgins. Cronin did not feel the injury immediately. He then fielded Lam Newsome's drive and started a double play that retired the A's without a score.

BARTELL, MUNGO FINED $25 FOR FIGHT ON FIELD

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—Dick Bartell, shortstop of the New York Giants, and Van Lingle Mungo, pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, were fined $25 today for their fistic setto at first base yesterday in the game between the two teams at the Polo grounds. Harvey Traband, secretary of the National league, announced the fines after consulting with Ford Frick, president of the league.

The fine of $25 is the minimum, and league officials agreed that the fight between the two, typical of Bartell's long standing feud with all of the Dodgers, did not warant a suspension for either player.

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—PAT'S TRAINING TO BE A COMMUTER

Giants Rally in 9th; Defeat Dodgers, 7-6

New York, April 16.—(AP)—The New York Giants made it three straight over the Brooklyn Dodgers with a 7 to 6 victory today, a double by Hank Leiber in the ninth driving in the final two runs.

Van Mungo, who lost yesterday's game and was fined $25 for his fight with Dick Bartell, had throttled the Giants' attack after relieving Ed Brandt in the fifth, when the New Yorkers bunched four hits with a walk and a wild pitch to count three runs and tie the score.

With two out in the ninth Whitehead walked and Ott dropped a single in center. Leiber sent up what appeared to be an easy fly, but Freddy Lindstrom and Jimmy Jordan collided trying to make the catch. The ball bounced free for a two bagger, sending the tying and winning runs home.

Bartell, who also was fined $25 for the battle with Mungo, was not in the Giant lineup. He remained at home suffering from a bad cold as well as a bruised leg, hurt when he tripped and fell while running out a grounder yesterday. He is expected to be out of the game several days.

REDS BEAT PIRATES, 7 TO 4.

Cincinnati, O., April 16.—(AP)—Long range hitting off Big Jim Weaver brought the Cincinnati Reds their first victory of the year as they defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 4, today.

After Kiki Cuyler, the first man to face Weaver, cracked out a homer in the first inning, the Reds bunched four hits, including a homer by Ival Goodman, George McQuinn's triple and Bill Myers' double, to score three times in the third.

Three successive singles, a walk and a force out accounted for the fifth and sixth runs in the seventh, and a pair of singles and a sacrifice added another in the eighth.

Al Hollingsworth held the Pirates to six hits, the first of which was Bud Hafey's second home run of the year in the first inning.

Cubs at Home Today; Win 2 of 3 Games

nings thereafter was threatening to fold up. But once his pals had provided him with a working margin he tightened and went to the finish with practically no annoyance except for a slight disturbance in the eighth. French disposed of eight Cardinals on strikes.

Hits by Grimm, Herman, Galan, and Hack were instrumental in getting runs for the Cubs, but they received some assistance from unexpected sources. The Cards had a couple of freshmen, Fred Ankenman at shortstop and Louis Scoffic in right field, and the youngsters didn't do much to strengthen their hold on big league employment. A ball which bounced over the half pint shortstop was the real cause of the trouble in the fifth. Scoffic fumbled a grounder in the same inning. And an error by Ankenman, his second, contributed to the daffiness which developed over the infield fly in the eighth.

Two Off French in Second.

French probably was thankful that he emerged from the home half of the second with only two runs against him. Medwick opened with a two base drive against the screen in right. He went to third on Collins' single to center. Davis looped a two bagger to right, Medwick scoring. A scratch hit to Hack by Scoffic filled the bases. Ankenman fanned and P. Dean grounded to Hack, but Collins beat the throw to the plate. Further damage was avoided when Moore fouled to Grimm and Frisch struck out.

The Cubs' four run outburst in the fifth started when Jurges was punctured by a pitched ball. French sacrificed. Galan slapped a bounder straight at Ankenman and the ball took an unexpected hop over the midget's head for a single, Jurges scoring. Herman singled to right and continued to second on Scoffic's fumble, Galan stopping at third. Klein was complimented with an intentional pass. Hartnett also walked, although the base on balls wasn't intentional, and Galan counted. Herman ran home on Demaree's fly and Klein scored the fourth run on a single by Grimm.

That Eighth Inning Confusion.

The confusion in the eighth when the Cubs scored once and Frisch announced he would protest the game to league headquarters began with Hack doubling after one was gone. Jurges was safe on a fumble by Ankenman. French rolled to Martin and was credited with a hit although Frisch, who covered first on the play, dropped the throw.

The next incident was the one that set the umpires running in circles. Galan lifted a tall fly over third and Martin dropped it, two of the arbiters ruling the batter out on the infield fly rule. As soon as the ball was dropped, Hack started for the plate and French for second. Martin recovered the loose ball and threw it to Collins. Collins tagged French, who endeavored to return to first, but Hack was across the plate before this play was made.

Umpires Guess Correctly.

Then nobody seemed to know what to do. The Cardinals charged the umpires and the Cubs cut in to protect their rights although they weren't sure just what they were. The umpires attempted individual explanations, but these didn't go over. So the three men in blue went into a private conference. They emerged with a statement that the run had scored and the side was retired. It couldn't have been anything else.

For a few minutes in the eighth it appeared as if there would be excitement of a different kind. The Cards began to get gay with French. Moore led off with a single and went to third on a single by Frisch. Martin helped by fanning. Medwick singled and Moore scored. French was able to get the next two batters and in the ninth he fanned three of them in a row, Scoffic, Ankenman, and Pinch Hitter Mize.

Leo Durocher Out of Cards' Lineup with Split Hand

St. Louis, Mo., April 16.—[Special.] Leo Durocher, the Cardinals' brilliant shortstop was out of action in today's game with the Cubs because of a split right hand. He incurred the injury yesterday when stopping the drive that ended the game. He may be out for a week and Charley Gelbert, the third sacker who hurt his ankle on opening day, probably will be missing for several days more.

The statistically inclined sharks probably have overlooked the fact that the Cubs have lost three of the last four games they played in their own park. Two of the beatings were inflicted during last fall's world series unpleasantness. The White Sox dealt out the other last Saturday.

Paul Dean didn't overwork himself to get through the first inning. He pitched only five balls. Three of them went to Galan who rolled the third one to Frisch. Herman lined to Moore on the first pitch and Klein turned the first pitch into a soft bounder to Frisch.

The weather was neither hot nor cold, but business at the turnstiles was poor. By a liberal estimate there may have been as many as 2,500.

Umpire Pigknuckles Magerkurth, who operated at third base, violated one of the rules of the arbiters' union. He wore, among other things, brown shoes instead of the orthodox black.

Three Pitchers Fan 16 Each in Prep Games

An extra inning game and four notable strikeout performances marked yesterday's high school baseball games in the City and Suburban leagues.

The overtime encounter resulted in a 7 to 3 victory for Calumet over Harper in a south section battle in the City league. With the score tied three all at the end of the regulation seven innings, the Calumet boys then went to work and blasted out four runs in the eighth.

In the north section Dasso of Lane fanned 16 batters as the Techs dealt Amundsen a 6 to 0 beating. Only two hits were made off Dasso while Lane hung up 12.

Fans 16, but Loses.

Crane Tech's Stefani also struck out 16, but he lost a 3 to 1 west section decision to Kelvyn Park. Mundt tripled to drive in two of Kelvyn Park's runs in the fourth inning. Fontain's homer helped Austin beat Harrison, 4 to 2, in another west side contest.

The third 16 strikeout achievement of the day was registered by Holloway of Englewood in a central section game against Hyde Park. A home run by Paluck with two on the bases supplied Englewood's 4 to 1 margin of victory.

Waukegan Beats Proviso.

Proviso, co-champion of the Suburban league last year, made its season's debut and suffered a 9 to 3 defeat at the hands of Waukegan. Etolen of Waukegan disposed of 13 on strikes. Evanston defeated Oak Park, 7 to 1, in another Suburban game during which Van Cleave knocked out a homer with one on. Scores:

Maroons Defeat Armour, 5-4, on Double in Ninth

Hank Trojka's double in the ninth inning drove home the winning run for Chicago as the Maroons defeated Armour Tech 5 to 4 yesterday at Greenwood field. It was the fourth Chicago victory since Saturday, when the Maroons downed Armour in their first encounter.

Armour scored twice in the eighth inning yesterday to tie the score. Pitcher Hoffman opened the Maroon half of the ninth with a single. Co-Captain Dick Cochrane's bunt rolled past the pitcher for Cochrane's third hit, and Trojka doubled over the left fielder's head.

The game was a contrast to the Chicago-Purdue contest of Wednesday, when a total of thirty-eight runs, thirty-three hits, and eight errors were made. With only one error recorded, the Maroons pecked away at Pitcher Dan Delvy with single runs in the third, fourth, sixth, and seventh innings to overcome the two run lead Armour took in the first inning. Score:

N. U. OPENS WITH IOWA.

Iowa City, Ia., April 16.—[Special.]—One of the friendliest but keenest baseball rivalries will open the 1936 Western conference season here tomorrow and Saturday when Coach Burt Ingwersen's Northwestern team meets the University of Iowa nine coached by Otto Vogel.

Vogel and Ingwersen will meet for the first time as rival coaches after serving together eight years on the Iowa football coaching staf. Ingwersen was head football coach here from 1924 to 1932.

TRIBUNE'S GOLF SCHOOL MODEL FOR TEACHING

Group Instruction Plan Widely Copied.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The fourth annual free golf school of THE TRIBUNE, which will open Tuesday night on the courses of the Chicago park district and the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association, has in its first three years been the model for a score of similar group instruction plans throughout the country. This year it has played an important part in the campaign of a national sports goods firm designed to develop new players through public instruction.

Douglas H. Tweedie, general western manager of A. G. Spalding and Brothers, the firm in question, said yesterday that the success of THE TRIBUNE school in its first three years had strongly influenced the company in the new plan which will call for leading players to tour the country, giving exhibitions and lessons.

"We have followed the progress of THE TRIBUNE school for three years," Mr. Tweedie said, "we knew that approximately 500,000 golfers were lost to the game during the depression, and felt that THE TRIBUNE plan offered the best method of getting them back—group instruction."

Stars to Give Demonstrations.

Chicago will be the starting point of the Spalding teaching tour, on or about May 15, and the three professors—Horton Smith, Lawson Little, and Jimmy Thomson—all have agreed to give a demonstration at THE TRIBUNE school.

With Smith, Little, and Thomson, three of the biggest names in golf scheduled to appear in the later stages of the school, THE TRIBUNE this year will have on its faculty several of the best known professionals in the game. When the first class for women and girls is held next Tuesday, the Walsh brothers, Tom of Westgate Valley and Frank of Bryn Mawr, will be in charge at Jackson Park. Harry Cooper, recently chosen by a jury of fellow pros as the best wood shot player in golf, will give an exhibition at Columbus park, where Lew Waldron of Mohawk, who once did a golf act with Al Jolson, will be the teacher.

Joe Jemsek of Cog-Hill will be in charge at Marquette park, and Orville White, who joins Olympia Fields this year, will hit several shots. Johnny Revolta of Evanston, national professional and western open title holder, will feature the demonstration at the Diversey course in Lincoln park, where Jock Anderson of Techny Fields will serve as instructor.

Joining THE TRIBUNE school entails no expense whatever to the pupil. He or she need only fill out the accompanying coupon with name, address, and the course at which he or she will take the lessons, and mail it to the Golf Editor, CHICAGO TRIBUNE. A list of courses appears herewith.

Classes Start at 7.

Classes will begin at the four park district courses and the ten layouts of the Chicago Daily Fee association at 7 o'clock. Lessons for women and girls will be given on Tuesday nights and for men and boys on Thursdays. The school proper will consist of three lessons, one a week, with a final summing up of the A B C's of the game during the fourth week. Rules and etiquet will be stressed during the three lessons, the first of which will be concerned with wood shots, the second with long irons, and the third with short irons and putting.

The complete list of courses where the lessons will be given follows:

Fighter's Career Seen Ended After Runout.

The boxing career of Arthur Sykes, who is classed among the third flight heavyweights, is over. The abrupt termination of his ring activities was indicated yesterday following his bout with Bob Pastor of New York at the Chicago arena Wednesday night when he hopped out of the ring at the end of the sixth round to climax a night of one of the strangest performances in Chicago's boxing history.

Joseph Triner, chairman of the Illinois athletic commission, who was among the small gathering which attended the show, served a ten day notice on Sykes to appear before the commission. Triner said he would recommend a life suspension in Illinois and associated states. Last night Sykes said he would report to the commission Monday.

Manager Swings Again.

Sykes, who absorbed two beatings Wednesday, one from Pastor and the other from his manager, Eddie Long, took another licking yesterday afternoon at Trafton's gymnasium when he sought to obtain transportation to his home in Elmira, N. Y., from Long. The 45 year old manager missed several times, but finally shot a left hook to Sykes' face.

A police squad car was required to bring Sykes into the arena for the fight against Pastor. Sykes declared he was suffering from the effects of blows delivered by Long Wednesday. However, the receipts of only $271 were said to have made his injuries more severe and caused his disappearance from the dressing room.

Sykes' first encounter with his manager occurred when he blamed Long for the publication of an article in an afternoon newspaper which referred to Sykes as a "million dollar puncher with a dime store heart."

Announce Another Show.

William Bishop and Buell Patterson, promoters for the Chicago Arena corporation, despite the financial setback of their first venture, got up enough courage yesterday to announce another show will be staged at the arena, 333 East Erie street, next Wednesday.

John Henry Lewis, world's light heavyweight champion, was signed by Bishop and Patterson to appear in a ten round bout. His opponent will be selected within a few days. Lewis arrived tn Chicago yesterday and will begin training for the bout today at Trafton's gymnasium. Lewis' title will not be at stake.

Homer Williams will box Pat Heneghan in one of the bouts heading the amateur show at the Madison A. C., 4711 Madison street tonight. The match is scheduled for five rounds. Dave Luckett meets Henry Newman, Joie Flores opposes Frank Scibior, and Phil Cohen takes on Edgar Spell in three other bouts. Frank McBride, who scored four consecutive knockouts in the club, will also appear.

O'BRIEN SIGNS AS END COACH AT NOTRE DAME

Notre Dame, Ind., April 16.—[Special.]—John [One Play] O'Brien, former Notre Dame football player and recently head coach at St. Edward's university in Austin, Tex., today signed as end coach at Notre Dame. He succeeds Tom Conley, who has gone to Cleveland to become athletic director at John Carroll university. O'Brien will begin work here immediately.

O'Brien gained fame during the Army-Notre Dame game of 1928 when he caught the touchdown pass with which Notre Dame won, 12 to 6. He also played an important part in the 1930 victory over the Army.

IOWA ENTERS 33, 2D LARGEST TEAM, IN DRAKE RELAYS

Des Moines, Ia., April 16.—(AP)—The University of Iowa today entered 33 athletes, the second largest team entry received, in the Drake relays here April 24 and 25.

Coach George T. Bresnahan said he would have men in every event except the hop, step, and jump. Only Wisconsin, with 34 entrants, has entered a larger squad than the Hawkeyes.

Bill Hayes, Indiana university coach and referee of the 1936 relays, filed several entries today, and advised Pitch Johnson, Drake director, to watch the Hoosier four mile team. Hayes thinks his boys can break the Drake mark of 17:45, made by Illinois in 1922, the oldest relay record on the Drake books.

Other entries today included Omaha university, Wichita university, Michigan Teachers, Augustana of Rock Island, North Central of Naperville, Ill.; Kansas State Teachers of Pittsburg, and Fort Hayes State of Hayes, Kas.

PEACOCK PASSES UP DRAKE RELAYS FOR PENN GAMES

Philadelphia, Pa., April 16.—[Special.]—Eulace Peacock, Temple university sprint star, will not compete in the Drake relays at Des Moines, Ia., next week, but will defend his 100 meter dash and broad jump titles in the Penn relays here instead.

Peacock last week was reported to have favored the Drake relays until he learned that his leading rival, Jesse Owens of Ohio State, would compete in the Penn carnival. They will meet each other in the dash and the broad jump, and probably will run as anchor man on their sprint relay teams.

MOON MULLINS—SPECIAL DELIVERY

Dooley, Iowa's Sprint Star, Out of Kansas Relays

Iowa City, Ia., April 16.—[Special.]—Andy Dooley, ace sprinter, was dropped from the University of Iowa entry list in the Kansas relays today and Floyd De Heer, weight man, added to the roster.

Dooley will be unable to compete because of a pulled leg muscle sustained in the final indoor meet against Wisconsin and Northwestern. Physicians said his injury was not responding to treatment rapidly, and that it was doubtful whether he would enter the Drake relays meet next week.

Iowa will enter the quarter and half mile relays, the shuttle hurdles relay, javelin, shot, and discus, at Lawrence, Kas. The Hawkeyes will defend championships in the two sprint relays and javelin throw.

COLLEGE CREWS TO RACE FOR CUP NEXT SATURDAY

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—The Childs cup regatta among the Columbia, Princeton, and Pennsylvania eights, which will be held on the Harlem river a week from Saturday, will be a morning affair, it was announced today by Graduate Manager Reynolds Benson of Columbia.

Because of the tides, the first race, among the varsity 150 pound crews, will get under way at 10 a. m. and will be over the Henley distance of one mile and five-sixteenths. This event, like the other three, will be rowed downstream, ending at a point opposite the end of the sea wall just above the Polo Grounds.

At 10:30 the freshman race will be held, and then thirty minutes later the junior varsity crews will get away. The varsity event, won last year by Penn, will start at 11:30. The last three races will be at one mile and three-quarters.

Coach Ward Lambert indicated tonight that either Lefty Martin or Carrol Mangas will be the starting pitcher.

Two Champions Lose in Olympic Wrestling Trials

Bethlehem, Pa., April 16.—(AP)—A 13 second victory and the defeat of two national champions featured the 174 pound competition tonight in the final American Olympic wrestling tryouts.

The speedy victory was scored by Orville England of Weatherford, Okla. England, a place winner in the national collegiate championship three years ago, applied a half nelson and a crotch hold on Wesley Brown of Chicago and ended the bout in 13 seconds.

Curtis Ford, who hails from Tulsa, Okla., threw George Triede of Baltimroe and Princeton university, national Y. M. C. A. and eastern intercollegiate 174 pound king, in six minutes with a leg scissors and head lock.

Harry Broadbent of Oklahoma university, N. C. A. A. champion and a warmly regarded prospect for the Olympic team, was another surprise victim when Harvey Base, of Oklahoma A. and M., gained the unanimous decision over him.

Capablanca and Lundin Draw in Chess Tourney

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Margate, England, April 16.—[Special.]—José Capablanca of Cuba and E. Lundin of Sweden, played a drawn game today in the second round of the Kent County Chess association's international tournament. Capablanca was in second place after today's play with a point and a half, Salo Flohr of Czechoslovakia leading with two points. Flohr adjourned a queen's pawn game today with Sir George Thomas of England.

Decathlon to Open Kansas Relays Today

Lawrence, Kas., April 16.—[Special.]—The central western college outdoor track season will open here Saturday when track and field stars converge on Memorial stadium of the University of Kansas for the fourteenth annual running of the Kansas relays. High school athletes of Kansas and college decathlon performers will engage in competition tomorrow.

This year's meet has drawn the largest entry list ever received. More than 2,000 athletes have entered and entries still were arriving today. There will be both quality and quantity.

As in the last few years, a 1,500 meter race featuring Glenn Cunningham, formerly of the University of Kansas and one of the leading milers of America, will be presented Saturday. Efforts to entice Gene Venzke, indoor rival of Cunningham, have been unsuccessful, but forty milers from all sections of the country have entered the event.

Four Olympic Events.

Interest particularly is high in the decathlon in which twenty-four all around stars are entered. In other events, too, interest is high since the meet has been designated as an official Olympic tryout. Olympic events include the 400 meter hurdles, the hop, step, and jump, the 3,000 meter steeplechase, and the 1,500 meter run.

Competition will start tomorrow morning with the eliminations for the high school meet to be held in the afternoon. Along with the final high school events, the first five events of the decathlon will be run off. They include the 100 meter run, running broad jump, 16 pound shot put, running high jump, and 400 meter run. The final events of the decathlon will be held Saturday morning. They are the 110 meter high hurdles, discus throw, pole vault, javelin throw, and 1,500 meter run.

Coffman Defends Title.

The defending champion of the decathlon is Clyde Coffman, formerly of Kansas, who is competing unattached. Last year he won with 6,719 points.

Besides Coffman, those who have sent in entries for the decathlon are Jay Berwanger, University of Chicago; Loyett Burk, unattached, Norman, Okla.; Lloyd Cardwell, University of Nebraska; Robert Carter, Northwestern; Farrell Claassen, Bethel college; Walter Dingus, Ottawa university; Don Elser, Notre Dame; Tom Hall, Bethel college; Paul Harrington, formerly of Kansas, but now unattached; Ray Sears, Butler university; Lee Haun, McPherson college; William Hemphill, Kansas State college; Elmo Hewes, University of Oklahoma; Homer Leech, Missouri Valley college; Henry Mahley, University of Missouri; Forrest Marsden, Missouri State Teachers' college of Warrensburg; Arnold McAlpine, unattached, Croweberg, Kas.; Glen Morris, Denver Athletic club; Ward S. Parker, University of Wisconsin; Robert Place, Missouri Valley college; Eugene Teegarden, Missouri State Teacher's college of Warrenburg; Al Wellhausen, University of Kansas, and Delbert White, unattached, Pleasanton, Kas., winner of the event two years ago.

E. B. (Kelly) Quinn, Once Chicago Boxer, Is Dead

Sterling, Ill., April 16.—[Special.]—Edward B. Quinn, 28, who resided south of here, died today of injuries received Sunday in an automobile accident. A former Chicagoan, he became well known in that city as an amateur boxer under the name of Kelly Quinn. He recently attempted a comeback here.

C. D. G. A. RATES NO PLAYER FOR SCRATCH HONORS

Handicap Committee Lists Stars at One Stroke.

The handicap committee of the Chicago District Golf association yesterday eliminated all the scratch players from its list and relegated them to one stroke.

These players are Don Armstrong, Aurora; George Dawson, Glen Oak; Charles Evans Jr., Edgewater; Russell Martin, Flossmoor; Jack Westland, Sunset Ridge. Chairman Fred W. Lietzow explained that the scratch position was primarily an award of honor, depending to some extent on last year's performances and no player in the Chicago district had accomplished anything of note.

Three clubs were elevated to the rating of AA, which indicates championship courses, Edgewater Valley, Sunset Ridge, and Oak Park. Those previously on the list were Beverly, Bob O'Link, Chicago Golf, Flossmoor, Glen Oak, Glen View, Knollwood, Medinah, North Shore, and Olympia Fields, making 13 in all.

Players at 2 strokes are:

Ira L. Couch, Chicago Golf; Winfield S. Day, Elmhurst; James L. Garard, Skokie; Robert A. Gardner, Shoreacres; Hunter Hicks, Bob o'Link; Frank Justin, Edgewood Valley; John Lehman, Olympia Fields; Richard Martin, University of Illinois; Ray Croslin, Oak Park; Arthur B. Sweet, John Wagner, Kildeer.

Taste Test No. 3—Masters' Golf Tournament

87% vote for White Owl's Vintage Taste

AUGUSTA, GA., April 2 and 3—Do most men buy cigars by name . . . or by taste? That's what we wanted to know—for it's taste alone that gives smoking pleasure. To find the answer, we made a taste test among the gallery at the Masters' Golf Tournament.

We gave each smoker who made the test two unidentified cigars—a Vintage White Owl and another—representing the leading nationally advertised brands. No names . . . no familiar bands to prejudice them. Each man smoked both cigars—then indicated the one he liked best. 87% preferred White Owl with its Vintage-tobacco taste.

VETERAN SMOKERS—and there were lots of them in the gallery at Augusta—were quick to detect the better taste of Vintage tobacco. But you don't have to be an expert to appreciate a Vintage White Owl. Many young smokers find it the only cigar mild enough to suit them.

There's good reason for White Owl's mildness . . . the Vintage filler tobaccos are the mildest kind that grows. Once discover the better taste of a Vintage White Owl—and you're set for life. It's one cigar that never varies in quality.

Wherever you are, you can get the same mild Vintage cigar that won these taste tests. It costs but 5¢ at your nearest cigar store.

ON THE FAIRWAYS . . . at the tees . . . everywhere around the course at America's premier golf event, wherever the tests were made, the results were the same—in favor of White Owl's Vintage mildness and rich fragrance.

Sports writers, players, spectators, caddies . . . men from many walks of life joined in making the test—and look at the results. Over four to one in favor of White Owl!

WISE WAYS MAY GET CHANCE AT AURORA RECORD

Mile Race May Be Listed During Meeting.

When track superintendent Placide Frigerio worked 30,000 cubic yards of new topsoil into the Aurora racing strip last summer, with the idea of transforming it from a pasteboard racetrack to one that would be easier upon the hoofs and legs of the thoroughbreds racing over it, he felt certain that no new records would be set at the 1936 meeting. Because of the hard racing surface that formerly prevailed, Aurora's time records are fast—faster than those of most American race courses.

But when Owner G. R. Allen unloaded his good 5 year old, Wise Ways, at the Fox valley course yesterday, Frigerio began to have his doubts. He now feels that one record—the mile mark—is likely to fall before the 19 day Aurora meeting ends in the $12,000 Illinois Derby on May 22.

Runs Mile in 1:34 4-5.

The reason is that Wise Ways has run the mile distance faster than any horse now racing, and only Equipoise has done better than the mark of 1:34 4-5 which Wise Ways hung up two years ago at Lincoln Fields. Equipoise holds the world's record of 1:34 2-5 for a mile around turns, and in the history of the turf no other horse has ever stepped the distance faster than 1:34 4-5. Three horses have done that—Roamer against time at Saratoga in 1918, Jamestown in competition at Arlington Park in 1932, and Wise Ways.

The present record for one mile at Aurora is the slow figure of 1:38 2-5, and was set in 1929 by Thistle Fyrn. It has not been broken because at recent meetings there have been no races run at a mile. Racing Secretary Dick Leigh expects to schedule at least one race for the better class of horses at that distance during the meeting in an effort to lower the slow Aurora track record. A record of 1:38 2-5 for a mile is regarded as trotting horse time.

Finish Line Close to Clubhouse.

The difficulty in staging a mile race at Aurora arises from the fact that the finish line at the track is much closer to the clubhouse turn than at any other race course. To run a mile horses would be required to start very close to the turn, and because a field of thoroughbreds requires some distance to straighten itself out after the start, Leigh has been afraid that the field in a mile race might pile itself up, with spills and injuries to the riders as a possible result.

A possible way out of the difficulty would be to start the race at the eighth pole, and to make the finish there. This would necessitate moving the placing judges to the eighth pole to catch the finish of the race.

That is far fetched, of course, but Banister shows the effects of Thompson's system of hard work and lots of it, not in aches or pains or limps, but by the creases on his shoulders and quarters left there after active muscles had chased away the fat accumulated during the idle winter days.

He is a son of Blue Larkspur. The latter did not win a Derby for Bradley, but later on proved that he was the best 3 year old of his year. Col. Bradley is of the opinion Blue Larkspur was the best horse he ever raced.

Bien Joli also is a son of Blue Larkspur. It may be that when the entire Bradley board of strategy assembles here next week to see the Bradley colts in their final workouts over the farm track that Bien Joli will decide he can outrun Banister. The Bradley exercise boys will bet you that he doesn't.

May Bet on Banister.

So far, Col. Bradley has not bet on any of his colts to win the Derby, his close acquaintances say. Still the early arrival here of Cossman, who will reach Idle Hour farm tomorrow, indicates the colonel may decide to wager a few shillings in the event he is impressed with Banister's final drills on the farm track.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Bender First, $27.90 straight, $13.60 place, $9.00 show; Apathy, $11.40 place, $7.10 show; Infilee, $9.20 show.

BENDER FIRST moved into a slight lead in the closing furlong and, continuing stoutly, barely lasted to outstay APATHY. Latter was hurried to the front, saved ground and fought it out willingly under a severe drive. INFILEE made a strong bid midway of the homestretch and held on gamely at the close. LIGHT BROOK finished full of run. POPO could not menace. SUN ABBOT tired. WITTEKIND stopped.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Helen Bab, $67.10 straight, $23.20 place, $9.80 show; Boocord, $7.10 place, $5.10 show; Shepherd Boy, $4.10 show.

HELEN BAB swung to the outside for the closing drive, finished determinedly, and was up in the last strides. BOOCORD was hard ridden and fought it out stoutly until the close. SHEPHERD BOY rushed hard from the beginning, held on with good energy under punishment. CHILIAD was racing strongly at the end. SAINTED could not threaten seriously when the final test came. GRACE BUNTING weakened in last quarter mile. MISS ALPHONSO went wide all the way. MINNA never a factor.

Judges needed a photograph to decide this one. Helen Bab (No. 1) was declared the winner by a nose. Boocord, in the middle of the pack, got second place by a nose over Shepherd Boy, on the rail. No. 11 is Chiliad. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

THIRD RACE—Purse $1,000. Maiden 3 year olds. Six furlongs. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 3:36. Off at 3:37. Winner, b. or br. f., 3, by Diapason-Miss Montgomery. Two dollar mutuels paid: Ampersand, $28.10 straight, $11.50 place, $5.40 show; Snow Fox, $5.30 place, $3.80 show; Seven Star, $3.90 show.

AMPERSAND, stoutly ridden to gain command midway of the backstretch, had to be hard urged approaching the finish to withstand SNOW FOX. Latter was gaining steadily nearing the close. SEVEN STARS, slow to settle to his stride, closed full of run on the outside. FIGHT TALK weakened steadily after first half mile. KEARSARGE was taken wide for entire journey. MISS TWINKLE was stoutly ridden but could not reach the leaders.

FOURTH RACE—The Sudbrook. Purse $1,000. Four year olds and up. Six furlongs. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 4:06. Off at 4:12. Winner, br. g., 4, by Jean Valjean-Under the Rose. Two dollar mutuels paid: Billy Bee, $21.20 straight, $8.50 place, $5.90 show; Trumpery, $9.10 place, $5.80 show; Gallant Mac, $4.00 show.

BILLY BEE responded to severe urging and closed fast to get up in the last few strides. TRUMPERY fought it out resolutely in the closing drive. GALLANT MAC swung to the outside in last five-sixteenth and closed fastest of all. DANCING DOLL tired suddenly during the final sixteenth. BROWN TWIG suffered interference midway of the backstretch and fell back at the turn. BLACK GIFT was never a factor.

FIFTH RACE—Purse $1,000. Claiming prices $2,500 to $2,000. Three year olds and up. One mile and a sixteenth. Start good. Won easily, place driving. Went to post at 4:45. Off at 4:45½. ‡Apprentice allowance waived.

Two dollar mutuels paid: One Chance, $5.60 straight, $3.80 place, $2.90 show; Miss Purray, $5.40 place, $3.70 show; Xandra, $3.60 show.

ONE CHANCE moved up readily to take command entering the homestretch, and came away into a long lead at end. MISS PURRAY rallied nicely when shaken up, but was no match for the winner. XANDRA held on with good courage to outstay NAVAL CADET. Latter was steered very wide in the last half mile and weakly ridden in the late stages. BUCK LANGHORNE tired in the last quarter mile. MAR PAL was outrun throughout.

SIXTH RACE—Purse $800. Claiming price, $1,250. Four year olds and up. One mile and a sixteenth. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 5:16. Off at 5:16½. Winner, br. h., 5, by Abbots Trace-Mary Gaunt. Owner, A. G. Vanderbilt. Trainer, J. H. Stotler. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 1:48 1-5.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Abbot's Last, $6.40 straight, $4.10 place, $3.60 show; Six Bells, $6.40 place, $4.70 show; Dalmatia, $5.20 show.

ABBOT'S LAST circled his field to take command in the closing furlong and was under strong urging to the end. SIX BELLS closed stoutly in the last half mile. DALMATIA faltered during the closing furlong while under punishment. OVERSTIMULATE closed with a bold rush in the last five-sixteenths. PLAYOFF went prominently for six furlongs, then retired. BRIGHT BIRD weakened when the real test came. HAPPY EASTER was done early. The others were held safe.

SEVENTH RACE—Purse $800. Claiming price, $1,250. Four year olds and up. One mile and a sixteenth. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 5:47. Off at 5:48½. Winner, b. c., 4, by Gallant Fox-Concession. Owner, Miss E. Biller. Trainer, P. D. Sanford. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 1:48 2-5.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Thruster, $3.90 straight, $3.10 place, $2.60 show; Palasa, $3.60 place, $3.10 show; Sun Way, $5.20 show.

BOLD VENTURE WINS AT JAMAICA IN FIRST OF YEAR

Defeats Galsac by Four Lengths in Feature.

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—Morton L. Schwartz's Bold Venture today successfully began his 1936 campaign at Jamaica, which it is hoped will include the Kentucky Derby and other big three year old tests.

It was not without apprehension that Trainer Max Hirsch gave the son of St. Germains his first test of the year, and his first race in preparation for the route stakes to come. Bold Venture won the South Shore today by four lengths and easing up at the end of a mile and seventy yards, apparently allaying much of the doubt as to his staying qualities.

Named for Wood Memorial.

Mr. Schwartz said that he is not going to ship his colt to Havre de Grace for the Chesapeake, but will try him again in the Wood Memorial here on April 25. In the Wood the owner is sure of a much sterner test, whereas yesterday the chestnut colt merely toyed with three others, two of them Derby eligibles.

Galsac, from the Greentree stable, was second to the wire, a length before Neap. Invermark, a Teddy colt that ran once last year, trailed practically all of the way and was last, beaten ten lengths for third. Neap is a non-Derby eligible.

Carries Only 107 Pounds.

Bold Venture had only 107 pounds up and finished in 1:44 4-5 over a track that was only good. Ira Hanford did the riding and had little to do after he got away.

The Bud Lerner filly, Little Miracle, was well handled in the Rose Twig by Tommy Malley to win by five lengths at 9 to 5.

It was a hollow victory, but no one seemed convinced before the start that Little Miracle was fit. No secret was made of her condition, but she receded from 7 to 5 to 9 to 5 nevertheless. She was timed in 1:12 4-5. Sparta was second, a length before Magmel.

53d Running of Latonia Derby Is Set for May 23

Latonia, Ky., April 16.—Col. Matt J. Winn, executive director of the Latonia Jocky club, announced today that the 53d running of the Latonia Derby had been scheduled for May 23. The purse will be $15,000 in added money and $5,000 extra will go to the winner if the same horse previously wins the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs May 2.

Bright Plumage Pinch Hitter for C. V. Whitney in Derby

BY FRENCH LANE.

BRIGHT PLUMAGE.
Brown colt by Macaw-Beaming.

Lexington, Ky., April 16.—Bright Plumage may—deep down in his heart—be humming a little song of happiness, for on Derby day, for the first time in his career, all eyes in the C. V. Whitney stable will be turned upon him.

The fair-haired boy, Red Rain, and the crippled colt, Triumphant, dashing 2-year-olds in the Whitney barn, will be forgotten for the moment while Bright Plumage goes in as a pinch hitter in the famous Eton blue and brown silks and endeavors to save the day for Whitney.

His credentials are not so hot. He won the Florida Derby Consolation stakes a few weeks ago at Tropical Park, but earlier in the winter he had been beaten twice by Brevity at Hialeah Park.

May Like Distance.

Last fall he won the Endurance handicap at Bowie and that was the only important stake victory he scored as a 2 year old. Still that was enough to indicate he will like distances such as the mile and a quarter of the Derby better than he did the shorter juvenile routes over which he traveled last season.

He will have Jocky Sonny Workman in the saddle, and even bad horses now and then run like champions when Workman is in the pilot house.

Bright Plumage has trained for the Derby under ideal conditions in Florida. He needs but little work between now and Derby day to make him razor sharp. If he doesn't win, it will simply be because he isn't good enough and he probably won't be, because Brevity reached the pay-off station in the Florida Derby almost six wide open lengths in front of him and Bright Plumage didn't encounter any bad luck in that race, either.

He's Son of Macaw.

The sire of Bright Plumage is Macaw, a former good racer in the Whitney barn, but noted more for his speed than for his endurance. The colt's dam Beaming is a daughter of Whisk Broom II. The latter is a joint holder of the world's record for a mile and a quarter—the Derby route—having run it in 2 minutes flat at Belmont Park on June 28, 1913. If Bright Plumage could run as fast as his grandpappy did on that day he would win the Derby. But he won't run that fast. And I don't think he will win the Derby unless Sonny Workman uses all his own tricks and a few more new ones he may have learned from Houdini.

The fourth article will appear tomorrow.

SURFACE, BUDGE MEET IN NORTH, SOUTH NET FINAL

Pinehurst, N. C., April 16.—(AP)—Hal Surface, Kansas City, added another to the series of upsets in the North and South tennis tournament by defeating the veteran J. Gilbert Hall in the semi-finals today for the right to play Donald Budge for the title.

The young Kansas City star dropped one set in beating Hall, seeded No. 2, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2. It was the second victory over a seeded player for Surface, who defeated Gene Mako, Budge's doubles partner and also a member of the Davis cup squad, in the quarter-finals.

Budge made short work of his semi-finals match, polishing off Wilmer Hines, Columbia, S. C., in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2.

Mrs. Virginia Rice Johnson, Boston, and Eunice Dean, San Antonio, Tex., battled through to the final of the women's singles, Miss Dean scoring a victory over Katharine Winthrop, Boston, in a mild upset, 3-6, 7-5, 7-5.

Mrs. Johnson defeated Lila Porter, Mobile, Ala., southern champion, 6-0, 7-5.

North Central Nine to Play Western State Today

North Central's baseball team will travel to Kalamazoo today to meet the Western State Teachers nine in its final practice game before opening the Little 19 conference schedule next week against Armour Tech.

SCHEDULE MATCH RACE SUNDAY FOR INDOOR DRIVERS

A match race between Harry MacQuinn of Indianapolis and Duke Nalon will be the chief attraction on the auto racing program Sunday night at the 124th Field Artillery armory, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Thorne Donnelley, president of the Chicago Auto Racing association, scheduled the race yesterday, after receiving word from MacQuinn that he would accept Nalon's challenge. Nalon's action grew out of a brush between the two pilots during the racing last Sunday night, which finished in a fist fight.

Meanwhile the battle for the 1936 indoor auto racing championship will continue, with a dozen of the leading central states pilots renewing their efforts to dislodge Jimmy Snyder from the point standing lead.

Goodman, Davison Meet in Mason-Dixon Golf Final

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 16.—(AP)—Johnny Goodman of Omaha and Jack Davison of Long Meadow, Mass., will fight it out tomorrow for the championship of the 1936 Mason-Dixon Golf tournament. Goodman, former national open titleholder, eliminated A. M. McNair of London, 4 and 3, and Davison turned back Page Hufty of Washington, 3 and 2, in the semi-final matches.

WALTON LEAGUE DEDICATES NEW BIRD SANCTUARY

Attack U. S. Power Projects at National Meet.

The Jackson park bird sanctuary was formally dedicated yesterday noon as the fourteenth national convention of the Izaak Walton league opened in Chicago. Regular meetings of the convention are being held in the Hotel Sherman today and tomorrow.

The sanctuary, which won third place in a national contest, was presented to the city of Chicago by George T. Donoghue, representing the Chicago park district. Following the dedication a number of wild ducks and geese, which will act as a breeding stock and as decoys to attract wild birds, were released.

W. L. Finley of Portland, Ore., addressing the opening session of the convention, called attention to the damage being done to the salmon industry in the Columbia river by the government power and reclamation projects. Finley is a vice president of the Izaak Walton league and regional vice president of the newly formed Wildlife federation.

Blow to Salmon Industry.

"We are not opposed to the government spending millions of dollars on reclamation and power projects," he said, "providing the government can prove that industry and individuals will profit as much from these projects as they will from the fishing industry, which is being ruined by the dams which are being built. Many people forget that Washington and Oregon are profiting greatly from the salmon industry and from the annual flow of tourists to these states."

Finley pointed out that private power plants already are providing sufficient power for the Columbia river basin, without the government projects. The cost of the river developments will total approximately $300,000,000 when completed, according to present plans, and, Finley said, the salmon industry which is being destroyed is worth from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 annually—a reasonable return on an investment equal to the power and reclamation projects.

Discuss Water Pollution.

Yesterday afternoon's session was concerned with water pollution, with five speakers dealing with various aspects of the problem in its relationship to fish and game conservation.

Later in the day there was a discussion of the new wild life federation, led by Mr. Finley and Lester A. Colby, president of the Chicago chapter of the Izaak Walton league and assistant to J. N. Darling, head of the federation.

Today's program includes speeches by Ira N. Gabrielson, chief of the U. S. biological survey; Hoyes Lloyd, supervisor of wild life protection in Canada, and S. Barry Locke.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

Our Own Family's Recipe

Time and again we keep remarking to each other how lucky we Wilkens are in having something in our Family's recipe no other folks in the world have got. I mean us being born and bred in the whiskey business so to speak—with our own Family's recipe based on all the years of distilling experience that 3 generations of us Wilkens have had. So it being us that has the chance to let folks enjoy just what we old-time distillers drink amongst ourselves, I say it's up to us to be as particular about every bottle of our Family's Whiskey as if it was the very bottle we was going to drink at home. So that's just how it is—the bottles of Wilken Family Whiskey we drink and the bottles you drink are one and the same!

FRANCE LOSES 62 MILLIONS IN GOLD FOR WEEK

Decline in Hoarding Is Reported.

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—Although the Bank of France was forced to relinquish an additional $62,310,930 of gold during the week ended April 10, other evidence was at hand to indicate that the lack of internal confidence in the safety of the franc was becoming less pronounced, the condition statement of the institution disclosed today.

Currency circulation, which had been rising by leaps and bounds in recent weeks, fell 740,000,000 francs during the week. This was taken as testimony that hoarding is on the decline. Moreover, while rediscounts at the Bank of France spurted 244,000,000 francs, this was more than offset by a decline of 294,000,000 francs in 30 day advances.

Reserve Ratio Slightly Lower.

As a consequence of the contraction of private bank demand for credit, represented by the reduced 30 day advances, the reserve ratio of the Bank of France was off less than a half point, or from 67.42 to 67.03 per cent.

As has been the case in recent weeks, the greater part of the drain of gold represented accumulations by the British exchange equalization fund, a natural result of that agency's acquisition of francs in support of the French currency.

The exodus of gold from the Bank of France vaults, aggregating $1,846,250,000 since March 20, had its inception with Germany's occupation of the Rhineland. Since then it has been aggravated by fears that the franc may be devalued after the general elections of April 26 and May 3.

English Bank Gains Gold.

Gold holdings of the Bank of England in the week ended today rose to a new record figure of £202,379,000, while the proportion of reserves to liabilities continued to fall and reached 26.7 per cent, the lowest level in some time.

An expansion of £475,000 in circulation, although slight, raised some comment in financial circles. In the preceding week pre-holiday preparations had lifted circulation £8,398,000 and the failure of any of these funds to flow back occasioned surprise.

Indication that the Dutch credit to the French government has been concluded was seen today in the local foreign exchange market when the guilder displayed softness against the franc. Ordinarily moving in unison, the Dutch currency slipped 2 points to 67.90 cents, while the French unit fluctuated around the 6.59¼ cent level, where it closed unchanged from yesterday's final quotation.

Believe Loan Made to France.

Although no announcement has been made concerning the credit, foreign exchange circles generally viewed the performance of the guilder as indisputable evidence that arrangements had been successful. Preliminary reports were to the effect that the credit will amount to around 1,000,000,000 francs.

In the early dealings the Bank of France was said to have been selling sterling and acquiring francs, succeeding to this activity when the British control withdrew. Other alien currencies were little changed on the day with the volume of trading light.

Dealings in foreign exchanges were quiet, with the dollar steady against most of the leading currencies. The British pound sterling was an exception, gaining ⅛ cent to $4.94¼. Italian lire remained at their 1936 low of 7.90 cents. Belgian belgas and Swiss francs were also unchanged. German marks lost 2 points to 40.25 cents.

More Gold Received in U. S.

The New York Federal Reserve bank reported the receipt of $1,920,000 gold from India and the arrival at San Francisco of $133,000 gold from the Philippine Islands.

In its summary of gold transactions for the week ended on Wednesday the reserve bank reported imports of $5,044,000, of which $1,702,000 came from India $1,577,000 from France, $923,000 from England, $458,000 from Peru, $428,000 from Russia, and $6,000 from Guatemala. For the week there was a net release of $236,000 gold from earmarking.

FDIC BANK LOAN BILL IS PASSED BY CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—Congressional action was completed by the house today on a bill extending until July 1, 1938, the authority of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation to make loans to weak banks to facilitate their reorganization, or liquidation. The measure now goes to the White House.

It would permit loans to banks when, in the judgment of the corporation directors, such action would reduce the risk or avert a threatened loss to the corporation, facilitate a merger or a consolidation of an insured bank, or facilitate the sale of the assets of an open or closed insurance bank.

Fate of Franc Dependent on Avoiding War

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Progress of peaceful settlement of the Rhineland dispute and not the French parliamentary elections two weeks hence holds the fate of the French currency, according to Chicago bankers and economists.

Interest in the French gold crisis has been at high pitch in the United States for three weeks because of the possible effects on American stock market quotations of sudden abandonment of the gold standard in Paris. The reasoning is that French devaluation would be followed by a heavy withdrawal from the United States of French capital which has fled here during the last year or two, much of which has been invested in stocks listed on American exchanges. The amount subject to such withdrawal has been variously estimated at one to two billion dollars.

Brokers and Experts Disagree.

For weeks brokers have been pointing to the French parliamentary elections at the close of this month as the period during which the world will learn whether or not France will abandon the gold standard, devalue her currency, and embark upon the type of "managed money" program which is being followed by Great Britain and the United States, and for which John Maynard Keynes, British "rubber" currency apologist, has been the chief apostle.

Chicago experts in international finance, however, argue that the impending French elections cannot reasonably be regarded as a turning point in French monetary policy. They point out that no important political party in France favors devaluation of the franc and that the great majority of the populace is definitly opposed to it. Hitler, and not Keynes, constitutes the real threat to French money, they insist.

French Fear German Moves.

The big trouble in France now is a general feeling of uneasiness and doubt concerning the stability of the franc because of the threat of war with Germany over Hitler's remilitarization of the Rhineland. The war menace is resulting in tremendous increases in French military expenditures at a time when the government is just beginning to get its budget into shape by drastic economies in other lines.

French investors are reluctant to buy the long term obligations of their government because the budget deficit is expanding, and at the same time bank depositors are withdrawing their funds and turning them into gold or are hoarding paper currency in anticipation of trouble. This has reduced bank deposits and has removed nearly 300 million dollars' worth of gold from the Bank of France during the last three weeks alone.

Fear for Safety of Capital.

Thus the French people, although totally out of sympathy with devaluation and "managed money" schemes, appear to be backing in that direction because of fears over the safety of their capital.

Dr. Melchior Palyi, guest professor of finance at the University of Chicago, points to the extraordinary efforts made by France during the last three years to get its budget in order as proof that the French people do not want devaluation.

"For two and one-half years between the time of the British abandonment of the gold standard and the beginning of 1934," says Dr. Palyi, "France went through a tremendously critical period. Then its economic position began to improve. Commodity prices, which had to be deflated in order to enable the nation to compete with other nations on depreciated currency, struck bottom early last fall.

French Foreign Trade Improves.

"Foreign trade has been improving. Unemployment has been going down a little and industrial production has been going up. The government budget deficit in the year ended April 1 would just about have been balanced had there been no extraordinary military expenditures. Tourist trafic promises to be the best since 1929.

"It is not logical to assume that the French people would voluntarily favor devaluation now, just when their depression is lifting. If they had wanted devaluation they would have voted for it in 1932 or 1933.

"The French gold position and the condition of the treasury are still sound but each war scare increases the uneasiness. France will go off gold only when and if this uneasiness is intensified to the point where an embargo on gold has to be imposed.

"Even abandonment of the gold standard, however, would not necessarily be a threat to American securities markets, because devaluation is not an immediate consequence of leaving gold. My guess is that the franc would be kept at par through official manipulation, such as is practiced in Germany."

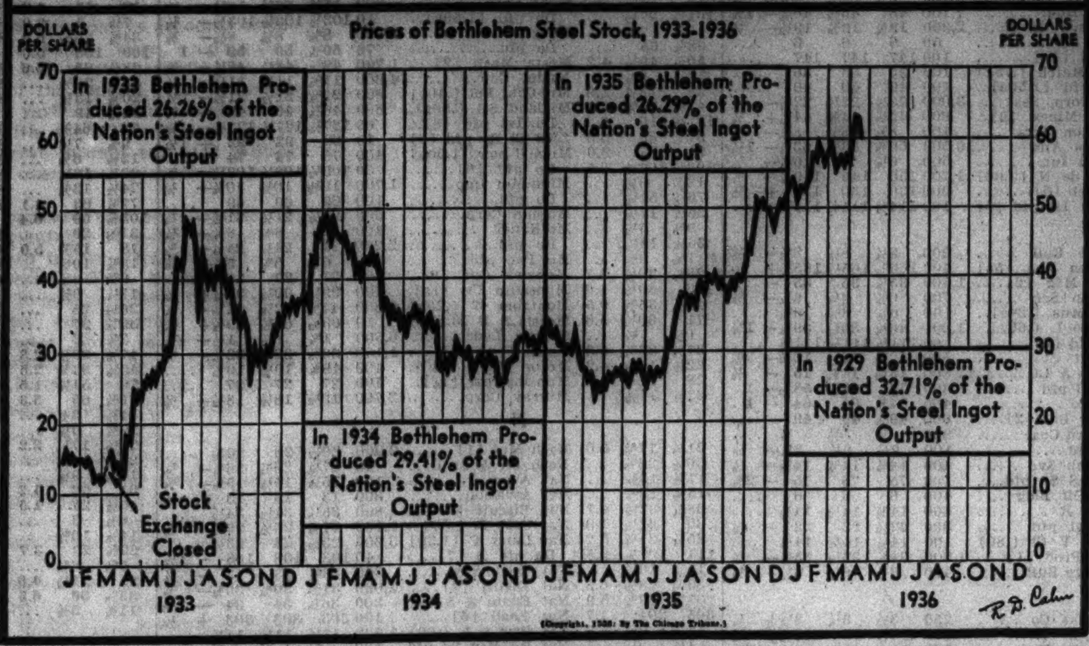
How the Price of Bethlehem Steel Stock Has Fluctuated During the Past Four Years



(Copyright, 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.)

Instalment Plan Offered in Tax Bill

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—A new instalment plan for handling debt-ridden corporations under the $799,000,000 revenue program was shaped today by Democrats on the house ways and means tax subcommittee.

Meeting for the first time with an actual draft of a bill before them, they agreed also to write in a provision designed to plug as effectively as possible any loophole of possible tax avoidance through the issuing of dividends in stock rather than in cash.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill [Dem., Wash.] said the loophole plugging was not necessary—merely precautionary. The provision, he said, will state that "if a stock dividend or stock right is a non-taxable dividend in the hands of the stockholder, no dividend credit shall be allowed with respect thereto."

Instalment Tax 22½ Per Cent.

The new arrangement for an indebted corporation would allow it to elect a period of years—not less than five—over which it might set aside annually definite proportions of net income to apply to debts.

These instalments would be subject to a flat 22½ per cent tax. The remainder of net income not applied to debt retirement would constitute a new base for taxation under a proposed schedule to apply to corporation income in general, with rates graduated according to percentages of earnings withheld from distribution.

The purpose of today's revision, Hill said, was to "simplify the administration" of the program and "make more certain and definite the provisions of the law." He said that corporations would be required to show in their first tax returns the period selected for instalments, as well as accumulated net earnings and profits and debts existing as of March 3, 1936, when all outstanding obligations would be "frozen" for purposes of special treatment under the tax bill.

Quick Payment Not Helpful.

If a corporation preferred to pay off all of a debt in a single year instead of over a period of years, it could not receive the flat rate of 22½ per cent for the entire amount, but could get it on a fifth of the amount each year for five years.

Although treasury experts said the yield for the proposed new corporate tax plan would be unchanged by today's decision, Hill said he thought it might bring in more money because the longer the period chosen by indebted corporations for the instalments, the more income would be taxed under the regular corporate tax system.

AM. CAR-FOUNDRY OFFICIALS' PAY REVEALED BY SEC

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—Having denied applications that the material be held confidential, the Securities and Exchange commission made public today salaries and other data filed with it under the securities and exchange act of 1934 by the American Car and Foundry company and the A. O. Smith corporation.

For the fiscal year ended April 30, 1935, American Car and Foundry reported remuneration of $67,503 to Charles J. Hardy, president. William M. Hager, assistant to the president, received $30,409; Herbert W. Wolff, senior vice president, $40,931; G. R. Scanland, vice president, $46,934; F. A. Stevenson, vice president, $52,356.

FILM CONCERN HEADED BY MARY PICKFORD, LASKY TO SELL STOCK

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—Pickford-Lasky Productions, Inc., of Hollywood filed today under the securities act of 1933 for the issuance of 20,600 shares of no par value preferred stock and 12,750 shares of no par value common stock.

The preferred stock is to be offered at $100 a share and common stock will be offered to purchasers of preferred at $1 a share on the basis of one share for each four shares purchased. Proceeds from the sale of the stock will be applied to the liquidation of current loans and to working capital. Jesse L. Lasky of Hollywood is president.

The statement showed that the company had, as of Feb. 28, taken over a ten year contract with Mary Pickford providing for the distribution of up to twelve photo plays produced by her or by any corporation which bears her name and in which she is interested.

STANDARD OIL EXEMPTED FROM UTILITY LAW

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission today granted exemption from provisions of the public utility holding company act of 1935 to Standard Oil Company of Indiana and Southern States Power Company of North Carolina, and permitted Kentucky-Tennessee Light and Power company and Bruceton Light and Power company to withdraw exemption applications.

In the case of Standard Oil of Indiana the commission found that the corporation was primarily engaged in the business of refining and marketing petroleum products, and was only incidentally a holding company, a status which permits exemption. The applicant's only public utility subsidiary, the Shannon Gas and Electric company, is a Colorado corporation engaged in the retail sale and distribution of natural gas and electric energy to consumers in the state of Wyoming.

GENERAL MOTORS BUYS CROSLEY'S KOKOMO PLANT

Detroit, Mich., April 16.—(AP)—General Motors corporation announced today the purchase of the Kokomo, Ind., factory of the Crosley Radio corporation. The plant will be taken over May 1, and will be used to manufacture automobile radio sets as the Delco radio division of Delco Remy. The announcement said that General Motors would continue to purchase a considerable part of its automobile radio requirements from outside manufacturers.

Ray C. Ellis, a member of the General Motors engineering staf, will be general manager of the new division. The plant's output will be sold to the several automobile manufacturing divisions of General Motors for installation as initial equipment, and to General Motors dealers through established channels.

Stockholders of Horder's Re-elect All Directors

Butter Price Breaks When Receipts Rise

A seasonal rise in butter production and a resulting increase in market receipts yesterday caused a break of 4 to 4¾ cents a pound in prices on the Chicago market. The break was one of the most severe on record.

The price break was confined to the cash market with butter futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange showing little change. Creamery butter grading 90 score dropped 4¾ cents a pound to 28¾ cents. Early in the day it was quoted as low as 28 cents a pound. Other grades of butter in the cash market made corresponding declines.

Transactions Are Light.

The actual business transacted in the cash market was small. The reluctance of buyers to bid for supplies was based on the prospect for steadily increasing receipts as a result of the upturn in production in the principal butter producing areas.

The market break was accompanied by reports that foreign butter was being freely offered for shipment to this country. The pressure of such offering was regarded as a contributing factor in the market's weakness. Actual purchases of foreign butter in the last two days are believed to have been light because of the decline in the domestic markets.

Decline Is Seasonal.

The market customarily weakens at this time of the year because of the increase in fresh supplies. A year ago the market in Chicago experienced a break of 2 cents a pound. Over a period of years the price level has receded sharply during April.

Trading on the futures market was quiet. The November butter future was quoted at 26 cents a pound, unchanged from Wednesday and the April future was down only ¼ cent at 26½ cents a pound. Egg futures lost ⅛ to ⅜ cent a dozen. Sales in butter futures amounted to 16 cars and egg transactions aggregated 41 cars.

SENATORS SEEK MORE CASH FOR RAILROAD PROBE

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—The senate committee which for nearly a year has been investigating railroad financing is preparing to ask for $100,000 to carry its inquiry through to the next session of congress. Headed by Senator Wheeler [Dem., Mont.], the committee has secretly gathered information since the last session of congress, but has not yet held hearings.

The original appropriation of $25,000 granted by the senate is running low and many months of work remain to be done.

OUSTS PRODUCE MART TRUSTEES ON MISCONDUCT

Court Holds Charges Are Sustained.

Holding that charges of mismanagement had been sustained, Superior Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday ordered dismissal of the trustees of the Chicago Produce District market, $17,000,000 successor to the old South Water street market. Trustees ordered dismissed were Melvin L. Straus, S. J. T. Straus, Sidney H. Kahn, Henry R. Platt Jr., Hugh McLennan, B. K. Goodman, and A. J. Weisberg.

JUDGE JOSEPH SABATH.

The produce district's troubles started in January, 1932, when it defaulted on a semi-annual interest payment on $8,000,000 first mortgage bond issue underwritten by S. W. Straus & Co.

Judge Sabath also ordered voided the management contract of Hugh McLennan, also a trustee, by which he had complete control of rentals and repairs of the market.

Court Charges Misconduct.

"The court could overlook one or two incidents of misconduct," the judge said, "but when a whole series is shown the court cannot. It appears from the record that every time a situation arose where the trust was to spend some money, the trustees first looked to see which one had a corporation of his own that could do the work instead of trying to secure the best work at the lowest price."

Judge Sabath pointed out the improved results obtained by Aaron Jones, appointed as receiver by the judge on March 9, 1934.

"The average monthly income under the management of McLennan was $35,000," the judge said, "and under the court's receiver the net income was $45,547. The agent spent $77,344 for repairs in nineteen months, while the receiver has only spent $10,162 in twelve months."

Judge Cites McLennan's Status.

Judge Sabath said McLennan appears in four different capacities, as associate trustee, agent of the market, as president of the McLennan Construction company that did the work, and as part owner of an equity.

"It required him to do conflicting duties," he continued. "From a report of a master in chancery, it appears his company did all the repair work at the market, and he hired his own employés to manage the property, charging part of their salaries to the market company."

Judge Sabath asserted the trustees used the information they obtained in their official capacity to buy bonds from the bondholders at low prices and then sell them to the retirement fund at much higher prices. In some cases, he said, bonds bought at 41⅜ were sold at 70.

Judge Sabath also said S. J. T. Straus and Sidney Kahn obtained the insurance on the produce market through a $1,000 corporation which they organized, known as the Stephens agency. Thus they were able to reap large profits through commissions on the insurance placed, he edded.

Heavy Goods Industry Aided by Big Orders

Increased activity for the heavy construction industry was indicated yesterday in announcements from three sources. The Pacific Fruit Express company announced the division of its orders for the construction of 2,700 refrigerator cars which will cost approximately $10,000,000.

Of the total 1,000 will be manufactured in the East Chicago and Michigan City shops of General American Transportation System and Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, respectively.

The Engineering News Record said that private engineering awards last week totaled $54,756,000 as compared with $26,087,000 in the like week a year ago. The Baldwin Locomotive works and subsidiaries announced that March orders totaled $1,675,249 against $1,471,624 in March, 1935.

Four Companies Get Orders.

The Pacific Express company, which is owned jointly by the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railways, divided its order as follows: General American Transportation, 500 cars; Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing, 500 cars; American Car and Foundry, 500 cars; Pacific Car and Foundry, Portland, Ore., 500 cars. A total of 700 cars is to be manufactured in the railways' shops.

All the Pacific Fruit Express cars will be of the standard steel sheathed type developed by General American. It was said that about 54,000 tons of steel will go into their manufacture, or about 20 tons to a car.

Delivery of the cars is expected to start in June. They will be used in the transportation of fruit, vegetables, and other perishables.

In addition to the Pacific Fruit Express cars, General American is building in its East Chicago shops 250 cars of similar type which will be used on the Milwaukee road. These cars will be operated by the Union Refrigerator Transit company, a subsidiary of General American.

Mill Order Boosts Total.

Engineering News Record said that $22,000,000 of last week's construction orders was accounted for in the letting of contracts for the new Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation strip mill. Besides the $26,285,000 in private work contracted for last week, $28,471,000 of public construction was awarded. Of the latter only $999,000 was for federal projects, state and municipal contracts aggregating $27,472,000.

Bookings of the Baldwin Locomotive Works and subsidiaries for the first three months of this year totaled $7,128,704 as compared with $4,643,955 in the corresponding period of 1935.

RETAIL AUTO DEALER SALES NEAR 5 BILLION

St. Louis, Mo., April 16.—(AP)—The National Automobile Dealers' association estimated today that the total retail business of automobile dealers in the United States during 1935 was $4,915,059,706, against $3,354,119,201 in 1934.

This volume, the estimate said, was divided as follows: New cars and trucks, $2,838,719,362; used cars and trucks, $1,205,793,420; service, $380,819,693; parts and accessories, $490,727,231.

The association said approximately 39,000 firms engaged in the retail selling and servicing of automobiles during the year.

BIG COMPANIES REPORT UPTURN IN NET PROFITS

Standard Oil (Cal.) Earns 18½ Millions.

GEORGE M. VERITY. [A. P. Photo.]

The Standard Oil Company of California reported a 1935 consolidated net income of $18,594,330 after charges, taxes and reserves for depreciation, depletion and amortization, equal to $1.42 a share on the 13,102,900 capital shares outstanding. This compares with $18,327,807 or $1.40 a capital share in 1934. Gross operating income was $134,772,110 against $130,985,836.

Current assets at the close of 1935 were $75,552,302 and current liabilities $12,874,583, as compared with $89,069,767 and $8,948,934, respectively, on Dec. 31, 1934.

Rolling Mill Reports Gain.

The American Rolling Mill company reported a net profit for 1935 of $4,310,129, equivalent, after deducting preferred dividend requirements, to $2.41 a share on the average number of outstanding shares of common stock. This compares with $966,566, or 49 cents a share, in 1934. Total sales billed last year amounted to $76,799,385, compared with $54,485,114 in 1934.

George M. Verity, chairman of the company, asserting in his report that the cost of government last year was approximately 27.3 per cent of the national income, compared with 14.8 per cent in 1929, an increase of almost 100 per cent, urged a reduction in federal expenditures.

Hudson Motor Car earnings for the first quarter of 1936 will exceed the net of $235,610 after all charges, but before federal income taxes, earned in the 1935 period, and will be larger than for any first quarter since 1930, A. Edward Barit, president, reported. He said production in April will exceed by nearly 5,000 cars the output for any month in 1935. The schedule for April calls for 16,000 Hudson and Terraplane cars.

Covers Dividend Needs.

Electric Storage Battery company in the first quarter covered its 50 cent dividend, President J. R. Williams said at the annual meeting held yesterday in Philadelphia. He reported that orders and shipments during the first quarter were slightly larger than during the corresponding period last year.

Tide Water Associated Oil company reported the largest first quarter consolidated net income since the company was organized in 1926. Net profit was $2,707,702, equal to 31 cents a common share after preferred dividend requirements, compared with a net of $1,220,991, or 5 cents a share, for the first 1935 quarter.

A. M. Castle & Co. reported net profit for the quarter amounted to $95,150 after depreciation and federal taxes, equivalent to 79 cents a share on 120,000 shares of common stock. Net profit in the first 1935 quarter was $83,695, or 69 cents a share.

STOCK PRICES MOVE LOWER AS DEMAND EASES

Motor and Steel Issues Especially Weak.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 16.—Stock trading shrunk again today, with most issues giving up early gains. Closing prices generally were around low marks for the day. Losses ranging from fractions to 2 points and more were in the majority at the final bell.

With nothing new in the news to cause unusual action, traders seemed content to let the list follow the line of least resistance. Total sales were 1,314,210 shares.

Profit taking following yesterday's advance was evident in some issues, but the decline in stocks was generally attributed to the thinness of the market. The speculative fraternity could discern no change in the general situation. Reports from abroad having a bearing on important political matters continued to make for caution, but the continued flow of constructive trade news was regarded as an offsetting factor.

List Firm at Start.

Early in the session the whole list had a firm tone, but disappointed selling took place in old line stocks after the noon hour, erasing nearly all advances. The list was most active in the final hour when the selling movement developed momentum.

Steels and motors, leaders of the recent upturn, were especially weak. Big Steel and Bethlehem gave up over a point. Sloss Sheffield was a notable exception to the trend in this division, climbing 4⅜ points to a new high of 74¼. The preferred shares of the same company also were buoyant.

Rail shares were irregularly lower. Atchison and Delaware and Hudson each lost a point. New Orleans, Texas and Mexico declined 7 points, following its recent spectacular advance.

Anaconda Rises, then Reacts.

Anaconda ran up a new high price before reacting to finish fractionally lower. Kennecott managed to advance a little. Rubber shares weakened with losses in Goodyear, Goodrich, Lee Tire, and U. S. Rubber running to more than a point.

American Agricultural dropped almost five points, to give almost all of its previous gain for the year. Selling came on the heels of a nine months' earning report, showing a sharp decline in profits.

On the bright side of the list new 1936 high prices were registered by Checker Cab, Indian Refining, American Crystal Sugar, and Cuban American Sugar.

Utilities shares moved in a narrow range. American Telephone moved up a point.

CHANGE IN FORM OF CORPORATION REPORTS ARGUED

New York Exchange Plan Causes Controversy.

New York, April 16.—(AP)—Controversy flared anew today over the first concrete results from the "recommendation" of the New York Stock exchange that corporations turn their quarterly earnings reports into 12 months' statements.

Wall street got its first real taste of the reporting system in the statement by the American Telephone and Telegraph company, which changed its practice of many years to give shareholders a picture of operations based on the 12 months to March 31, but said nothing about profits in the first quarter of this year.

Argue Merits of Change.

One school of thought immediately cried: "More figures, but less news." Defenders pointed out with equal emphasis that earnings for the quarter could be arrived at by the simple process of deducting and adding, to which critics rejointed that the average stockholder should not be burdened and some couldn't do it.

At the inception of the campaign to replace quarterly reports with 12 months' statements, the stock exchange committee on stock listing sets as its objective a system that would give stockholders and others interested in a company a report untainted by seasonal variations in earnings, expenditures, and other factors, which often have led to unwaranted conclusions, both favorable and unfavorable.

Dual Statements Are Urged.

Objections to the scheme have been many and varied. In substance, they may be boiled down to the following: The 12 months' statement keeps the stockholder in the dark, more or less, concerning up-to-the-minute affairs of the company, whereas officials know what is going on at every stage of the game.

All quarters agree that earnings for 12 months' periods, made quarterly, would be a big help if that information were supplemental to the regular quarterly reports.

NOTICE OF HEARING IN THE
COURT OF CHANCERY
OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE
IN AND FOR NEW CASTLE COUNTY.
GORDON BURT AFFLECK, Complainant, vs.
GENERAL THEATRES EQUIPMENT, INC., a corporation created by and existing under the Laws of the State of Delaware, Respondent. NOTICE—

To all Parties to the Above Entitled Cause, Creditors, Stockholders and Holders of Voting Trust Certificates of General Theatres Equipment, Inc., and all other interested parties:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Arthur W. Loasby, Edward C. Delafield, Harry S. Durand, Lloyd S. Gilmour, Arthur Peck, Conrad H. Poppenhusen, Seton Porter and Ray W Stephenson, as the Reorganization Committee constituted under the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization of General Theatres Equipment, Inc., dated August 31, 1935, have filed in the above entitled cause a petition, among other things, for a sale of the assets and property of General Theatres Equipment Inc. and of the receivership estate, upon the terms and conditions set forth in a Proposed Decree of Sale, a copy of which was submitted with said petition, and praying, among other things, that an order be entered fixing a date for a hearing on said petition. Said Proposed Decree of Sale provides, among other things, that at a specified time after the sale therein provided for, the Receiver shall make a report thereof to said Court and that, upon the filing of said report said cause will be heard generally, at which time said Court may hear and determine all further matters relating to the consummation of the sale, the termination of the receivership and the discharge of the Receiver, or relating to the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization of said General Theatres Equipment, Inc., dated August 31, 1935, and the consummation thereof, including action taken or to be taken by the Reorganization Committee. Said Proposed Decree of Sale also provides that notice of said hearing shall be included in the notice of sale set forth in said Proposed Decree of Sale and shall also be given by the Receiver by announcement at the sale and that no further notice of said hearing need be given; provided, however, that said Court will not at said hearing or any adjournment thereof take any action upon any account by the Receiver or upon any application for any fees or compensation, except upon such additional notice as is required by the rules of said Court or as said Court may direct.

The Court made an order dated April 1st, 1936, in which order the Court aproved the action taken by the Debentureholders' Committee constituted under a certain Deposit Agreement dated February 10, 1932, relating to the Ten-Year 6% Convertible Gold Debentures of General Theatres Equipment, Inc. and by said Reorganization Committee since the order made in the above named cause on November 20, 1935, as set forth in said petition, including the action of said Reorganization committee in declaring the Plan operative, as set forth in said petition, and fixed April 28th, 1936, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., as the time, and the Courtroom of the Court of Chancery in the County Courthouse in Wilmington, Delaware, as the place, for a hearing on said petition and the relief therein prayed for except in so far as granted by the above mentioned order. As more fully provided in said order, at said time and place said Court, among other things, will hear and consider any objections or complaints by the Receiver or by any of the parties to said cause, or by any creditor or holder of Voting Trust Certificates for stock of said General Theatres Equipment, Inc., or by any person, firm or corporation having or asserting any claim against or interest in said General Theatres Equipment, Inc. or its assets or property, or any of the assets or property in the receivership estate, or by any other person in interest, to the sale of such assets and property, as prayed for in said petition, any objections to and arguments upon the proposed form of decree of sale submitted with said petition, including the provisions therein contained in respect of the future hearing and determination of all further matters relating to the consummation of the sale therein provided for, the termination of the receivership and discharge of the Receiver, or relating to the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization above referred to and the consummation thereof, and will hear and consider any suggestions for the modification of said form of decree of sale or as to minimum price at which said assets and property or any lot or parcel thereof may be sold; and all such persons, firms and corporations who make no objection or complaint at the time and place aforesaid shall be forever barred from doing so.

A copy of said petition including the exhibits attached thereto, a copy of the proposed form of decree of sale submitted with said petition, and a copy of the order of this Court dated April 1st, 1936 referred to above may be obtained by any party in interest upon written request addressed to City Bank Farmers Trust Company, 22 William Street, New York, N. Y., the Depositary under said Plan and Agreement of Reorganization.

The aforesaid hearing may be adjourned from time to time without further notice otherwise than by announcement at the hearing or any adjournment thereof.

Dated, April 2, 1936.

Newcomet, vice president of the Pennsylvania, said that between Chicago and Cincinnati, the Cincinnati Daylight Express will operate on a schedule 15 minutes faster than now and the Union will leave Chicago at 2 p. m., eastern time, 30 minutes earlier than at present, with arrival in Cincinnati at 8:05 p. m.,

Cut Time from Cincinnati.

The Southland will leave Cincinnati at 11:40 p. m., 15 minutes earlier than at present, and arrive in Chicago at 7:30 a. m., Chicago time, an hour earlier than at present.

In the Columbus-Chicago service, the Ohioan, overnight train, will have an hour taken off its schedule, while overnight from Louisville and Indianapolis, the Kentuckian will arrive in Chicago at 8 a. m., or 50 minutes earlier than at present.

North Western Train Speeded.

R. Thomson, passenger trafic manager of the North Western, said the running time of the Shoreland between Chicago and Manitowoc will be cut 34 minutes. It will leave Chicago at noon, Chicago time, and arrive at Manitowoc at 2:50 p. m., central time. Also northbound the train now leaving Chicago at 4 p. m. will be moved back to 4:30 p. m. and will reach Menominee, Mich., at 10:10 p. m., central time, a cut of 30 minutes.

Southbound train No. 214 will be called the Shoreland and will leave Manitowoc at 2 p. m., except Sunday, instead of 1:40 p. m., central time, and will cut 20 minutes off its schedule. It will arrive in Chicago at 6:45 p. m., Chicago time.

STRAWN DENIES PLAYING PART IN DAWES BANK LOAN

Attorney Silas Strawn stated yesterday that his law firm had had "nothing to do with the obtaining of the 90 million dollar 'Dawes loan' from the Reconstruction Finance corporation by the Central Republic Bank and Trust company."

Strawn was replying to remarks made over the radio Wednesday night by Senator Minton [Dem., Ind.], to the effect that the senate lobby committee had sought the telegrams sent by the firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, "to see what his activities, if any, were with reference to influencing the RFC to lend to the Dawes bank in Chicago 90 million dollars before the New Deal came into existence."

"The senator does not know what he is talking about," said Strawn. "My firm did not represent the bank and the only connection it has had with the case is that we represent some of the defendants in a pending suit growing out of the loan."

SEC CHAIRMAN WILL ADDRESS ECONOMIC CLUB

James M. Landis, chairman of the securities and exchange commission, will speak on "Finance" before the Economic club of Chicago on Wednesday night, April 29, in the grand ballroom of the Palmer house.

Other financial leaders of the federal administration may also attend the meeting. William J. Kelly, president of Arthur O'Leary & Son Steel company and an officer of the club, will preside.

Merchandise Bank Stock Sets New High Since 1930

A new high since 1930 in Merchandise Bank and Trust company stock and sizable losses in First National and Continental Illinois stocks lent interest to the local bank stock market yesterday. The new high in Merchandise stock was 230 bid, 240 asked, a net gain of 5 points for the day. First National lost 7 points in the bid price at 282, while sellers lopped 6 points from the asked price of 287. Continental Illinois dropped 4 points to 156 bid, 158 asked.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 16.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Aluminum Company of America reëlected the board of directors today, who in turn reëlected officers.

CURTISS IS LOW BIDDER ON ARMY PLANE ORDER; PRICE SPREAD WIDE

Dayton, O., April 16.—(AP)—The Curtiss Airplane and Motor corporation of Buffalo was low bidder on single place pursuit monoplanes to be purchased by the army air corps.

Air corps officers in charge of comparing bids said evaluation of construction and performance of all models will be carried on by a board of officers before recommendation of purchase is forwarded to the chief of the air corps at Washington.

Curtiss offered its plane for $29,412 if 25 are purchased, and for lesser amounts in larger number up to 200 on which the price would be $14,150 each.

Chance Vought corporation, Hartford, Conn., submitted a bid of $34,148 each on an order of 25 and $16,051 each on 200. Seversky Aircraft corporation of Farmingdale, N. Y., bid $34,900 on 25 and $15,800 on 200. Consolidated Aircraft corporation of San Diego, Cal., bid $44,000 on 25 and $24,260 on 200.

Gets Order for 26 Engines.

Hartford, Conn., April 16.—(AP)—The Pratt & Whitney Aircraft division of the United Aircraft corporation announced today it had received an order for 26 twin Wasp engines from United Air Lines.

The engines, rated at 1,000 horsepower and said by their builder to be capable of delivering 1,150 horsepower, will be used on new twenty-four passenger transports being built for United Air Lines. Teh planes will have a cruising speed of more than 200 miles an hour.

LONDON SILVER PRICE RISES ON HEAVIER BUYING

The price of bar silver in London rose again yesterday to 20 7-16 pence, the highest price since early in January. The gain was 3-16 pence on the day and ⅜ pence in two days. The dollar equivalent was 45.50 cents, indicating a spread of ¾ cent from the New York price of 44¾ cents. The latter price has remained unchanged for some time. Until the last two days the London price has been close to the New York quotation.

The upturn in the last few days is reputed to have been caused by buying for the account of India. This buying is based on the contention that the parleys now in progress between Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. and representatives of the Chinese government will result in the announcement of a policy favorable to the white metal.

Silver Parley Continues.

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—Monetary conferences with representatives of the Chinese government, chiefly involving silver questions, probably will continue for more than a week, Secretary Morgenthau announced today.

It was indicated that the parleys will be long and complicated because of the intricate nature of the problems involved. Asked if these matters involved both monetary and commercial considerations, the secretary said: "Distinctly monetary."

BANK CLEARINGS DIP FIRST TIME SINCE JANUARY

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—Declining the first time since Jan. 15, bank clearings for the week ended on Wednesday in twenty-two leading cities totaled $5,072,985,000, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today. This compares with $5,321,213,000 for the same week in 1935, or a decrease of 4.7 per cent. In the preceding week a gain of 11.1 per cent was reported.

New York City clearings were $3,210,778,000, a drop of 9.2 per cent from the corresponding time in 1935. The aggregate for centers outside of New York, $1,862,207,000, was 4.3 per cent higher. The loss in total was $709,417,000 from the preceding week.

Court Puts Mitten Back as Philadelphia Transit Head

Philadelphia, Pa., April 16.—[Special.]—Dr. Arthur A. Mitten, ousted from the chairmanship of the board of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company at the annual meeting of stockholders on March 18, was restored to the position late yesterday by Federal Judge George A. Welsh. The court held that the election of directors was illegal. The stockholders had elected William L. James, a street car motorman, to the board in place of Dr. Mitten, who has received $25,000 a year as chairman.

Furniture Mart to Open Toy Merchandising Section

Total Reaches 5⅓ Billion; Gold Stock Larger.

The swollen reserve accounts of the country's banks were expanded further last week, according to the report of the federal reserve system released yesterday. Such funds on deposit with the 12 central banks of the reserve system rose 172 million dollars over the preceding week's total.

The increase was accompanied by and attributable in some measure to an upturn in the national monetary gold stocks. Gold holdings were boosted 10 million dollars through importations and receipts of newly mined metal. Small imports were received during the week from Great Britain, Russia, India, and Canada.

Reserves Total 5 1-3 Billions.

The total reserve funds of the system's member banks aggregated 5,333 million dollars. Of this total the board estimated approximately 2,550 million to be excess of legal requirements which surplus is known as "excess reserves." Of the increase last week of 172 millions, only 42 millions represented necessary legal reserves. The balance of 130 millions merely added more padding to the surplus reserve funds.

The idle reserve funds have been increasing irregularly since early in 1933 when the government embarked on its spending program under the present administration. The increase in reserves has closely paralleled the rise in the national debt. Economists regard these idle reserves as a sore spot in the country's credit structure.

Treasury Draws on Balances.

It was significant that during the last week the federal treasury drew heavily on its balances with the central banks of the reserve system. The expenditure of these funds by the government indirectly helped to boost the deposits and reserves of member banks. Treasury balances with the central banks fell 128 millions from the preceding week's figure.

An increase of 42 millions in total bank credit outstanding in New York was shown in the condition statement of the banks in that city. The rise was accounted for principally by a gain of 36 millions in brokers' loans which now total 980 million dollars.

Chicago banks reported a shrinkage of 18 millions in their loans and investments. Demand deposits of Chicago banks rose 49 millions. The deposit expansion reflected continued repatriation of funds which fled the state to escape the April 1 tax assessment.

RAIN IN TEXAS ENDS RALLY OF COTTON FUTURE PRICES

A sharp advance in cotton futures in Liverpool yesterday led to scattered buying in domestic markets at the opening, but the upturn was followed by a recession of around 10 points from the best figures when the weather map showed good rains at a few points in Texas where moisture was needed. Closing trades showed some recovery from the inside figures, with Chicago unchanged to 3 points lower and other markets were 1 point higher to 4 points lower. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent.]

Spot cotton closed 10 points lower to 5 points higher, with New Orleans and Galveston, 11.55 cents; Houston, 11.60 cents, and New York, 11.75 cents per pound. Prices follow:

NATIONAL LEAD VOTES 10 FOR 1 STOCK SPLITUP

Plan for Dividend Is Not Disclosed; Sales Rise.

New York April 16.—[Special.]—Stockholders of the National Lead company at their annual meeting today approved the plan to split up the common stock on a 10 for 1 basis.

The present 500,000 shares will be increased to 5,000,000 shares and will have a par value of $10 a share against the current parity of $100. To retain the existing relation of voting power between the new common and the preferred stock each share of the latter will carry the right to ten votes in any balloting.

Reports Business Gaining.

E. J. Cornish, chairman, reported that the company's business so far this year is showing a little improvement over last year.

Referring to the rise in the price of the stock after announcement of the split-up plan, he said: "If there is any impression that it is because we are going to increase our dividend that cannot be answered today. It has long been our policy to try to do good business and pay dividends to our stockholders that will keep them happy.

View on Dividend Policy.

"We have always believed that the permanency of the dividend is more important than the amount if it is going to vary from year to year. The stock whose dividend is perpetually increasing and decreasing with the earnings really creates a class of stockholders that is not desirable."

Cornish explained that he was converted to a split up of the common because of the effect of the high price of the stock on the sales of the company. This price, he said, led to the belief in some quarters that the company could reduce its prices and still earn a profit.

FREE ENTERPRISE URGED TO CURE ECONOMIC ILLS

The answer to America's economic dilemma lies neither in government participation in business nor in pyramided corporations, but in the furtherance of free enterprise, Frank A. Fetter, professor emeritus of Princeton university and past president of the American Economic association, said last night in an address at Harris hall of Northwestern university, Evanston.

Explaining his determined stand against monopoly of any sort at the close of a scholarly lecture on "Can Capitalism Survive?" Fetter said:

"Neither the TVA nor other government operated projects are the solution, as they stifle individual enterprise. We place too much stress upon the form of society and too little upon human character. No scheme of government or organization can bring happiness to the world without the right sort of individuals.

"Many patriotic citizens are tempted to accept a large measure of socialism, involving growing governmental control of business centralized in a burocracy, as the escape from private monopoly, abandoning all hope of a return to conditions of free private property and competitive individualism."

Libby, McNeill & Libby Buys 5,000 Ton Freighter

E. G. McDougall, president of Libby, McNeill and Libby, last night confirmed reports from New York that the company had bought the 5,000 ton freighter, Santa Olivia, from the Grace Line. The price of the ship, which will be used for Pacific coast shipping, was not disclosed.

New York, April 16.—[Special.]—Nineteen issues of government bonds reached new highs for the year today, but profit taking materially reduced gains in later trading. The activity in governments provided some color to an otherwise quiet market, most corporate issues heading lower.

Today's upturn in governments, following yesterday's sharp advances, was attributed to a limited supply. The rise occurred in early trading, but when a level was reached at which traders saw a good profit, they unloaded. The close was irregular, being 3-32ds higher to 4-32ds lower.

Selling by Traders.

There was little institutional selling even at the highest level of the day, according to investment quarters. Most of the selling was credited to traders. They interpreted this to the contentment of banks and other financial concerns to hold their governments in the absence of equally desirable investments.

There were a few exceptions in the corporate bond trend, notably in those securities with stock warrants or those of companies undergoing reorganization.

Some Corporate Changes.

In the corporate division, gains of 1 to 2 points were made by Cuba Public Works 5½s at 53⅛, Gould Coupler 6s at 73¼ and Pure Oil 4½s at 124. Declines of like amount were registered in American Rolling Mills 4¼s, Nickel Plate 4½s, Republic Steel 4½s, Southern Railway 4s, and Studebaker 6s.

There was little activity in foreign issues, with a fractional improvement in Rio de Janeiro 6s, while Australia 5s and Uruguay 6s showed small losses.

Los Angeles Gas and Electric.

Investors' Guide: Please send me your latest report on Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation.—F. R.

Answer: Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation is an operating subsidiary of Pacific Lighting corporation. It supplies about 75 per cent of the gas used in Los Angeles and suburbs, serving a population of about 1,813,000. It also supplies about one-third of electricity consumed in Los Angeles. Electrical business is in competition with the Los Angeles municipal plant.

Earnings during the last ten years have held steady and fixed charges and preferred dividend requirements have been covered by substantial margins. Gross revenues in 1935 increased to $24,509,000 from the $22,472,000 reported in 1934 and net income was $4,059,000, or $20.80 per preferred share, against $3,420,000, or $17.52 per preferred share, in 1934. Earnings per preferred share in 1933 were $20.56, against $17.36 in 1932 and $19.43 in 1931.

Fixed charges in 1935 were earned 2.45 times, against 2.29 times in 1934, 2.53 times in 1933 and 2.29 times in 1932.

The California railroad commission ordered the company on Dec. 21, 1935, to reduce gas rates by an amount equal to about $1,250,000 a year. On Jan. 15, 1936, the company filed new electric rate schedules, amounting to a reduction of about $820,000 a year.

Capitalization consists of $40,000,000 first 4s, due 1970 [issued in November, 1935], 195,183 shares of 6 per cent $100 par noncallable preferred, and 200,000 shares of $100 par common. The common is all owned by the parent company.

The 4s, due 1970, are sound. The preferred is high grade.

Illinois Merchants Trust Company.

Investors' Guide: I wish to know by what name Illinois Merchants Trust company, formerly Illinois Trust and Savings bank, is now known. Will you please give me the information?—S. E. M.

Answer: The name of Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company was adopted on March 18, 1929, when Illinois Merchants Trust company merged with Continental National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago.

The name was again changed to the present title, Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, on Oct. 15, 1932.

COOK COUNTY'S 47 MILLION BOND PLAN EFFECTIVE

New $11,510,910 Issue to Be Offered Soon.

Cook county's $47,291,910 bond refunding plan yesterday was declared effective by the county board and the refunding agents, Stifel, Nicolaus & Co. and A. C. Allyn & Co. The board will advertise for bids on $11,510,910 of bonds, the proceeds to be used to retire a like amount in default. Bids will be opened April 22.

The refunding agents informed the county board that more than $41,000,000 of bonds, or in excess of 86 per cent, have been deposited and they set the close of business on May 1 as the time limit for the deposit of bonds not yet turned in to the depositary, the American National Bank and Trust company.

Exchange Plan Authorized.

The board also authorized the refunding agents to proceed with the exchange of the outstanding $35,781,000 of unmatured bonds for new 20 year callable bonds bearing the same rates of interest as the old bonds. It was expected that the bonds which have not yet matured would go into default because of light tax payments.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the board, said that the refunding plan has worked out better than expected and that the county will be placed in a sound financial position.

Bear 4 Per Cent Interest.

The new bonds for which bids have been asked will bear 4 per cent interest. They will be due in 1951, but will be callable in 1946. Smith said he believes the bonds will bring a large premium.

Stifel, Nicolaus & Co. and A. C. Allyn & Co. were awarded the contract for carrying out the refunding program on Jan. 15. Their fees are estimated at $152,000.

CHICAGO STOCKS WEAKEN AFTER EARLY ADVANCE

Trading was more active on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday at 71,000 shares. Gains were recorded early in the day, but profit taking followed, and closing prices were generally unchanged to lower.

Three of the six stocks which established new 1936 highs managed to maintain their new levels. These were Abbott Laboratories at 120½, De Met's preferred at 25, and Lincoln Printing preferred at 43, all up a point. Other issues setting new highs were Bendix Aviation, which lost a fraction on the day, and Lincoln Printing common and Raytheon, which closed unchanged.

Cities Service was most active, accounting for 14,550 shares, and was up ¼ point at 5⅛. There were 122 issues traded, of which 51 declined, 37 remained steady, and 34 advanced.

WHEAT RECEDES ON PROSPECT OF DROUTH RELIEF

New Crop Deliveries Are Off About a Cent.

Prospects of the parched wheat fields in the southwest receiving much needed moisture were responsible for a lower level of prices yesterday. The July and September deliveries receded about one cent per bushel here and at Kansas City, with only a small rally from the lowest figures. The July future on the Chicago Board of Trade, which touched 90¾ cents on Wednesday on dry weather talk, declined to a low of 89 cents and closed at 89¼ cents.

No rain was reported in Kansas City up to the time the market closed yesterday, although several points in Oklahoma and Texas received moisture Wednesday night.

Buying Flurry in May Wheat.

A flurry of buying of May wheat, which pit brokers attributed to removal of hedges against sales of cash wheat to the government for relief purposes and to mills which were said to have done a most satisfactory flour business, carried the old crop delivery up to 99 cents at the top, or ⅜ cent above Wednesday's finish. It eased later on a resumption of scattered liquidation and closed ¼ cent lower for the day at 97⅞ cents, or at a premium of 8⅝ cents over the July option, compared with only 6½ cents at the extreme on Wednesday.

According to pit estimates, brokers who frequently act for cash interests bought over 1,000,000 bushels of May wheat during the day. It was understood sales of cash wheat for relief purposes had been made largely in Ohio and Indiana and on the North Pacific coast.

Federal Wheat Buying Confirmed.

This was in line with the recent announcement by the department of agriculture purchases of around 1,000,000 bushels of soft red winter wheat would be made in the central west and 2,500,000 bushels on the Pacific coast to be ground into flour for distribution east of the Rocky mountains.

Millers were reported buying May wheat at Minneapolis, which closed ⅞ cent higher, while Kansas City was ¼ cent higher. Winnipeg was easy from the start and lost ¾ cent.

Closing prices on the July delivery of leading grains, with comparisons, follow:

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Week ago.
Wheat	$ .89¼	$ .90½	$ .85⅝
Corn	.60½	.61	.59¼
Oats	.27	.27¼	.26¼
Rye	.53½	.54¼	.52⅝

There was a lack of pressure on May corn yesterday and it closed unchanged, while the distant futures were easier in sympathy with wheat.

GRAIN EXCHANGE TO GET HEARING ON CONTROL BILL

Washington, D. C., April 16.—(AP)—The senate agricultural committee voted today, at the request of the Chicago Board of Trade, to hold hearings next week on the commodity exchange bill, which would expand present control of the agricultural department over the commodity exchanges.

The Chicago board will be allowed to protest the bill on Tuesday and suggest amendments it desires. Supporters of the bill, including farm coöperative groups, will appear Wednesday. The committee action was taken as the outgrowth of a meeting of Democratic and Republican senators a week ago which urged hearings on the bill without removing it from the senate calendar.

HOGS CONTINUE SLOW ADVANCE; PORK SLUGGISH

The hog market yesterday continued its creeping advance, both the extreme top and the average indicating 5 cents gain for the day and 10 cents gain since Tuesday at $11 and $10.65, respectively. Top sales equaled the highest marks in the trade since Feb. 18.

Despite the mild upturn of the last two days on extremely light receipts, a weak undercurrent persists and is attributed to the sluggish condition of the wholesale trade for fresh pork.

With live costs of cattle rapidly declining and hog prices going up, the competition of relatively cheap beef has become one of the chief obstacles to higher hog prices.

Owing to severe slashing of cattle prices this week farmers curtailed their shipments to market yesterday, only 4,500 head arriving. However, buying orders were small and the trade continued weak at the recent sharp declines, a big share of the fed steers selling 50 to 75 cents under a week ago, with practically all of the decline in the stock over $8.

Top steers halted at $10.10 and the bulk brought $7.75 to $9.10. Beef cows and fed heifers weakened 15 to 25 cents.

VIEW BUSINESS GAINING DESPITE FEDERAL POLICY

Insurance Men Criticize Meddling and Taxes.

Business will continue to forge ahead despite government meddling, the brain trust, and increasing taxation, insurance men predicted yesterday in a meeting at the Hotel Sherman. The insurance field today offers the best investment in its history, they said, because of high taxes and low interest rates. The event was the annual sales congress, sponsored by the Chicago Association of Life Underwriters.

"Thank God, we're living under a constitutional government," said Edwin A. Olson, president of the Mutual Trust Life Insurance company of Chicago, and former United States district attorney here.

Raps "Brain Trust" Theory.

"Don't let any college professor or brain truster tell you that the world owes you a living, because it doesn't owe you anything. Regardless of political considerations, industry and self-denial are necessary for happiness and success. No one can convince me that the American people will willingly cast aside the fundamental principles that made this country the greatest in the world."

Out of every five estates existing in 1929, one has been completely wiped out and the other four have been halved, asserted Clyde H. Voorhees, counsel of the Connecticut General Life Insurance company, Hartford, Conn.

Taxes "Just Starting to Climb."

John Morrell, leading agent for the Equitable Life Insurance company of New York said tax exempt securities will be more important in the future due to the trend in federal taxation, which is only beginning to climb.

No social security program will ever take the place of personal provision, said Roger B. Hull, managing director and general counsel of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

LARD FUTURES SHOW NET LOSSES OF 5 TO 7½ CENTS

Lard futures showed an easy undertone as the result of a department of agriculture forecast for heavier receipts of hogs during the next three months. Aggregate trade was only fair and the close was at net losses of 5 to 7½ cents. The decline in grains also had some effect on sentiment. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally unchanged. Cash lard was quoted at the close at $11.02, loose $10.37, leaf $10.50, and clear bellies at $15 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds:

PRODUCE MARKETS

Spot butter prices in Chicago dropped 4¼@4½c per lb yesterday, with the market reported as in a demoralized condition. Increased offerings, a slow demand and reports of foreign butter being offered at the seaboard was responsible for the break. Receipts were 12,084 tubs. Storage packed eggs declined ¼c per lb with other offerings unchanged. Receipts aggregated 27,538 cases. Live hens and broilers were unchanged to 1c higher; springs, ½@1c higher; leghorn hens, unchanged to ½c higher while turkeys were 2@3c per lb lower. Receipts were 2 cars and 24 trucks. Potatoes were in better demand and the market was firmer. Arrivals were 85 cars and 295 cars were on team track.

APPLICATIONS

for financing and building new homes can now be made in Harlem Heights, the new, high type, strictly American community of low cost homes [$3,500 to $5,000] in the beautiful rolling, wooded Palos Park region. Drive out, bring your wife, see the homes under construction on large parcels of rich, black soil planted by expert gardeners for families moving into this ideal community. You, too, may want to apply. If acceptable, your home can be built under a special financing arrangement of 20% cash and 80% long term payments, offered by Private Capital to the first 25 American families who qualify here. Inquire at Community Office, HARLEM-AV. AND 123D-ST. Expert gardeners and building engineers will show you complete home building plans and garden layouts, explain details of financing your home, and the scientific plan of property maintenance to enhance values. See Harlem Heights today, close enough to reach after business hours by daylight. Drive south on Harlem-av. to 123d-st. ROBT. BARTLETT REALTY CO. Not Inc.
